A New Alliance

2nd edition

!Disclaimer!

This wimpy kid book is not like any other where I try to survive middle school. But I rather try to survive a secret group that almost led to the end of the world. This book is filled with violent scenes and gruesome deaths and is not for readers up to 13+.

Based on some of the moments I had in a Resort in Paracas, Peru.

Note

From the Author

Hi fellow readers, it's me! u/impressive_reality57. Before we dive into the PIVOTAL part of The End of the Wimp series, I wanted to explain a few things from the other books.

First off, in book 1. There were some parts where I just broke the laws of grammar and I truly say. I am terribly sorry and I made sure to fix it. New version with corrected grammar has been reposted. Not all for I also want to show how Greg gets disoriented from the chaos surrounding him and his crewmates.

There was also a moment where I wrote that Greg was in "Isla de Corales" and not the actual resort, that being "Isla Paradiso".

Another point I wanted to say was that this series was a HIT or MISS LLB. This is due to the existence of crossovers. Comparing this LLB to a video game, I say that this is like Goldeneye N64. This game is a movie tie in and in the video game world, movie tie ins have the same ring as a crossover fanfiction. Most of the time these types of games are rushed, poorly made, and far from the original source. Similar to crossover fanfictions. Most of them are rushed, sloppy, stupid and shipping galore... but as you see, this one isn't.

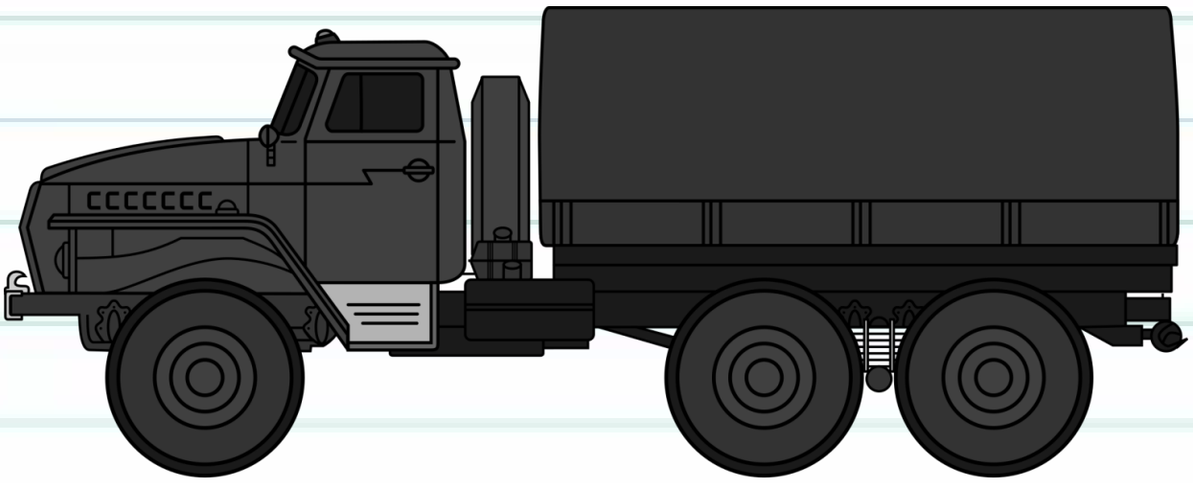
So, to my fellow haters... this book is different and I hope all will enjoy.

HAPPY READING

Chapter 1

The Camp



It was all black, I couldn't see a thing... I was knocked out and in a deep slumber. For a moment I thought that all of this adventure was just some fever dream... maybe the existence of the crossovers is just a figment of my imagination. The Spear of Power is also an non-existent item... this could all be just a dream, a dream provoked by some sick prank where Rodrick gave me DRUGS mixed with sleeping pills.

All of that raced through my head. Then, I began to wake up... I thought I'd wake up in my bed, accompanied from the laughs of my brother. But... that wasn't the case.

I woke up in a sitting position inside a MILITARY TRUCK alongside some of my crewmates though they were all covered with sacks. Then it all hit me again, I remembered the helicopter attack, the duel with Death the Wolf, and the hit I got by the crowbar.

We were all tied up and some were still asleep. I took a little peak from the outing of the truck and I knew that we were FAR from resort borders. The truck drove through the thick jungle until it all stopped.

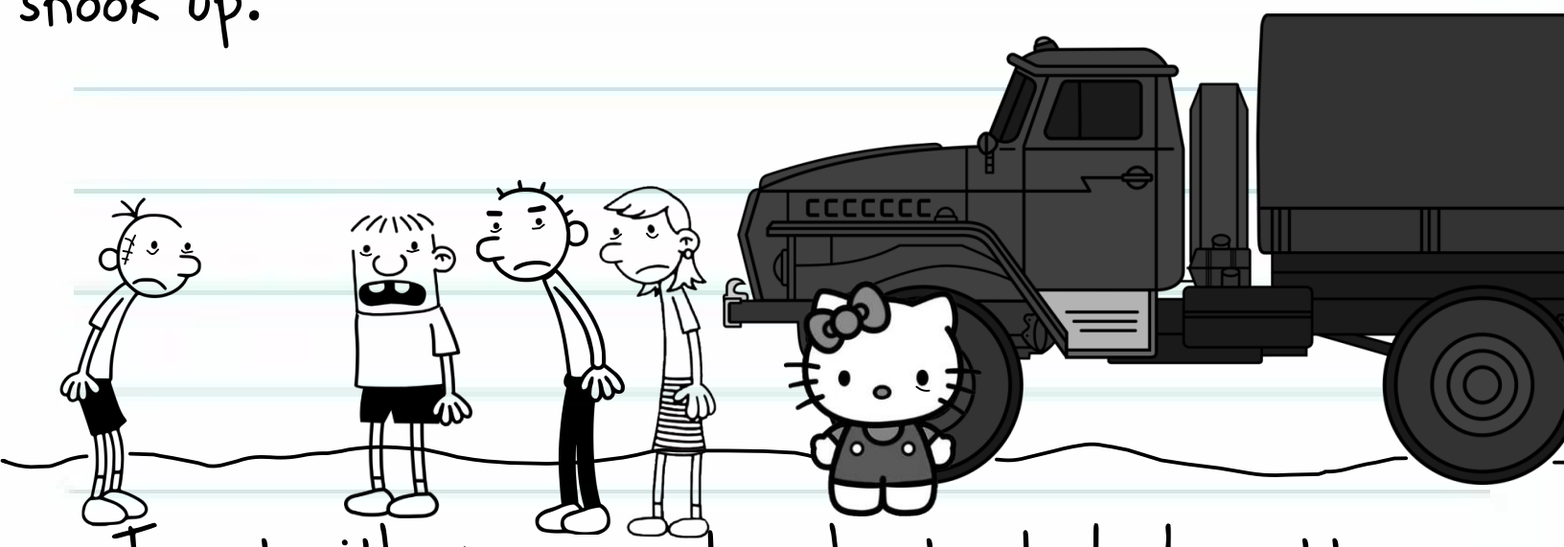
I heard shouting out side and then some of The Kid's soldiers began pulling out of the trucks one by one. I was the last to get out of the truck.

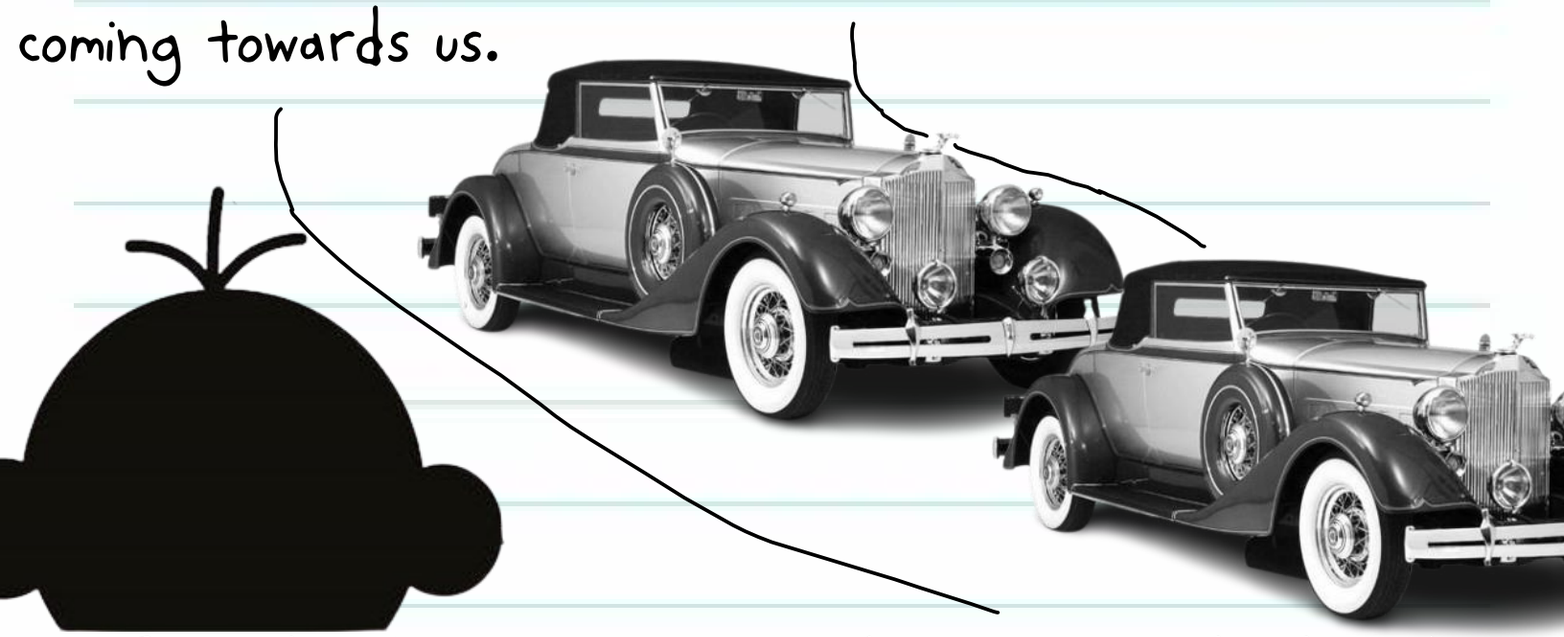
Blinded by the sun, I stood up from the muddy floor and looked around my surroundings. There were many military campsites with LOTS of those soldiers, both normal and SSI!

Behind me were three of those trucks that I was in and more of those soldiers. I re-met with all of my crewmates and my best friend Rowley who looked all shook up.



I met with everyone else who too looked pretty confused, scared, and pretty drowsy for some of them were under sleeping gas. Pikachu came up to me and crawled up my back and asked me in his Pika language what is happening to us.

I too was confused until I saw two FANCY cars coming towards us.



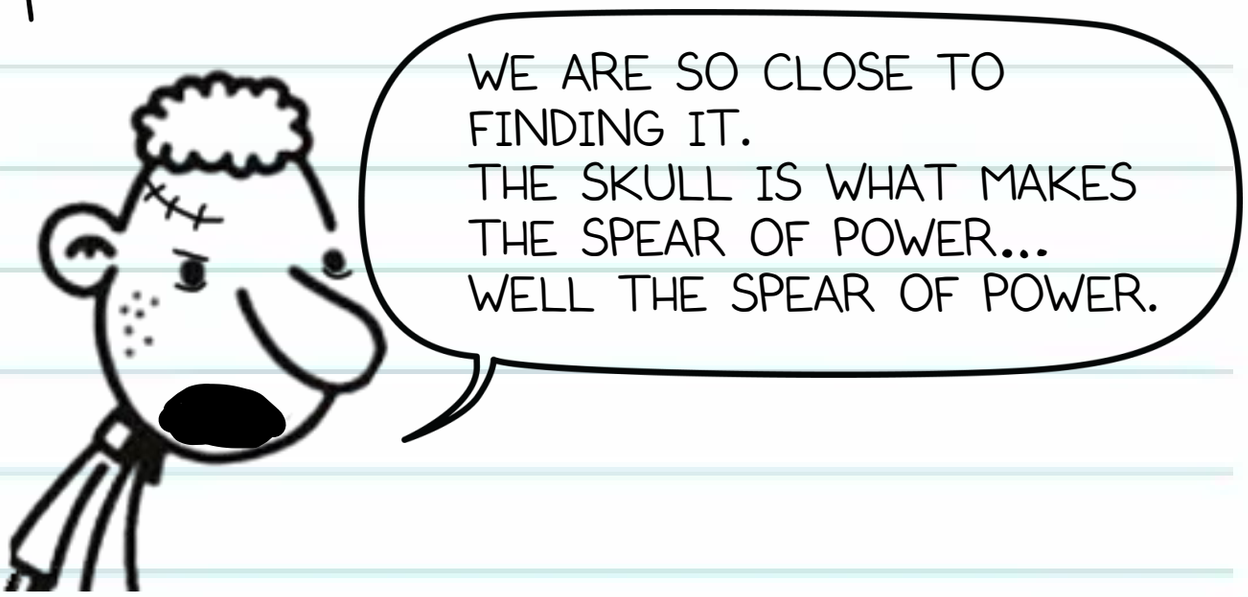
From the first car came out Kuromi, Death the Wolf and Flippy alongside two SSI soldiers. In the other car came out The Kid and his parents.

I looked at them full of rage... The Kid came up to me and began to speak.

"Hello Greg, once again we meet! But let's save the greetings for we already know each other."

"What do you want!" I said firmly. The Kid continued, "Well... thanks to you, my search for the three parts of The Spear of Power is almost finished. Now, I just need the final part..."

"What is it?" I asked in a sarcastic way. He looked at me with a stern face and said, "The skull... the third part of Spear."



"ARE YOU OUT OF YOUR MIND!!! HELL NO." I yelled at him. The Kid then said, "You'll do it whether you like it or not! And to help you, I've brought a few of your friends from last time."

Then I saw the other Sanrio trio (Pochacco, Badtz Maru, and Choco-cat) from last time including Keroppi as well.

The Kid then continued, "And if you and your friends decide to desert us. We'll find you and you'll be Echo-9."

"Echo-9?" I asked in a more sarcastic but still with some kind of nervousness.

The Kid got what he called Echo-9 out; it was mostly a shotgun but with a sniper scope and an AK-47 bullet holder.

"This is Echo-9" said The Kid, "The best part is that not only the gun reloads automatically not like a regular shotgun, but also that the bullets are normal shotgun ones but mixed with magnesium and tungsten carbide..." And he made an explosion sound effect.

I looked at him and he thought that I didn't understand so he just SHOT one of the trucks I was in and it burst into FLAMES!

I was SPEECHLESS, but before I could say anything... someone came out of the first car from before. It was a tall green Siamese cat... all sleek and full of evilness.

She introduced herself as Catnip and then said, "I think some of you remember me from Furry Tale Theater."

Hello Kitty and My Melody looked at her pretty angrily. Honestly I didn't know what kind of tension was here for I didn't watch the show for 1. It was a girls show and I began liking Sanrio just recently and 2. It's from the 80's and it's not very known like Spielberg's movies.

Anyways, Catnip then came forward to me and touched my chin and then closed her eyes... The Kid then explained that she was also a PHYSIC or something. I scoffed and she stopped, she then said, "This kid here knows the way..."

I scoffed again and said, "I don't know where it is!" But then, everything stopped... I was thrown in some kind of ecstasy... everything was all dark... and then I saw where the FINAL part was located... it was inside some cave close to us! I was about to see the inside but then I woke up.

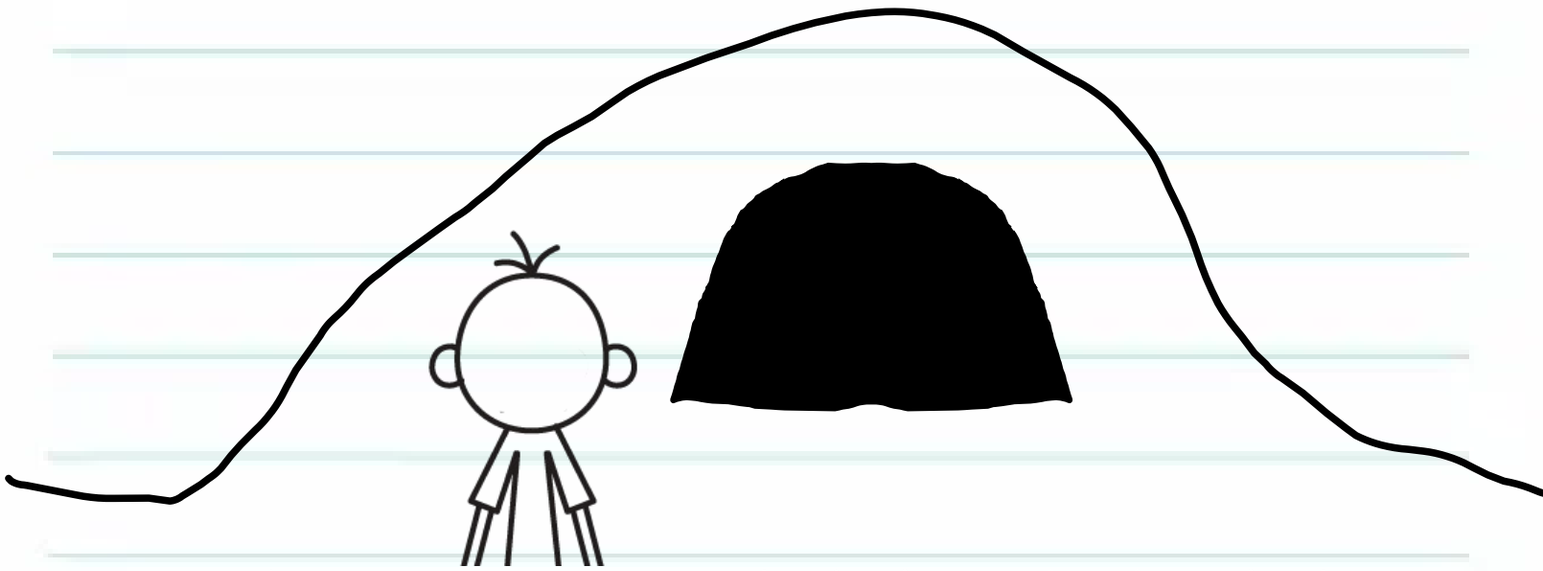
Catnip saw me and said, "It's in a cave! Locate any caves in a close radius." Lucky for them, one of the SSI soldiers found out that there was only ONE cave, meaning they found the place where I talked about.

The Kid then brought my crew and told me to go find it as I got The Spear back for the last time I had it, I found the second part.

So.... Now we have to find the final part with the threat of being burned alive by a weird shotgun.

Chapter 2

The Final Location



Me and my crewmates walked through the thick jungle. We were heavily sweating as the soldiers walked beside us making sure that we didn't escape or something.

I was thinking on possible escape routes but none came to my head. Holly was also beside me, she was all nervous for she never went on an adventure like this. Honestly, I'm beginning to feel like this is some kind of fever dream.

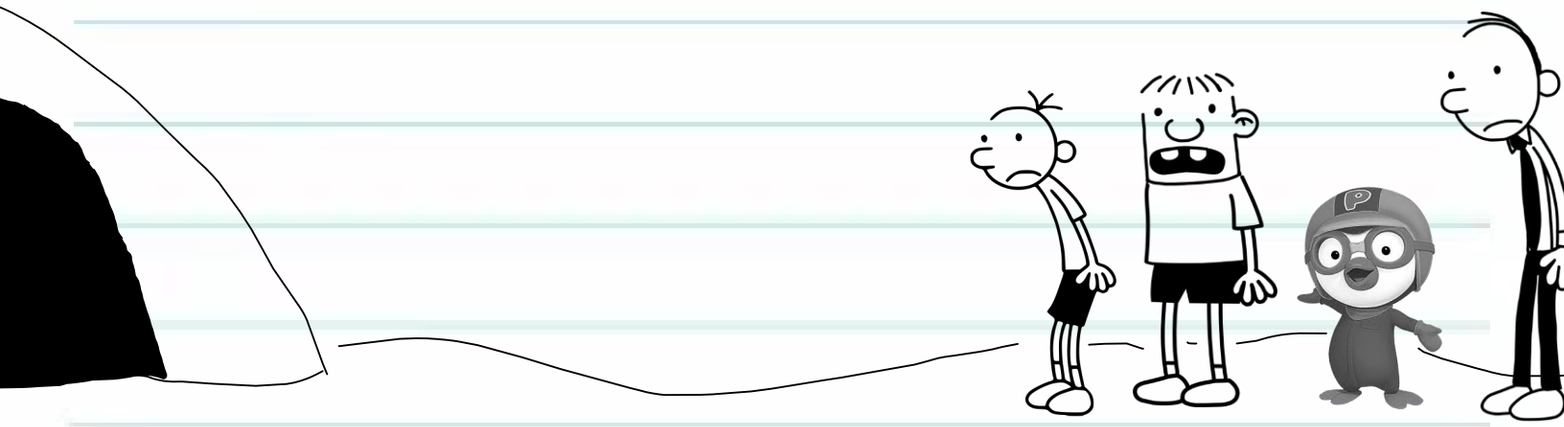
First crossovers, then a kid who I met years ago due to some suitcase swap issue, and now Holly, the girl who first called me Fregely back in middle school and then dumped me in high wanting to be with ME!

Anyways, I thought this walk would take AGES, until the trees begin to sparse around. I could then see the sun and lots of clouds above me.

Then I saw it... it was the cave I saw from that "vision".

The cave was all blended with the surroundings, the only thing that could give it away was the small opening

I looked at my crew and said, "This is it..."



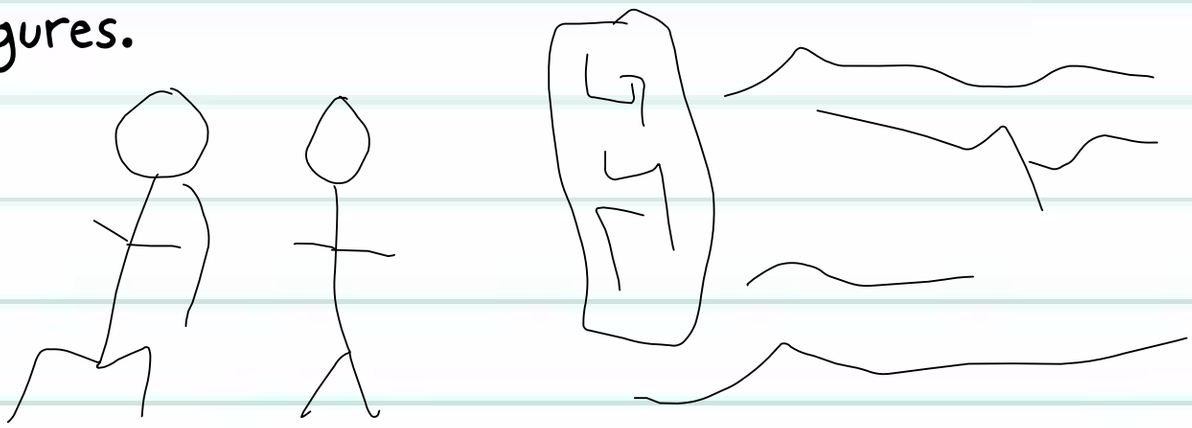
I then looked back at the hole of the cave, I knew if I'd just flee, I'd be shot and even though I had my pistol, The Kid had Echo-9 and everyone I knew and loved would to be slaughtered.

So I entered first... Then the rest entered one by one. The first one to enter after me was Pororo, Rodrick, Dad, and Rowley. Then the two Sanrio trios, then Pikachu, then Luffy, then Holly and Heather...

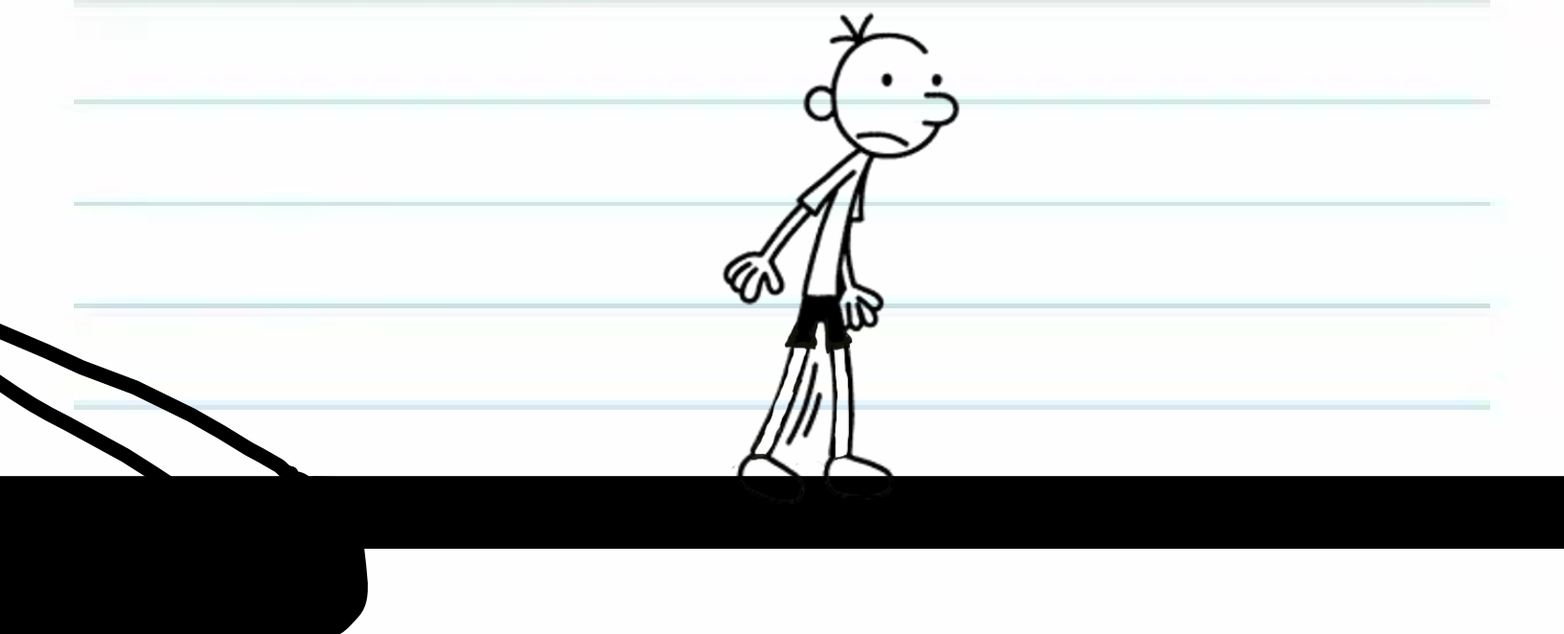
The place was dark but luckily, I've made a torch by the help of Rowley and My Melody. As soon as the flame of the torch reached it's peak, I was STUNNED from what I saw.

It wasn't anything horrendous or gory or shocking like the last times... but it was pretty confusing, there were many writings and paintings... but it wasn't like the ones I saw at the secret temple and in Amenhotep's tomb... they were more... indigenous!

It was mostly scribbles that once made up for a language but was now lost in time alongside a bunch of stick figures.



Also, it wasn't really as easy to pass through these halls for there were many TRAPS like shooting darts from walls and more; but the hardest of them all was the floor... it was very narrow and it was more like a bridge than a floor, under us was lots of spikes... so I hope everyone has their balance.

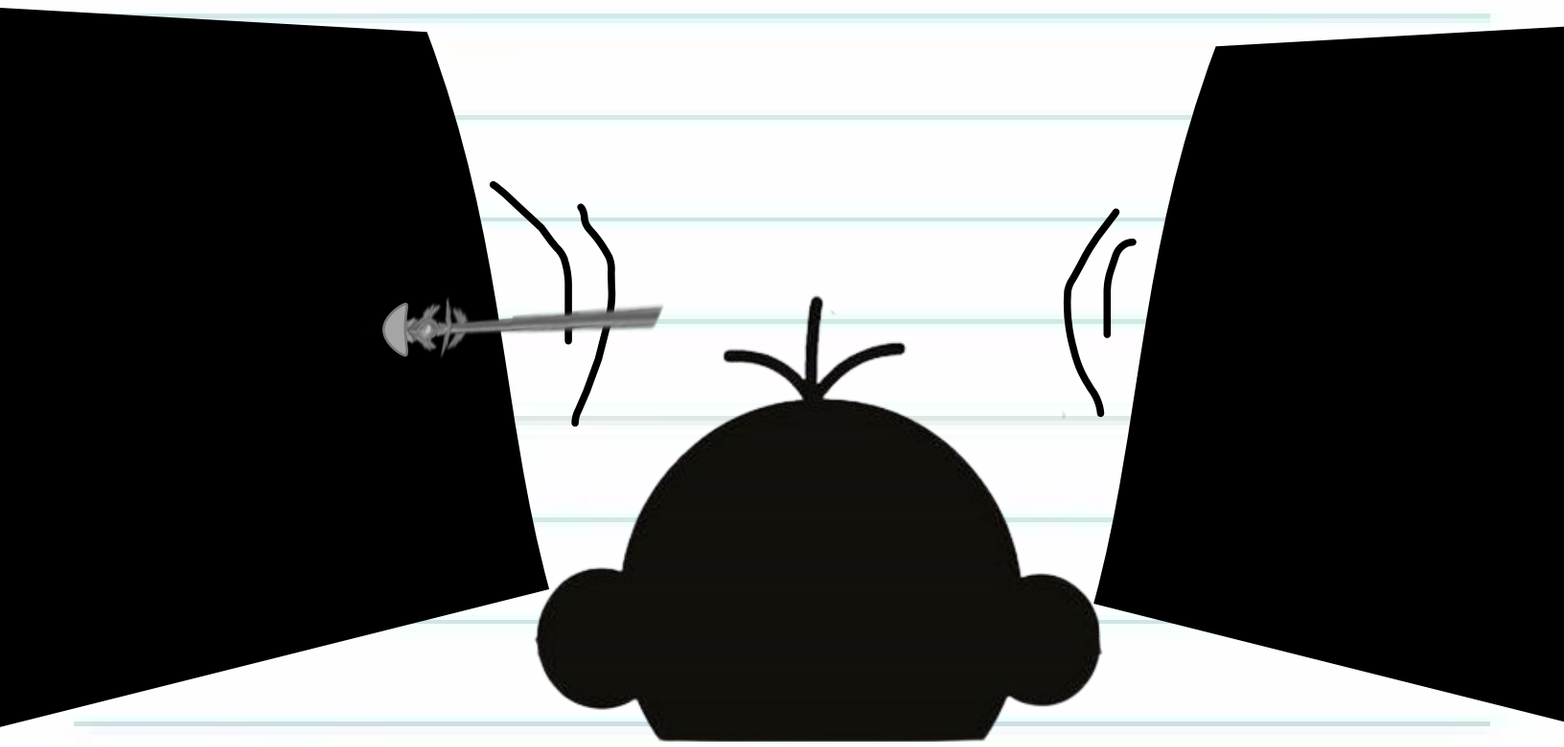


Man! That felt like FOREVER, but luckily we got through it. But now, we were met with a GIANT stone door, all decorated in those stick figures and scribbles but now it was all in GOLD!!!

Heather had the "good" idea that all of us push the door with all of our might... but that didn't work. I thought this would been a dead end, until I saw a small hole in the door. It looked like The Spear of Power could fit into it. Lucky for me The Kid gave it to me before I entered.

So... I did what I had to do, I placed the spear tipped part of The Spear inside the hole and then it began to spin around like a key.

I could hear the sounds of machine wheels moving and locks opening, until the doors finally opened.



I took out The Spear and took a view from the room and BOY we were SHOCKED to find what was behind those doors! It was nothing we ever imagined...

It was like a THRONE ROOM similar to the one in Kingdom of the Crystal Skull, the comparison is also relevant for in this semi circular throne room, there were 12 throne seats made out of PURE gold. And the ones who were seated in them weren't humans but SKELETONS also made out of pure gold; and engraved in their seats were names in HEBREW.

"This doesn't make any sense... this breaks the laws of history. The Hebrew language didn't arrive to the west until the 19th -20th century." I muttered to myself, but even though I was BAFFLED, I was sorta curious what the names said.

Luckily, I had my phone with me, so I could translate. Everyone was asking what this place was for they were confused like I was.

But, even with the translator, I was still confused. The Hebrew words translated to NAMES like Noah, Joshua, and Isaac... All of the 12 seats had the names of 12 important figures of the OLD TESTAMENT!

I got to the final seat and translated it, and what it gave me SHOCKED me!

It... said... Moses...

I couldn't understand anything, most of these Old Testament figures were either buried in the Middle East or missing, but now... they're skeletal remains are here and standing proudly as if they were still... alive.

I walked closer, but then I just... fainted...

The last thing I heard were the "no's" of my crewmates and all the ones who were still in single digit ages (so like the Sanrio trios, Pororo, etc...). Probably the rest came but I didn't see them.

I felt like I was in a COMA again, this time I was waking up... but not to the locations where I was, but... I didn't I felt like some kind of SPECTATOR watching a movie or something. And what I was seeing was CRAZY!

I first saw the tribe of Israel in the desert after crossing the red sea. I saw the warriors who were injured for they were ambushed by nomadic barbarians. Then I saw Moses talking to God and the command to make a Grand Spear for the Ark of the Covenant proved too slow for retaliation Raiders style.

So, on the 15th week, I've saw how they split the Staff of Aaron in two and placed a spear tip that has a glass spectacle inside and on it. But I remember that the third part is the Skull of Moses, but HOW? He died as soon as they got to Israel! But then I saw it, I saw how he prayed to God and then dipped his head into the molten gold and MIRACULOUSLY had his head intact... then I saw how the replica of Moses' skull resurfaced from the golden pot.

Then I saw it, The Spear of Power... all in its FULL GLORY!!!

Then, things went blurry, I felt like time was speeding up like a video timeline for a boring video. Now I saw Israel, 66 AD... the peak of the Jewish Revolt. But this was different, usually these "battles" were more like MASSACRES where one guy kills a Roman and then the whole town is dead... but this one was like an ACTUAL battle, I saw Parthians and Nabataeans alongside the revolting Jews! All fighting against the Romans and Herodians... Then it was like a blip.

I then saw inside the temple, there were 7 people in it... It took me a while to recognize them and when I did, I found out it was those Pharisees (just to know, Pharisees aren't evil, it was just those three guys who wanted Jesus dead, like in The Passion movie, there was this one Pharisee who was screaming to the others not to kill Jesus but was then pushed aside). Anyways, these guys were trying their best to get The Spear out of danger but 4 of them were killed... only three got of the chaos and traveled to the coast where they took a boat and sailed out of the Middle East.

Then, things blipped and I saw myself in Isla Paradiso but there was no buildings, no crossovers... it was all jungle, I saw the last Pharisee (the other two died while hiding the first two pieces of The Spear)... he was running was the indigenous chased him... but then they all stopped, the man stood there in AWE as the chasers began bowing towards him. They thought those skeletons were GODS and that he too was a god.

From there the Pharisee saw a skeleton without it's head, this guy also had the third piece in his hands... but now, it was nowhere to be seen for it FLEW to the headless skeleton like a magnet.

From there, the indigenous built this cave and once again treated it as if they were gods. Then, things sped up and it was 1997. Once again, I saw Isla Paradiso... again, there was no resort. But something weird happened. I saw I bright light, then I saw forms... it was the CROSSOVERS! I didn't fully see them, it was just bright light... Then everything turned into a dreamlike sensation wind was blowing around me. I then heard a loud BOOMING voice, it said "You now know a bit of the story, now I give you a gift for we've seen what your intentions are... you are not looking for the third part for purposes of evil. For this, you'll get the third part."

I felt pretty happy, but then the voice said, "And because of that, you'll also get a wish, not like a genie...

but you'll get a wish for wisdom." I stuttered for a while, and decided to say that someone else should have the wish. The voice said that I was humble and then all black.

I woke up surrounded by crewmates who were trying to wake me up, especially Pororo... they all seemed relieved to see me, but then they saw what I had in my hand.

I was SHOCKED to see that those guys gave me the FINAL part of The Spear! I was pretty happy, but then The Kid, Catnip, and the rest of the party came in. We were under arrest.

Chapter 3

Catnip knows...

"I knew you'll bring me to where I want!" Said The Kid as his soldiers aimed their guns at me. Everyone got ready to fight but we knew that fighting would just mean our doom.

"I see that you got The Skull, now give it to me and you'll all be ok." He continued... I said, "No! You won't get it." Before I could continue, Catnip said, "I want the wish!" I was confused for I didn't say anything about the wish, but she's weird like Irina Spalko weird. She walked up to the thrones and asked to know everything! From what happens in the future to the secrets of the world, she wanted to know everything. I saw the skeletons turn and look down on her.

My Melody and Dear Daniel hugged Kitty as they looked in fear. Same went for Pochacco, Badtz Maru, Choco Cat and Keroppi.

The eye sockets of the skulls began to shine. Pochacco said, "I have a bad feeling about this..." He looked at the scene was Rowley said that he was right.

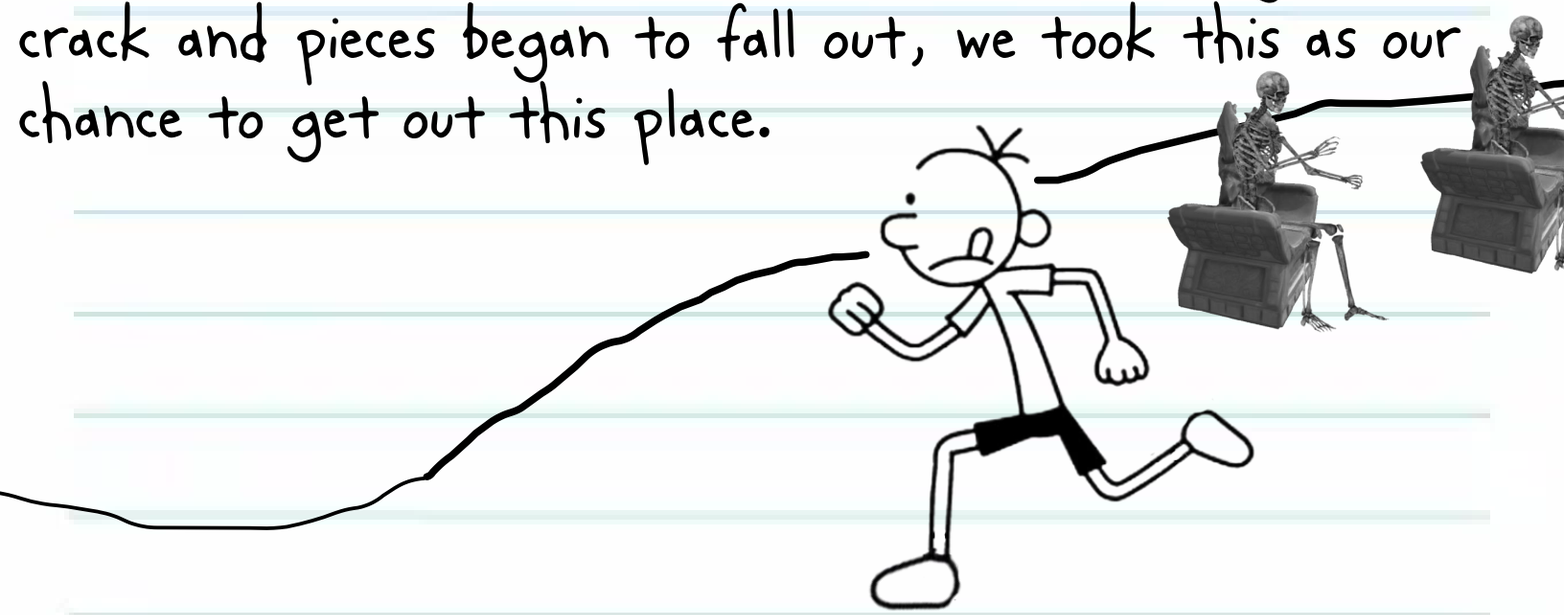
Then, there was a RUMBLE! The floor began to crack and pieces began to fall out, we took this as our chance to get out this place.



We all thought that we were safe... until the walls began to crumble and we could see what happened. Everyone was gone (The Kid and his men, Kuromi, and Flippy left before we left) except for Catnip who stood on the only remaining floor tile, mist flew around her as she repeated, "I can see... I can see..."

Her eyes turned into black voids as she saw the future, then she said, "no more" but the skeletons didn't listen... the information still went to her and she began tearing a black liquid... She said stop, nothing happened. Then I saw the skeletons regaining their veins, then the flesh, and sooner or later... they were ALIVE!

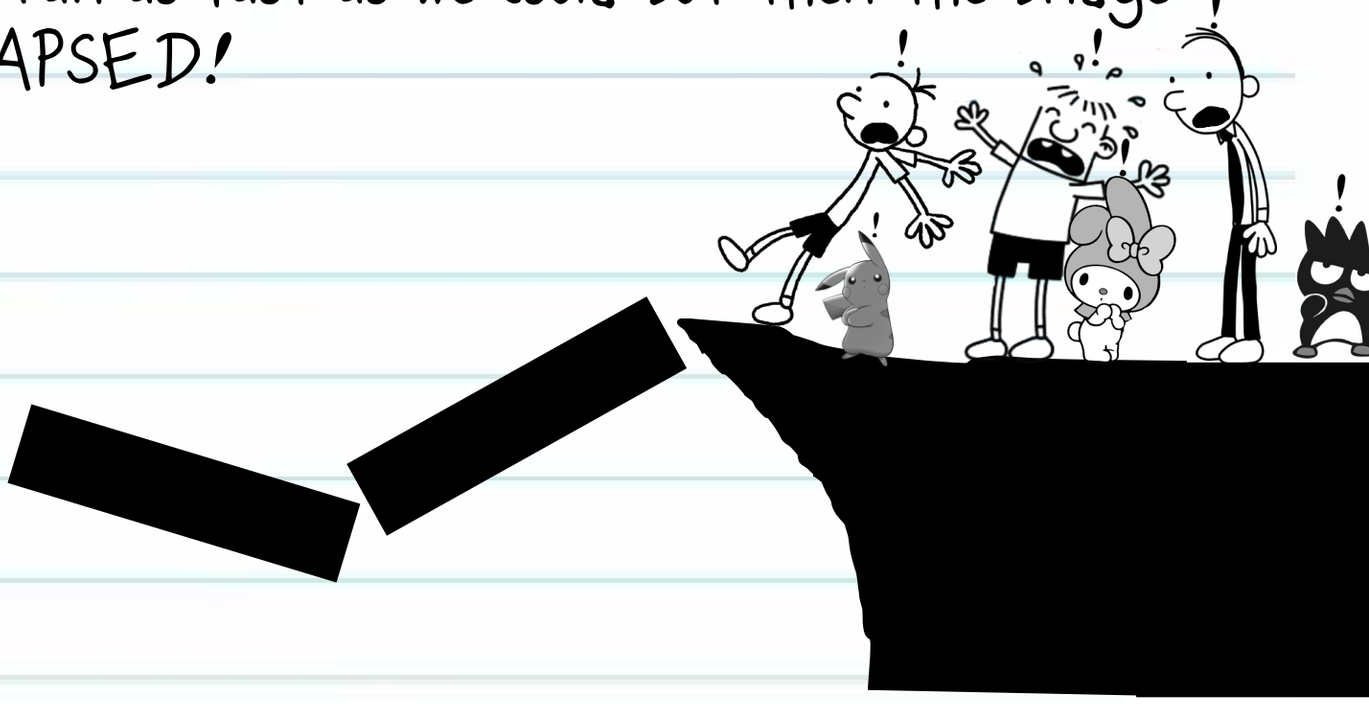
They looked at her sternly as her body then began to BURN, and then she was gone... turned into mist.

I didn't see what happened next for everything was CRUMBLING!

We ran as fast as we could but then the bridge COLLAPSED!



Luffy, Heather, Holly, Rodrick, Pororo, Daniel, and Badtz were on the side closer to the exit, while me, Rowley, Kitty, Pochacco, Melody, Choco, Keroppi, Dad and Pikachu were on the side to death.

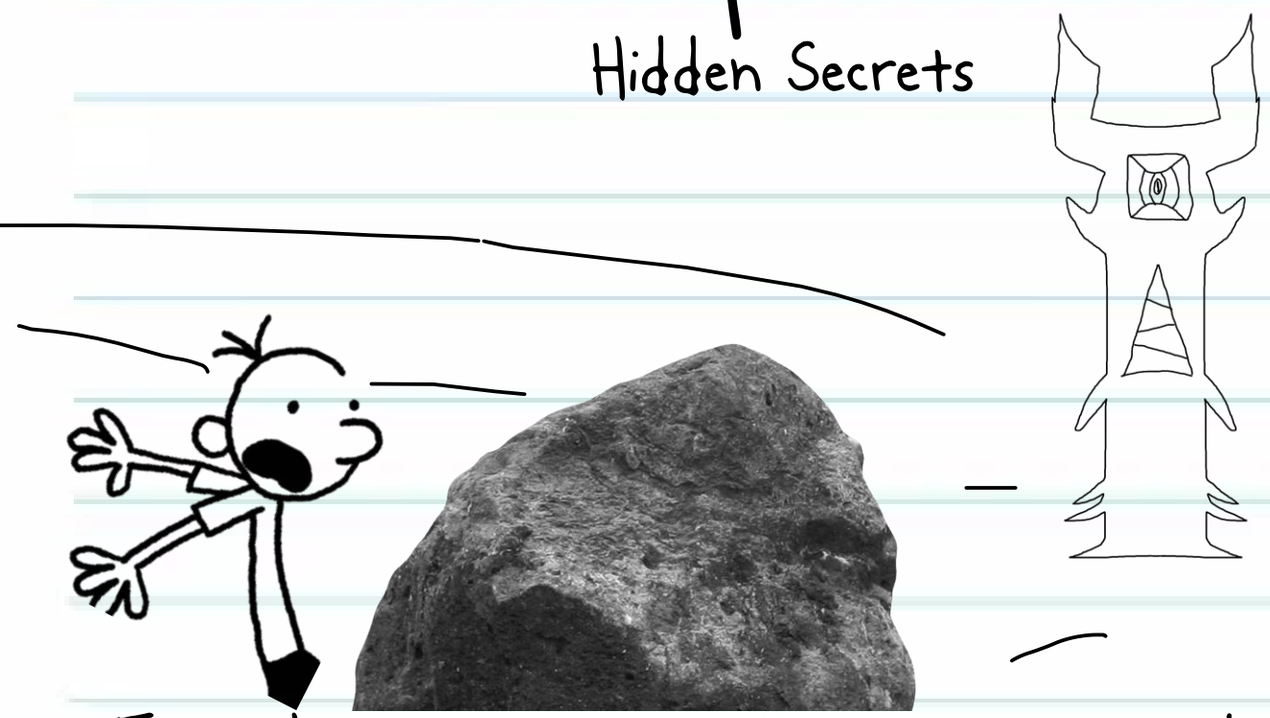
Luckily, Luffy is made of rubber so he stretched himself to form a bridge like formation which gave us the chance to pass.

Once again, we ran and ran... I held that Skull with all my might and then, I saw the exit... it was a bright light.

I saw the SUN again. We were out of danger.

Chapter 4

Hidden Secrets



From that moment, we all just ran in random areas, some went left and other went right. I didn't know where the others were, all I knew was that I had The Spear of Power. The Spear itself and The Skull.

I stood there for a while in the middle of the jungle, the sun was being blocked by clouds and a storm was about to come.

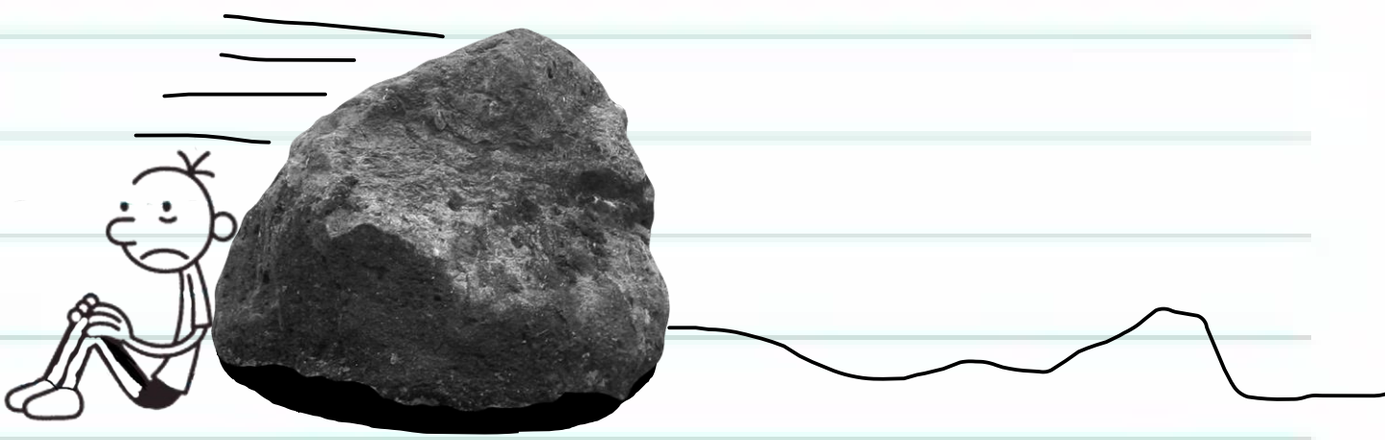
I sat on the bare floor wondering, then... I heard it... I heard a voice, it was cold, raspy, and quite frankly... demonic, it told me to pull it. I tried to fight it, I ran and squirmed and flinched as I tried to not get my gun out.

But it was no use, the gun was in my hand, the gun was then pulled and then the gun was directly at the side of my head!

I was about to pull the trigger, but then... I felt a GASP! The gun fell out of my hand and I went onto my knees.

I looked around my surroundings and all seemed dark

I ran, I ran as if someone was chasing me! Then I hid behind a rock, for a while I felt safe; was I? I then felt as if the rock was MOVING! I looked up and saw that I wasn't in the jungle, everything was dark and dreamy, I felt hot as well.



I felt as if I was in a roller coaster as I saw a tower coming towards me! It was a dark tower almost like Barad-Dur but 100x more fortified and creepier, I first saw the large gated door. Then I saw thrown up, like an elevator going WAY too fast, then I saw it, the throne of the tower... I saw him, it was SATAN!

He said in a booming voice, "give it to me!" It was not The Spear he wanted but the medallion! I tripped and fell and I felt like I was falling off a CLIFF, but then I woke up and found myself laying on the floor. I looked around my surrounds and heard the voice of my Dad. He asked my if I was ok, I just nodded and then Holly came in and asked the same.

She also asked if I saw a GHOST, and when you think of it, I did.

As the rest of the crew came back, I heard running steps, lots of them. We all froze and began looking around... Then we all knew we were in trouble, I told everyone to get ready for a WAVE of enemies were coming towards us!

I got out my Blade as the SSI soldiers got nearer. They had those dreaded Echo-9 guns; the sounds of those guns were like fire crackers and when shot left a trail of red smoke, similar to a flair gun.

Everyone did their best to defend themselves. The Sanrio Gang actually had slingshots and BOY they were good at shooting stones at those SSI, especially Badtz-Maru.

The one who surprised me the most was Dad! I never really thought of him as some kind of warrior, usually I thought his Civil War reenactments were just stupid nerf gun styled fights, but seeing him take one of the Echo-9s out of one normal soldier's hand and shooting it at an SSI and seeing him BURST into flames was pretty cool!

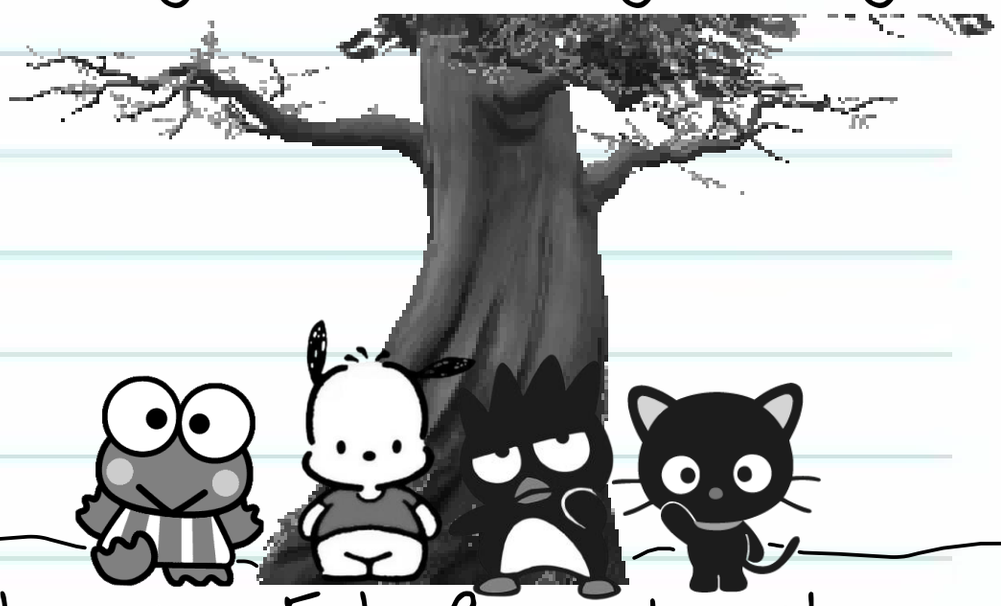
Rodrick and Heather were also doing their best. My brother had that machine gun from before and was once again shooting like a MANIAC while Heather, though frightful was giving out intense punches and even making some soldiers shoot their comrades!

But there were too many and sadly, Pororo was knocked out as one of the soldiers placed a sleeping mask on him and brought him out, for their orders was to not kill the crossovers.

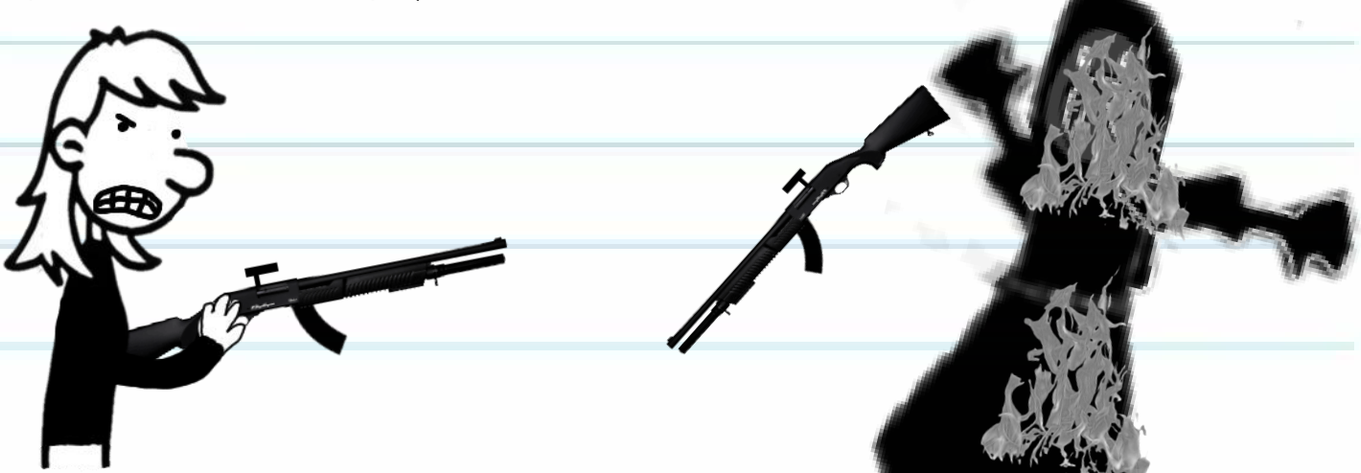
Sadly, Kitty, Daniel, and Melody were taken out. I tried to save them but they too were brought out.

Pikachu also did his best with his shock attacks and managed to escape some sleeping attack attempts from the soldiers.

Heather got anxious and ran away from Rodrick who was now aiming the men as if his gun was a SNIPER! Heather ran and hid behind some trees, and there she saw the other Sanrio Gang who weren't caught hiding behind the trees.



By this point, she got an Echo-9 gun alongside some ammo so when the time was right, she stepped in and SHOT ONE OF THE SSI SOLDIERS!!!



The soldier who was about to capture them burst into flames and had an immediate death. Heather yelled at the four to come with her. They then climbed up to her like plushies and Heather was on her way.

Meanwhile, it was only me, Holly, Rowley, Dad, Rodrick, Luffy, and Pikachu fighting the swarms of enemies. Pikachu however was captured and wasn't saved.

But Rodrick did save me when I was in a locked melee with a regular SS soldier who wanted to stab me, and with a shoot he was dead.

Rodrick then heard Heathers screaming voice, the same voice she did when one of her birthdays were ruined.

Rodrick stopped and said her name. Holly yelled at Rodrick to save her as he ran. Sadly, we all were caught but luckily not killed.

Rodrick ran as Heather was now at a dead end, a semi high cliff, she hid behind a rock and told the four Sanrio characters to not help for they could be hurt. They listened to her with some doubt and fear.

She got out and yelled, "YOU BASTAR-" but didn't finished as she was firing Echo-9 at the soldiers.

One by one, the soldiers fell, but then Heather ran out of ammo and decided to go full on MELEE combat, she punched one SSI soldier as she screamed and got a katana from it.

She then began stabbing and slicing down the soldiers who ran at her.

The remaining Sanrio character got out their slingshots and began shooting at the soldiers. Rocks penetrated their bodies as they fell.

Heather was about to win but then, from the shadows a high ranking official came out walking, he got out a Walther-P38, known for sharp precision.

Rodrick was still far away and Heather alongside the Sanrio characters were fighting as hard as they could.

The SS official aimed at Heather and then... the gun was shot...

Chapter 5

The Departure of Heather Hills

The bullet pierced through Heather's side close to the stomach. She stopped fighting, everyone stopped fighting, the Sanrio characters looked SHOCKED at what happened, she tilted a bit and was about to kneel but she didn't.

Then she began fighting, she raised the katana in her hand and blocked an attack and stabbed one SSI soldier.

While she was fighting, the official shot again, this time at the leg. She knelt and turned to the Sanrio characters. Pochacco said, "Heather..." Heather herself said nothing but then, she said, "YOU'LL NEVER GET THEM!" As she sliced through one normal soldier's arm.

She thought she was going to win, the hordes of soldiers came in all dropped dead as she did her best to fend them all off.

But it was no use for once again, she was shot. She tried to call Rodrick but her phone was broken

She knelt there helpless, the Sanrio Characters, gave a loud yell and ran towards the hordes... they were caught, each one were held like plushies but in the way a brother would hold it to taunt his sister.

Heather saw the hordes pass through her acting as if she didn't exist.

A minute passed and it was only Heather and the official. Heather looked at him with rage and pain, the official just reloaded and was about to shoot her at the head, but then Rodrick came... he yelled and pushed aside the official, the bullet flying somewhere else.

From there, Rodrick and the official were now fighting. Rodrick tried to shoot him with his machine gun but had no ammo so he needed to fight in melee.

The official got a katana from one of the fallen SSI soldiers and THREW it towards Rodrick, luckily he dodged it and picked it up.

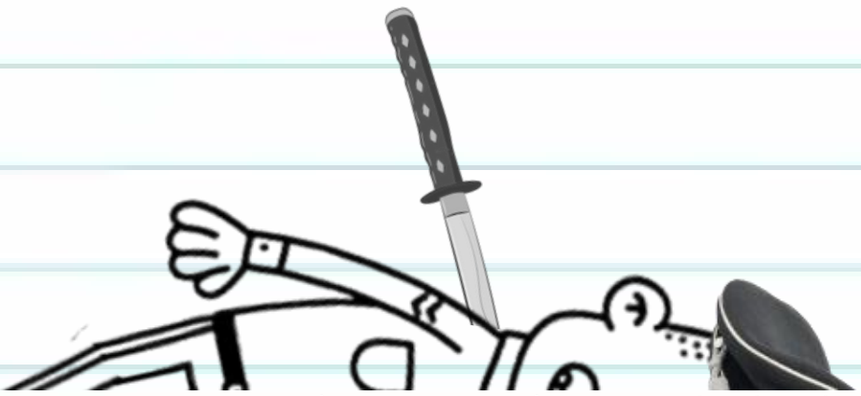
Rodrick ran to the official and threw him on the ground, now they were rolling around fighting for the katana. Until... Rodrick STABBED the official in the back.



The official gave a sharp sigh, and died...

Rodrick pushed the dead corpse aside and ran to Heather who was losing blood. Rodrick patted her cheek to get her attention.

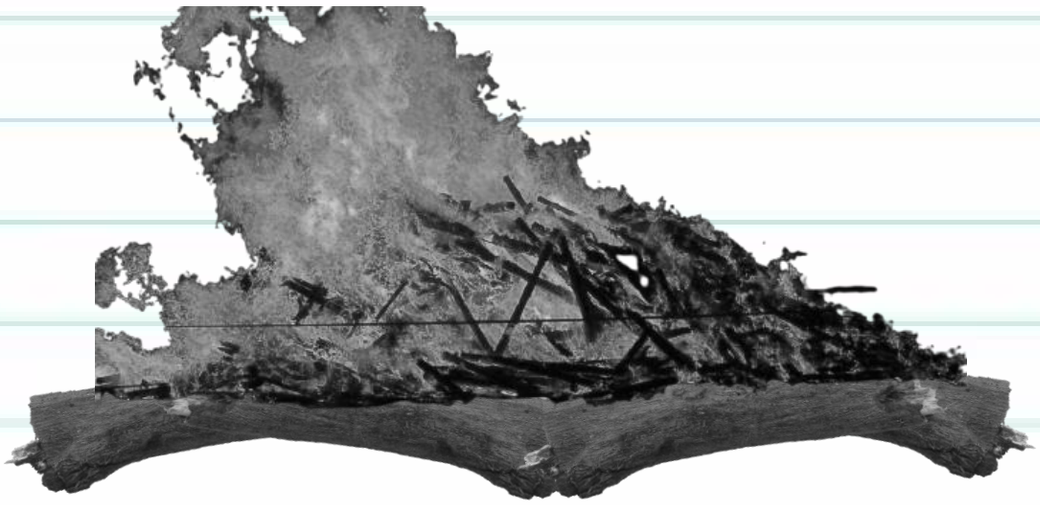
Then she started speaking, "I failed them... I failed them..." Rodrick asked who was she talk about. "Po..chacc..o, and... the rest... I failed them..." She said, "When I was little, I had them... as plushies... and I promised... I'd protect them... but I couldn't..." Rodrick looked at her with tears. She then said, "If I couldn't save them... I can I save you..." Rodrick then said calmly, "I'm sorry... I'm sorry..."

"There's no need for pardons." She said, then she looked up and said, "I see them..." She smiled and then her smile faded, the life of her eyes... faded... Rodrick began crying softly with no care in the world.

Some soldiers found them and took them, Rodrick didn't fight back for he was still crying.

Chapter 6

Back at the Camp



Once again, I woke up... I was back at the camp. It was night time and I felt very tired and beaten up.

I stood up and walked around, I saw some soldiers were sitting around and chatting as if they were in a CAMPING trip. I then met with Holly who was still under the influence of the sleeping gas. She began waking up and her first words were, "where's my sister?"

I didn't know but then, I saw Rodrick sitting a bit farther way.

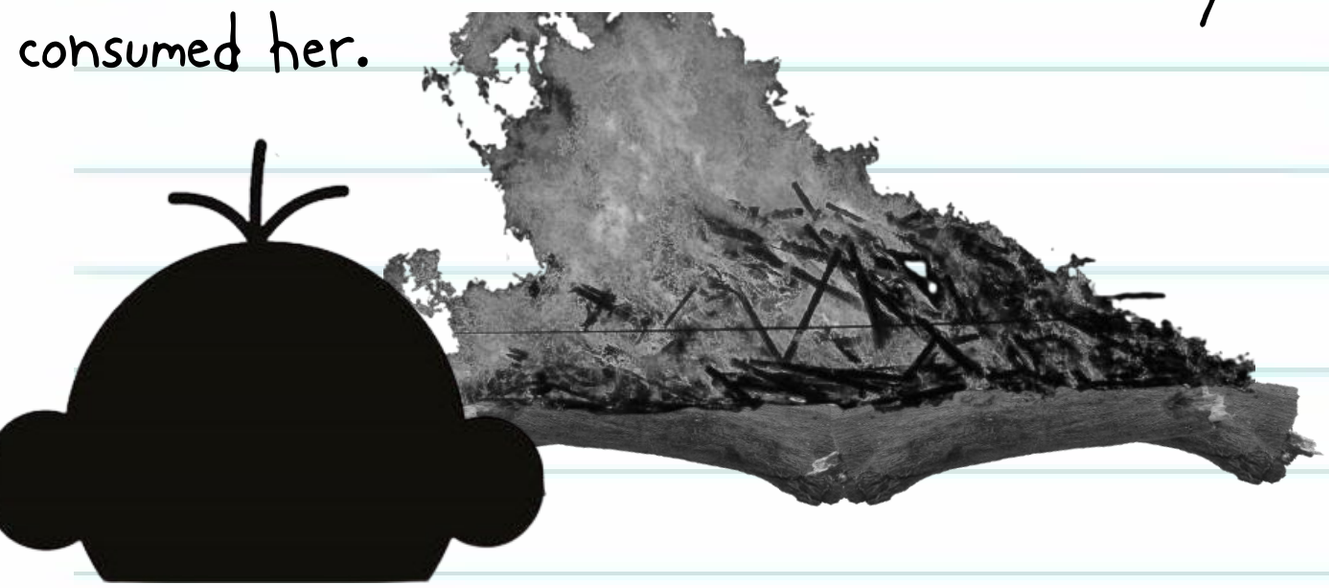
He didn't look like himself. I then remembered that he left us to save Heather, so he should know what happened to them.

I walked up to him and I asked him, but he didn't say anything... his mascara was running (yeah he still uses that mascara because of Loded Diper).

His lips trembled and then tears began to run. That was SOMETHING to me for he never did something like that.

He then said, "She's dead..." Holly listened and said, "WHAT!" In disbelief.

"She's dead, she's up in that pyre over there." Rodrick continued. Both me and Holly ran and saw the pyre. It was like a firepit but larger. I looked closer and saw the silhouette of Heather's dead body as the fire consumed her.



Holly began crying and perched on my side. I tried to comfort her a bit. I actually felt BAD for her. Even though she was a jerk back then and was very annoying during my trip. It was pretty heartbreaking to see a long time partner of my crew leave.

I Holly was crying very hard, and eventually cried herself to sleep. I still wanted to be with her, but I wanted to check how the others were doing.

I met with the crossovers, who all seemed pretty SHOOK up from the battle, not in a bad way... like in a way a gamer feels after doing a long streak and then dies from the last enemy type of shook up. They all saw me and said their greetings.

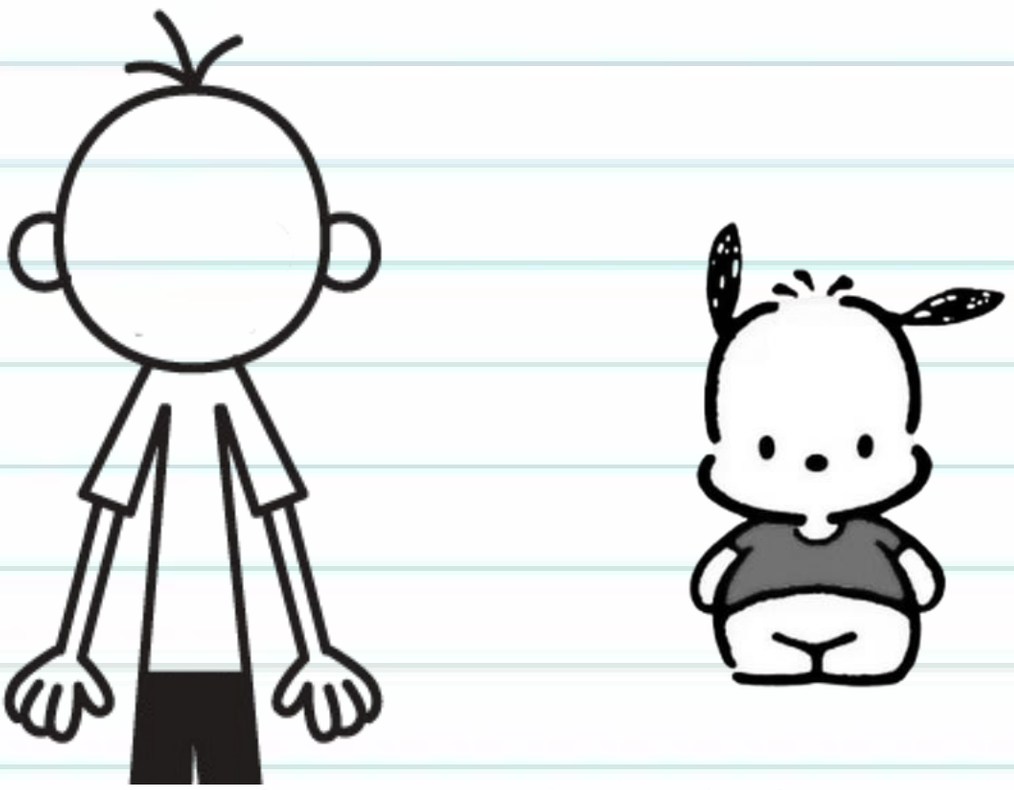
I too said my greetings and Pikachu came and hugged my leg. I picked him up and gave him a hug and then I decided to give hugs to all of the crossovers (well the ones who weren't fully grown), especially to the Sanrio boy characters (not to be confused with the anime) and I chatted with them.

Pochacco told me about his experience of how he saw Heather giving her life to defend him and his friends; and that all are grateful and hope she's in a better life.

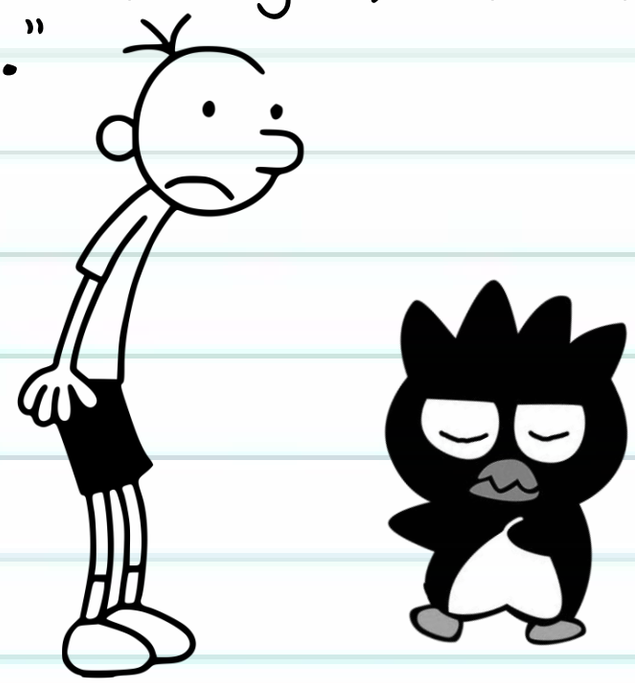


I then saw Badtz Maru who looked pretty tense and shook up. I came up to him and asked him if he was feeling ok.

He then said that he felt "fine", but then said, "I hope I can see her again." I thought he was talking about Heather but in reality he was talking about Kuromi!

Turns out the two were dating until, you know she changed for the worse. I even found out why he even joined me!

He said, "remember when I told you my reason for joining your crew a while ago? Well I did do it to prove wrong with the video game addiction part, but also I did it for that was one step to getting close to Kuromi... All I want is too see her again, in her cheeky, sassy... adorable fashion..."

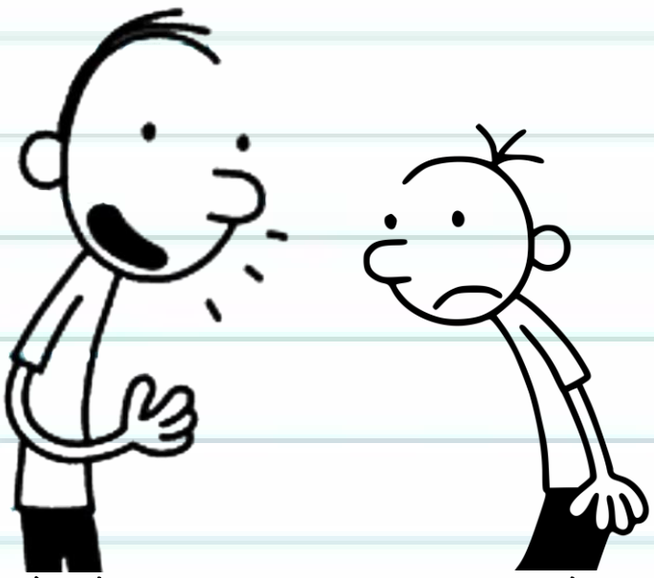


I then left them be for now Badtz Maru was crying, well better said WAILING and I decided to meet with Rowley and Dad.

Once again, Rowley was shaken from the attack... he didn't know he had that kind of POWER in him. At least he had some power in saying a hi.

I then went to Dad, honestly... I didn't know what to say. He said his hi and I then just asked, "I didn't know that these Civil War fights were realistic! I just thought the two sides just shoot with air guns and march around."

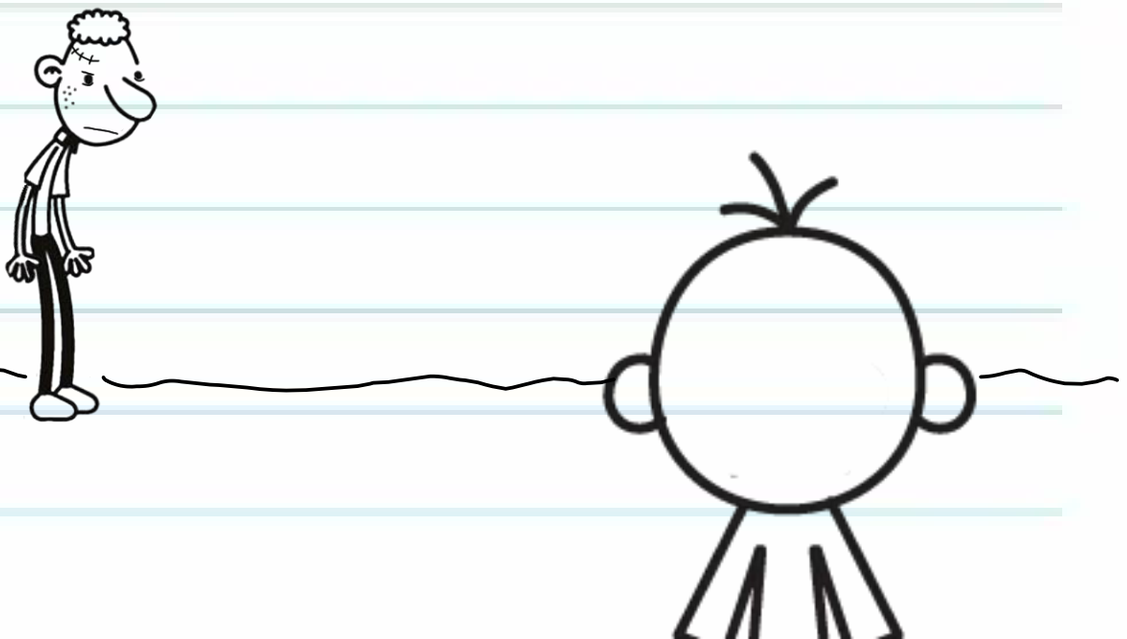
Dad responded, "Yeah! My reenactments are actually realistic... real training, real aiming, real everything except bullets, those are fake."



"Wow! I didn't know you were a skilled warrior. Well, thanks for looking for our backs." I said to him.

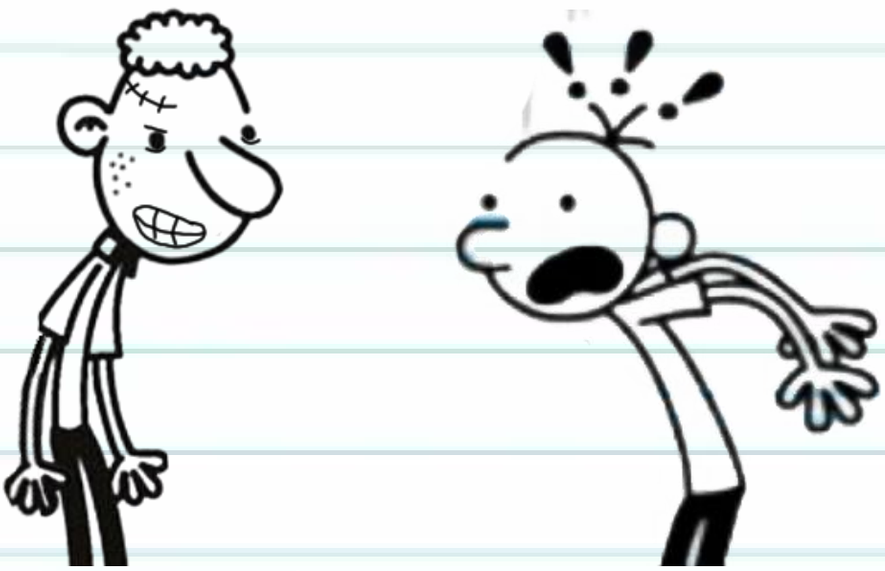
"No! Thank you, I couldn't handle those swarms if it weren't for you and the rest..." He said back.

After that nice talk with my Dad, The Kid came up to me to "talk" with me.



"Hello Greg! It's so nice to see you again, it seems that you've survived everything. Even the Echo-9..." He said.

I also had some questions for I remembered the first enemies that attacked me back in the first days of my trip. So, I asked him, "So... where are your bandits, your brawlers, and even those kids from the tennis court."



"I hired them all, the brawlers were just some temporary SSI soldiers before I made that position, the bandits were hired as well... and even those kids, though some of them did want revenge even without the bribe. But... the other half didn't even know who did it. So, all were hired just to warm you up. The same went for those thuggees, I too hired them and the baby shark team, I shot them with a serum that causes them to act wild!"

I honestly thought it was STUPID to hire those guys for he already have capable men. I then asked him again, "Why do you want this Spear... what's the purpose of ruining people's lives?"

He then told me his plan, "You know, I have this base... a big one, there is also this satellite... And with the help of some chemicals and rays, I can destroy any location and if enough chemicals and rays, the world..."

Now I know who I was now dealing with. The Kid then continued, "And with The Spear, I can survive the end of the old world. I can achieve the highest position in the hierarchy of the Kingdom of God... I can create a world where no sin exists, a new Garden of Eden, and with it... I can create a perfect society where I can rule!"

I punched him after listening to his SICK plan. But he just smiled.

"I also forgot to tell you Greg that I removed the parts of the brain that makes me feel pain. So... I actually dead inside." He said.

Man, this guy is truly crazy.

Chapter 7

Escaping the Camp

I left The Kid, behind as he laughed like a maniac and went to where the crossovers were. I went up to Luffy who was flexing his stretchy arms a bit and told him that we all need to talk.

Po walked up and asked, "What is it?" I responded with, "We need to escape! I don't know if it's still safe to stay here."

"Ok, so we need a plan. First, we need to distract the soldiers with something... we can't kill them for that'll cause some ruckus. We need to distract them, but with what?" I thought.

Then Pochacco came up to me and said in a semi-cheerful voice, "Hey, I think I can help you... I remembered doing this music video with Okaasan to Issho channel called ふしぎなポケット　ポチャッコver, or in English: Mysterious Pocket Pochacco version".

"So what's that going to help me?" I said, he continued, "I kept the magic pouch that not only gives out the crackers, but it can also take out other items that I owned over time! Think of it like Hermione's beaded bag that has that extension charm. Only that here there's no magic, it's just Sanrio charm!"

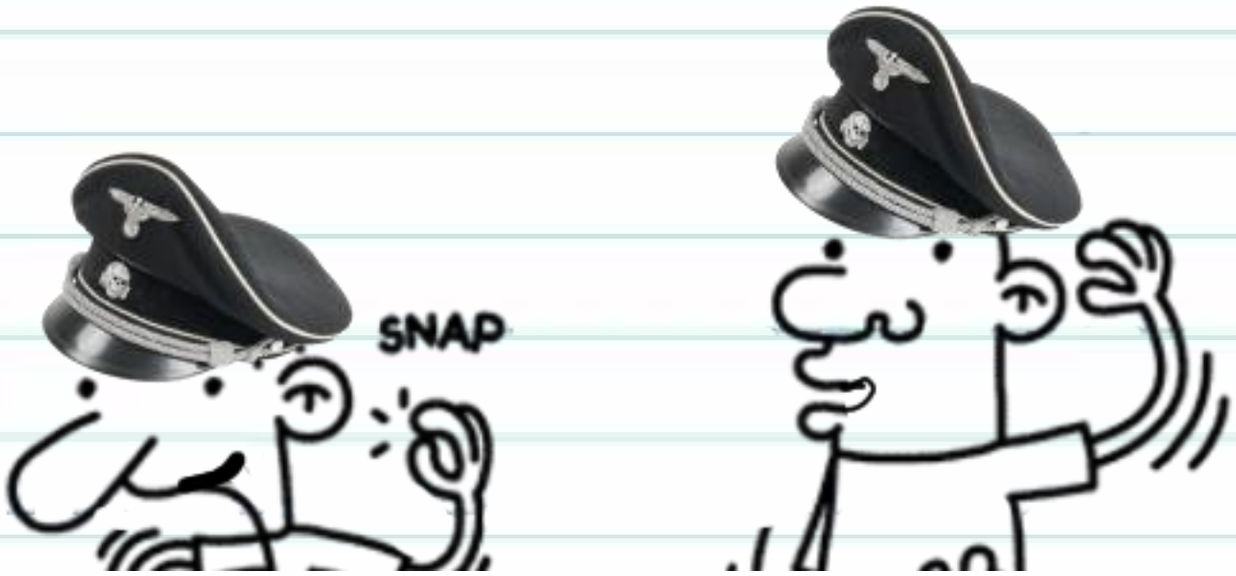
"Ok? Does it have something that can distract the soldiers?" I asked. He nodded and first placed the pouch onto his shirt and then took out a BOOMBOX!

Turns out it had Bluetooth so he took out his phone and placed the song and soon it boomed out:

ポケットのなかにはビスケットがひとつ
ポケットをたたくとビスケットはふたつ
もひとつたたくとビスケットはみっつ
たたいてみるたびビスケットはふえる
そんなふしぎなポケットがほしい
そんなふしぎなポケットがほしい

I was afraid that the soldiers would get riled up or something, but the thing was... THEY WERE DANCING AND VIBING WITH THE SONG!!!

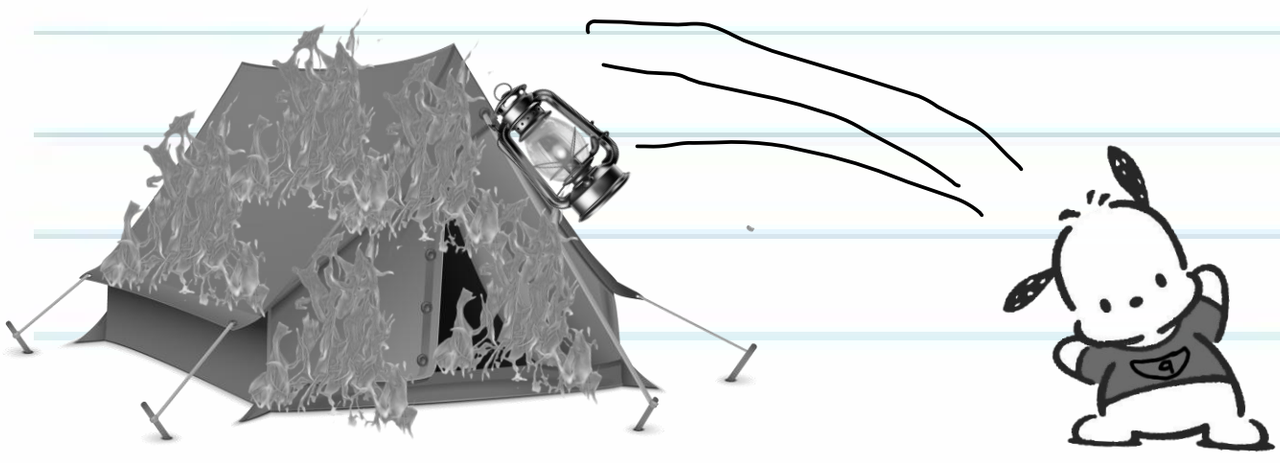


While Pochacco was blasting the music, I went up to Rodrick, Rowley, Dad, and Holly and told them that right now we need to leave and they shouldn't ask any questions.

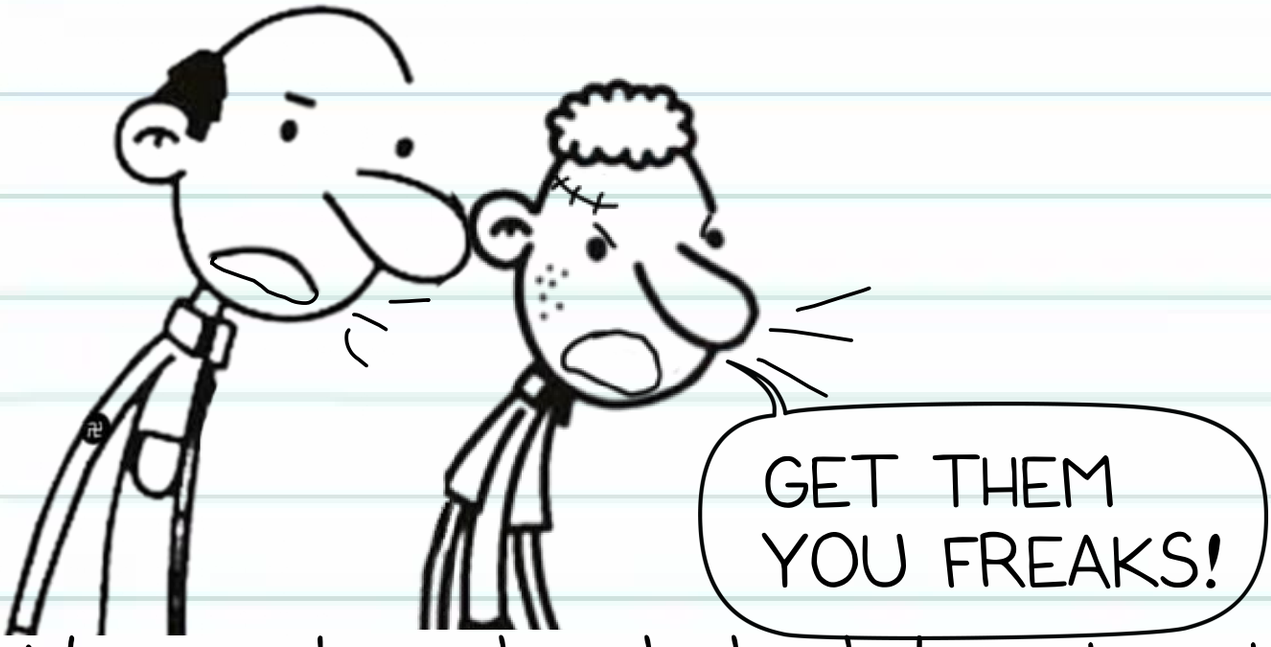
They all nodded and began walking slowly behind the guards. I then saw the other characters and made a gesture that they should move as well.

And now, everyone except for Pochacco were now walking slowly.

When we were in a good position, I gave a gesture to Pochacco. He too nodded and placed the boombox back into his pouch. Then he ran and took one of the lanterns and THREW it onto the tent!



At this point, we were all running as the soldiers yelled and tried to calm the fire. The Kid alongside his parents yelled that they should capture us!



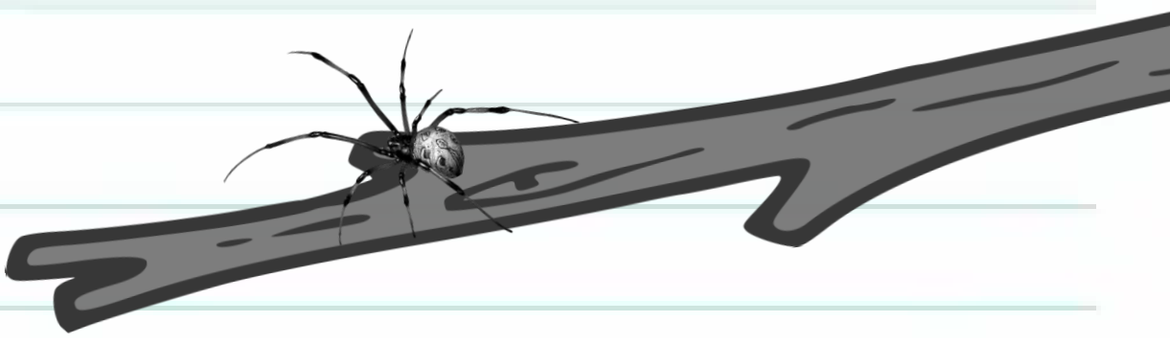
We ran and ran through the thick jungle until, I found out I forgot the Spear and the Skull! I was about to run back until I couldn't...

I was in QUICKSAND!!!

Well, it was just me and Dad who were stuck. Everyone else was panicking, Pororo went out to look for help as the rest were thinking on what to. Luffy tried to grab me but his HANDS also got trapped by the quicksand!

Luckily, he was pulled out. Holly was also wondering what to do until it clicked to her, get something long!

The sand was now at our waists as Holly came back with some long branches. She gave one to Rowley and she told him to reach up.
Rowley reached up to dad and successfully pulled him out, but... there was some trouble with me. Holly reached out the branch to pull me out, but the thing was...
THERE WAS A SPIDER on it!

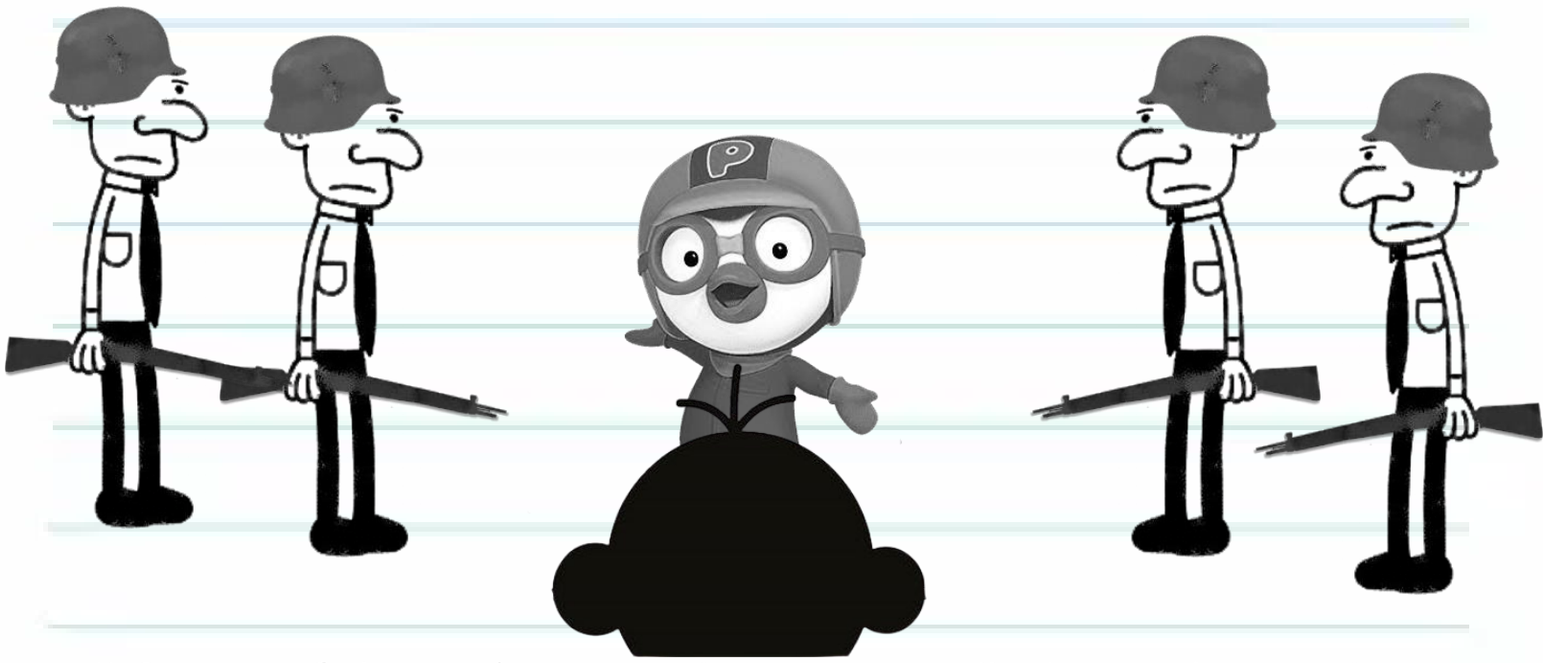


I have a BIG fear of spiders, and this time it was worse for it was a POISONOUS spider. Holly told me to just suck it up and closed my eyes.

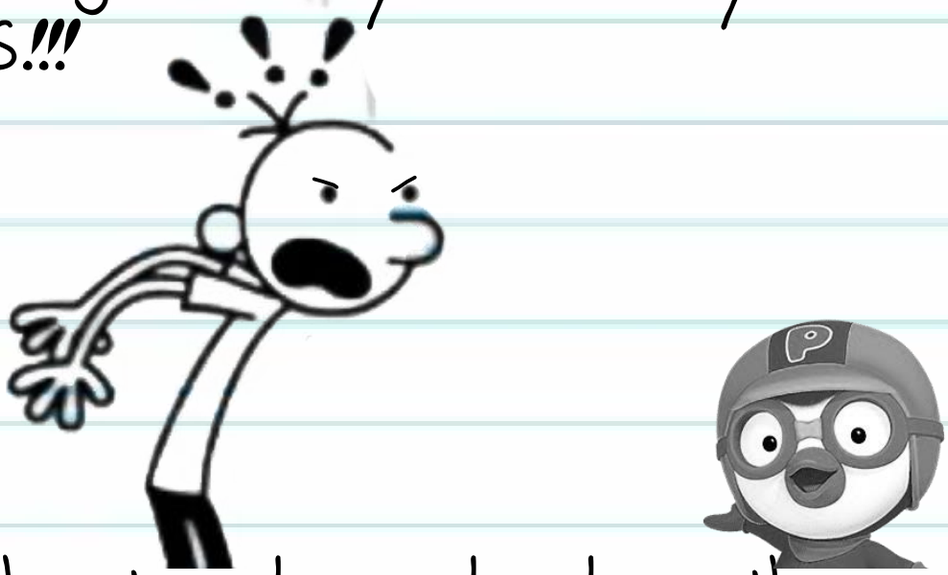
Holly then YANKED me out of there; the best part was that I didn't touched that spider, it didn't even touch the slight part of my SKIN.

But things weren't all fun and cheers for Pororo came, but with something terrible.

HE BROUGHT IN THE SOLDIERS WHO WE WERE TRYING TO ESCAPE!!!



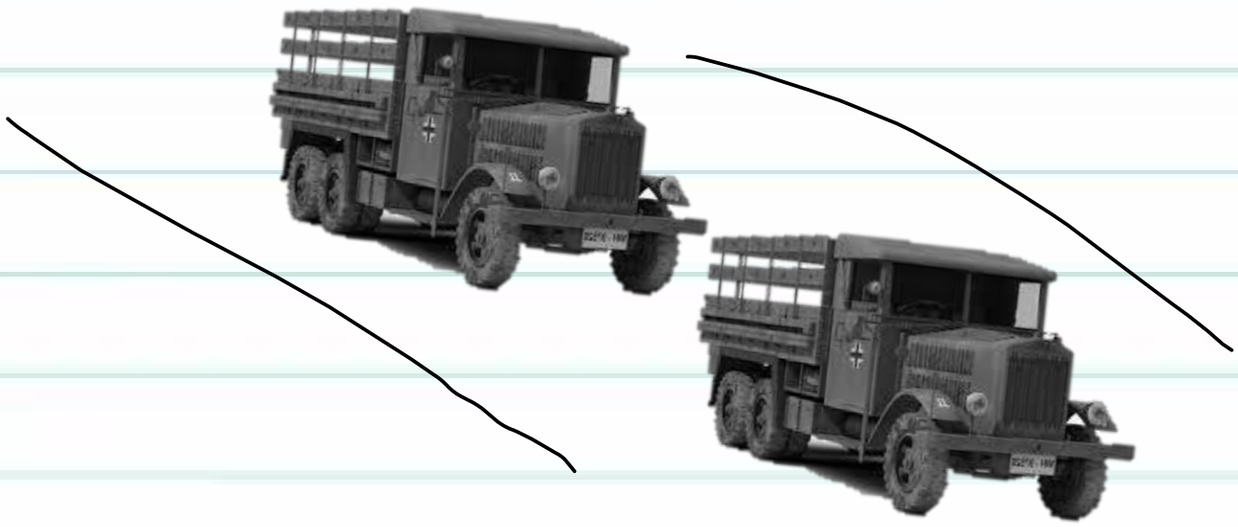
"Guys! I brought reinforcements." He said gleefully, not knowing that they were actually the NEO NAZIS!!!



He then turned around and saw them more clearly, and he knew that we were DONE for it.

Chapter 8

The Jungle Chase



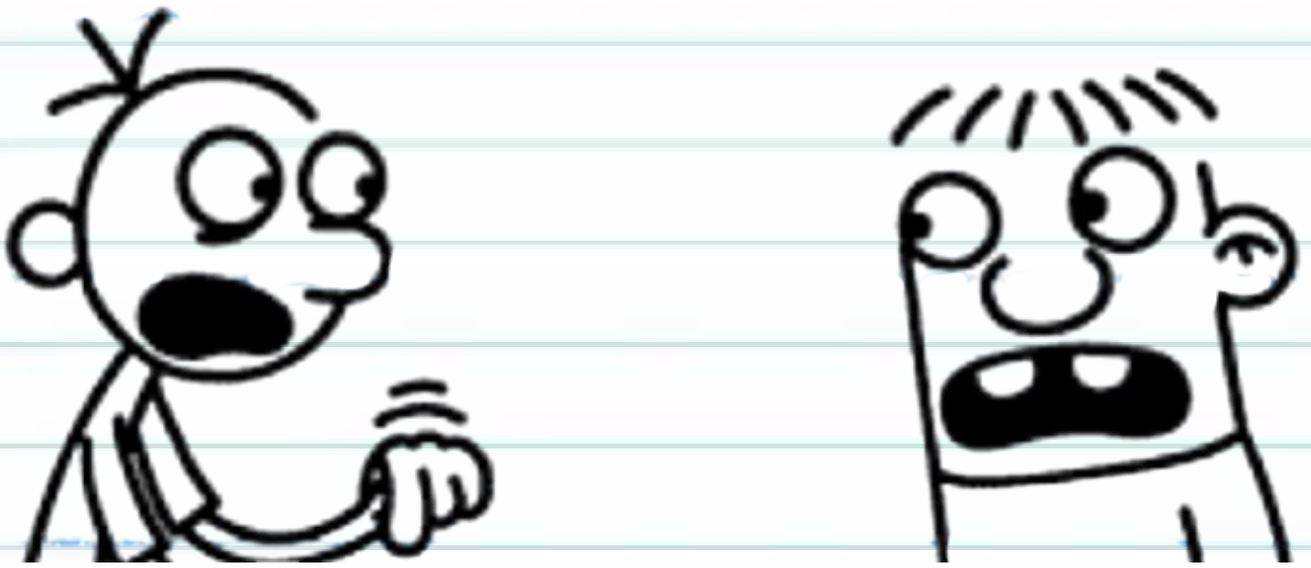
That was I think the last thing I remember for after they found us, I got HIT once again with some hard object (man... how much till I get BRAIN DAMAGE?)

Anyways, I woke up in a sitting position, my hands were tied and my mouth with tape. Surrounding me was Holly, Rowley, Rodrick, Dad, Pikachu, Pororo, Dear Daniel, Luffy and two SSI soldiers alongside Flippy who were monitoring us. I wondered were the others were but I guess they were in another truck.

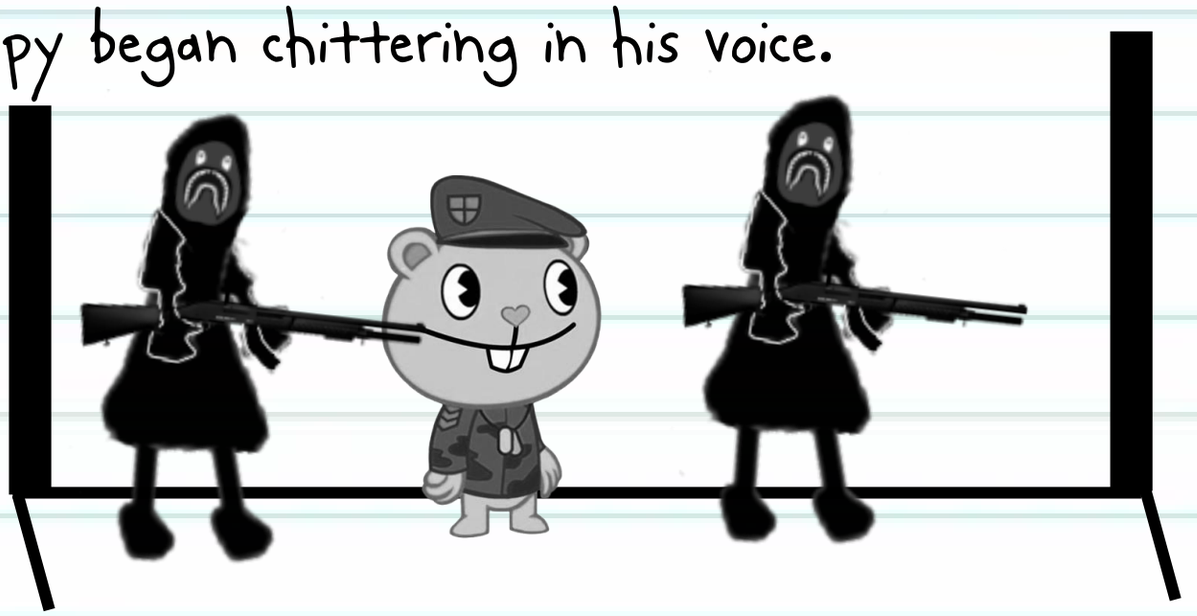
My hands were pressed onto a sharp piece of metal, that was sticking out and used that to cut my hands free and then took the tape out. Something that I also saw was that I was the only one with the ties and mouth tape. Rowley was waking up and asked what happened.

I said to him, "You're fine!" and hugged him, he then asked, "You need to explain A LOT to me." In a stern but scared voice.

From there, I explained him everything... from the creation of the Spear, the escape of the city when the Romans sieged it to the events on the island to 1997 when the crossovers appeared and he seemed pretty shocked and confused, just like me.



The rest finally woke up and Holly asked me where she was, I told her that we were in some truck and then Flippy began chittering in his voice.



One of the SSI men was holding a translator and then said that we are being led to our site of EXECUTION which was an untouched part of the island full of MAN EATING ANTS!!!!

"WHAT!!!!" Exclaimed Holly looking with shock and we too were in shock! After all what I did for him and that's how he pays us... Holly was yelling at the SSI soldier while the two were trying to tape her mouth but then she just kicked one of them out of the TRUCK!

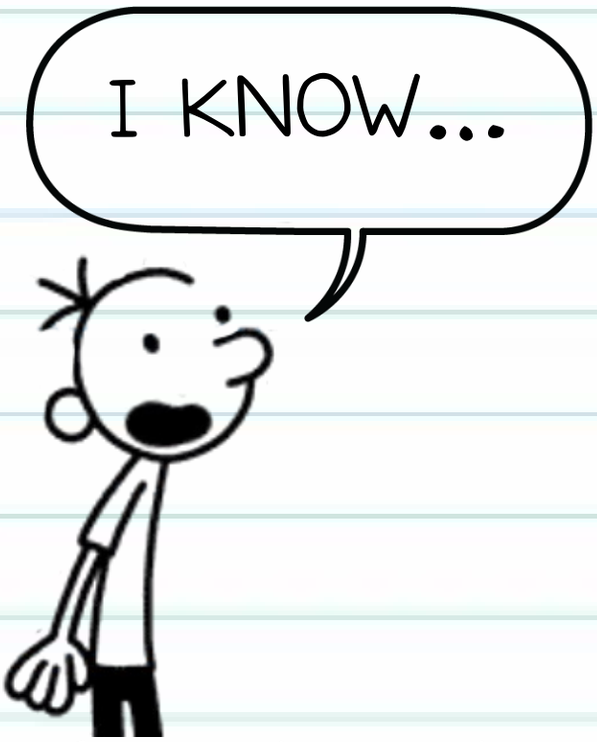
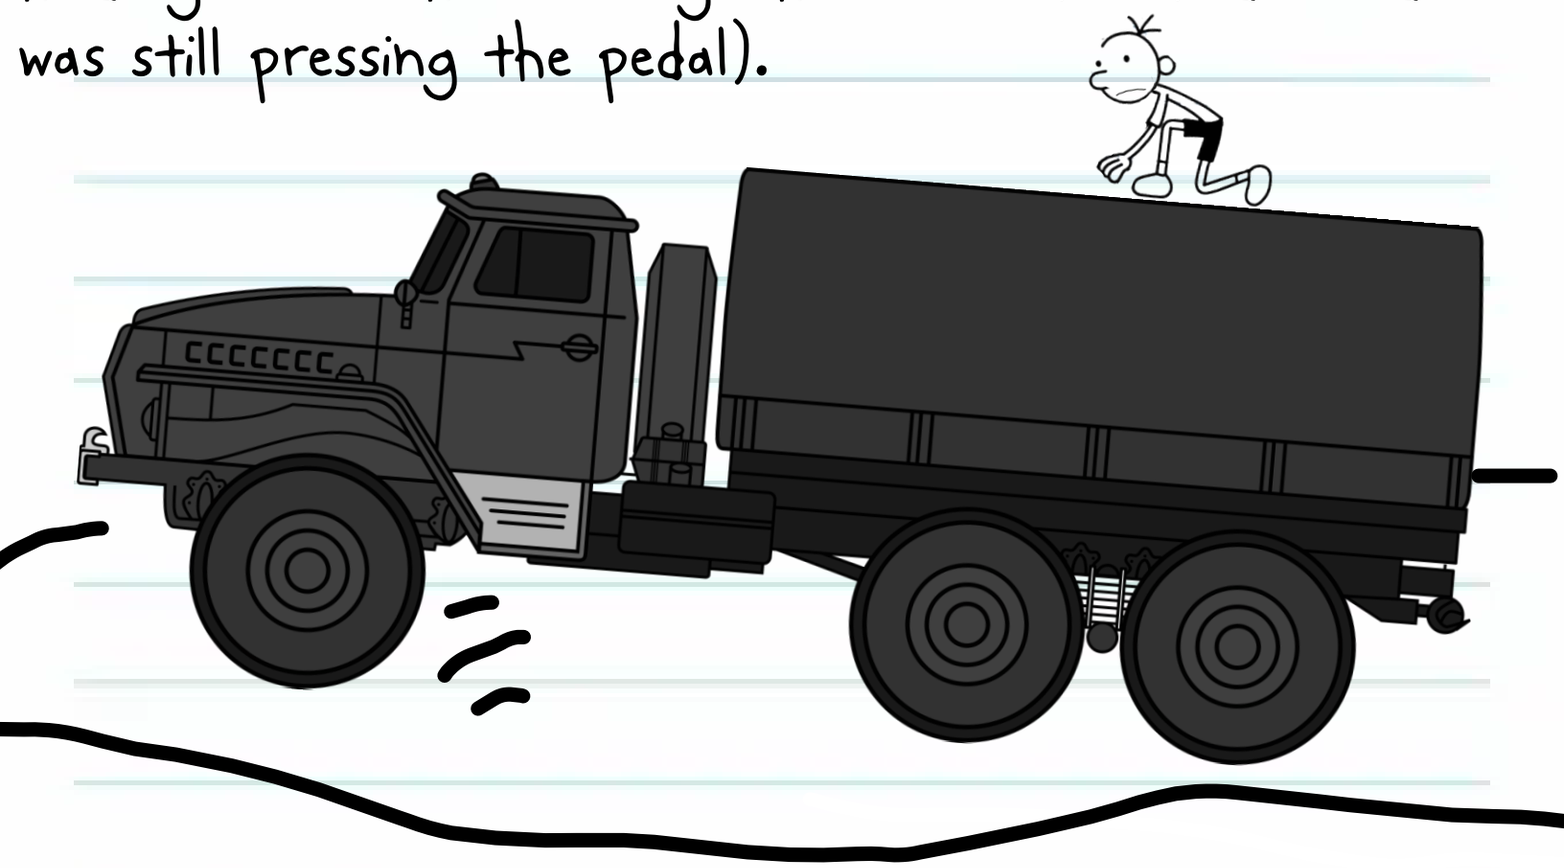
She then knocked out Flippy and shot the other SSI soldier. She then began to untie everyone else's hands. She then ripped the tarpaulin, She asked me if she could have a lift. I went and pushed her up... Then she told me something that seemed out of the blue.

I then replied her with:

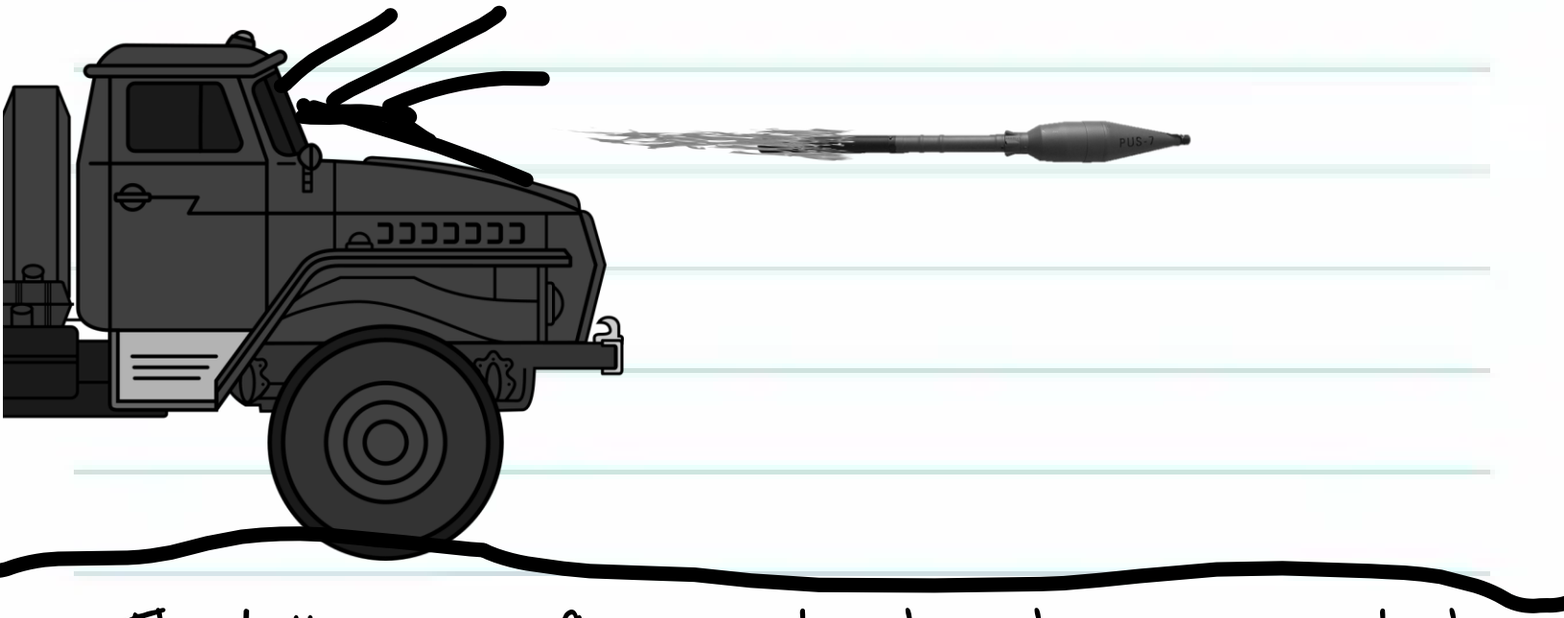


From there I jumped up and was now on TOP of the truck, meanwhile the rest were following me using the partition door to get where Holly was (Yes she was holding on to the steering wheel but a knocked out driver was still pressing the pedal).

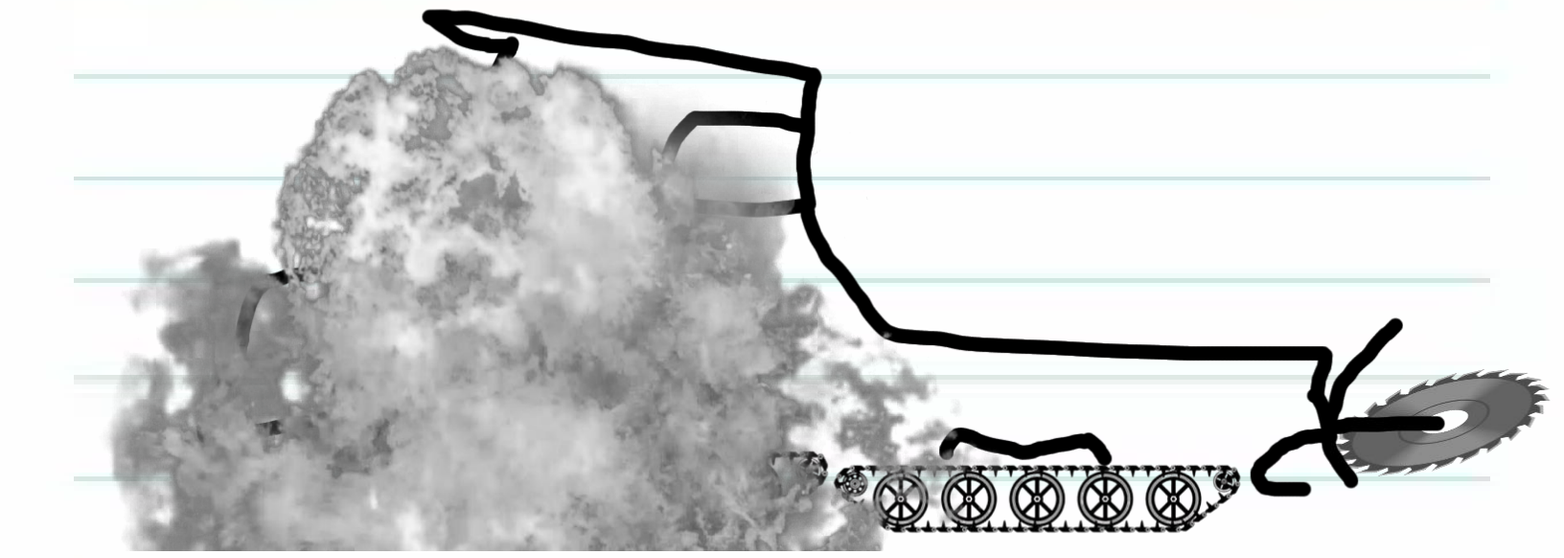


I then entered the truck and beside me was the partition door that was open and what was peeking out wasn't any of the crew but an RPG sticking out, turns out Rodrick found it and Pororo was holding it, alongside Rodrick and Rowley

In front of our truck was a tree cutter that was BLOCKING our way to move forward... Ohhh, now I understand why they were taking it out. I guess they saw it and were trying to get rid of it. Before anyone could say anything, Pororo Pulled the TRIGGER!



The bullet went flying and it hit the cutter and the whole thing EXPLODED!



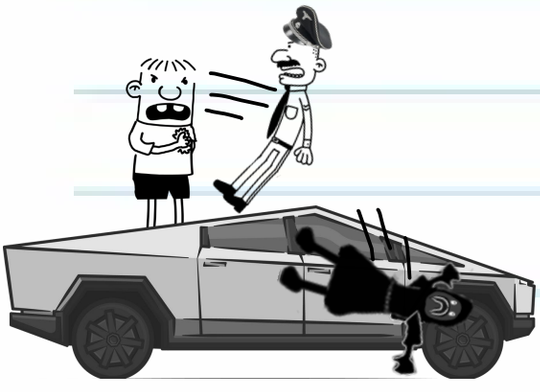
All of the vehicles stopped and this was our chance to get close to the Kid and his family and get the spear.

I wondered how my crew from the other truck were doing but right now I had to get to the other side. running would be to slow so we decided to drive the truck!

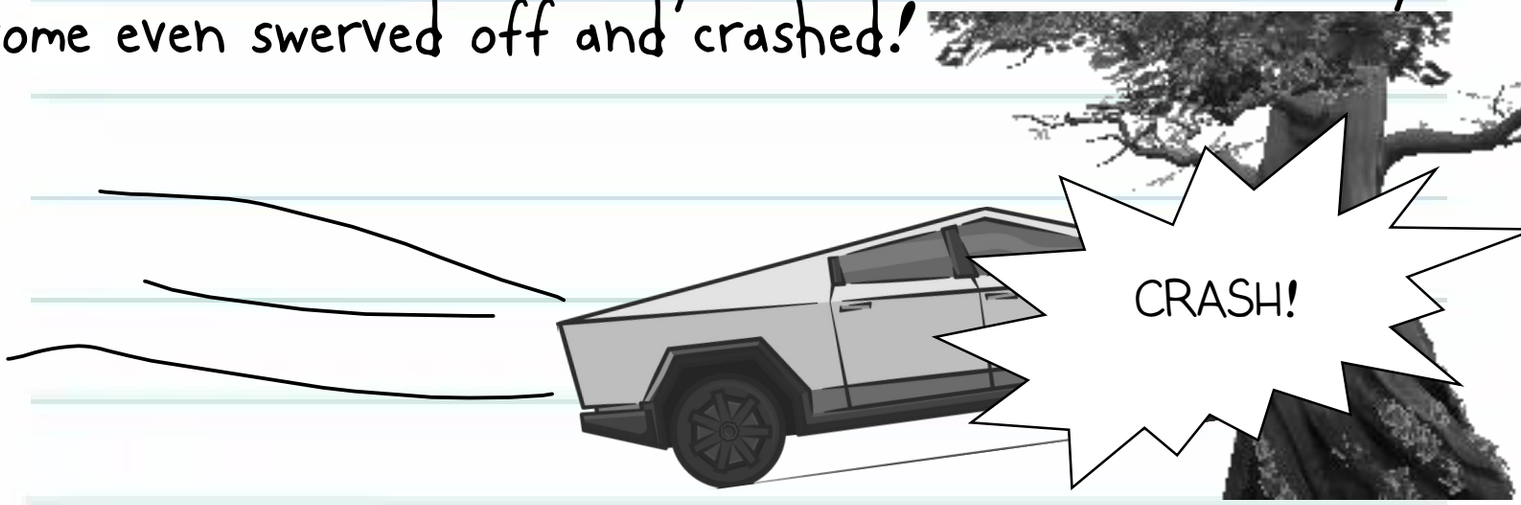
Rodrick got behind the wheel and I tripped the tarpaulin to show that we were ok. And it turns out that the crew from the other truck got rid of the drivers! Thanks Luffy...

The two trucks were getting closer to the bands of cyber trucks, two of the trucks we were driving and a Mercedes Benz 770... how creative... It was even a Caprio!

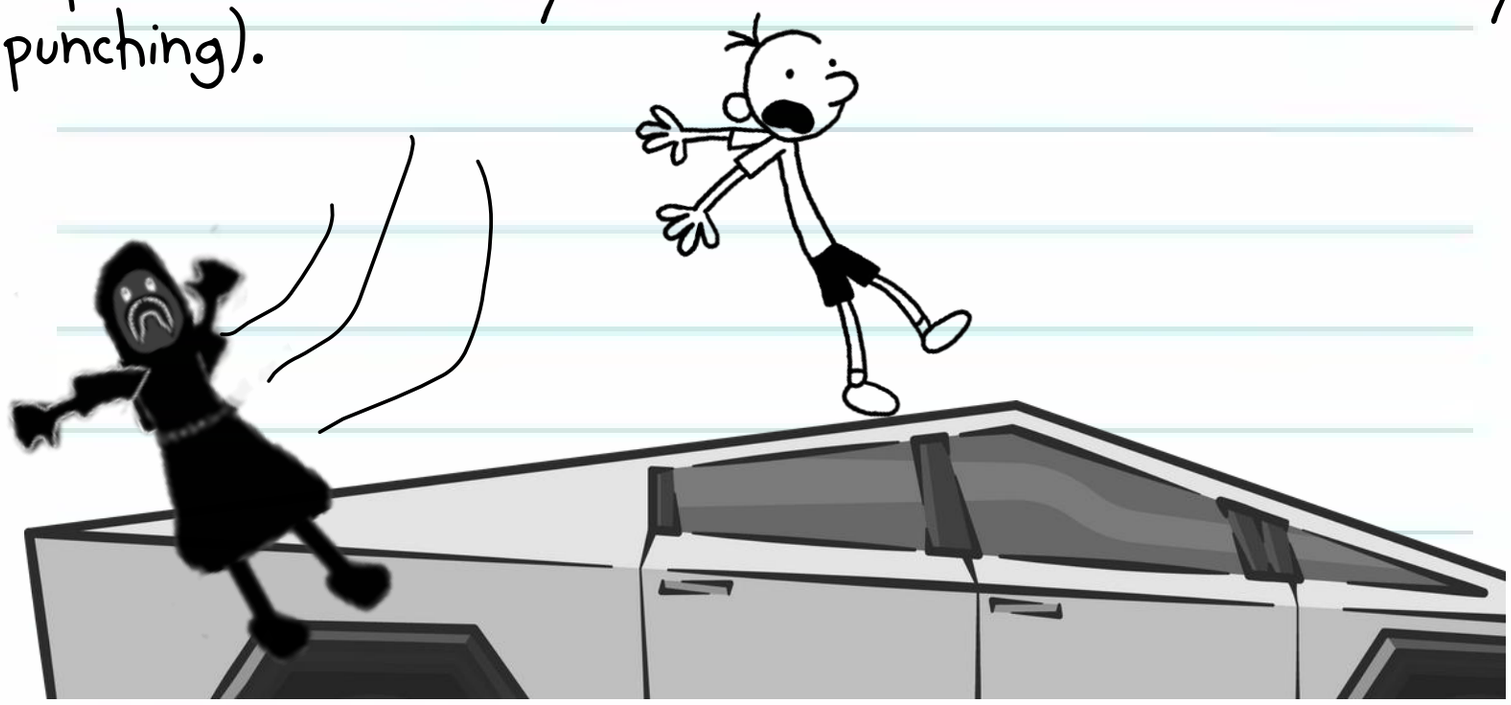
Everyone except for Rodrick and Dad (who jumped onto the other truck to gain control for Luffy isn't the one driving the vehicle) got out and began jumping onto the other vehicles and fighting. Even Rowley finally used his Karate lessons, and man he's good!



We were getting closer to The Kids car, as we punched and kicked. The cyber trucks drove frantically, some even swerved off and crashed!



I was trying to keep my balance as a bunch of SSI men kept jumping onto the cyber truck that I was on top of but constantly failed (some of which was caused my punching).

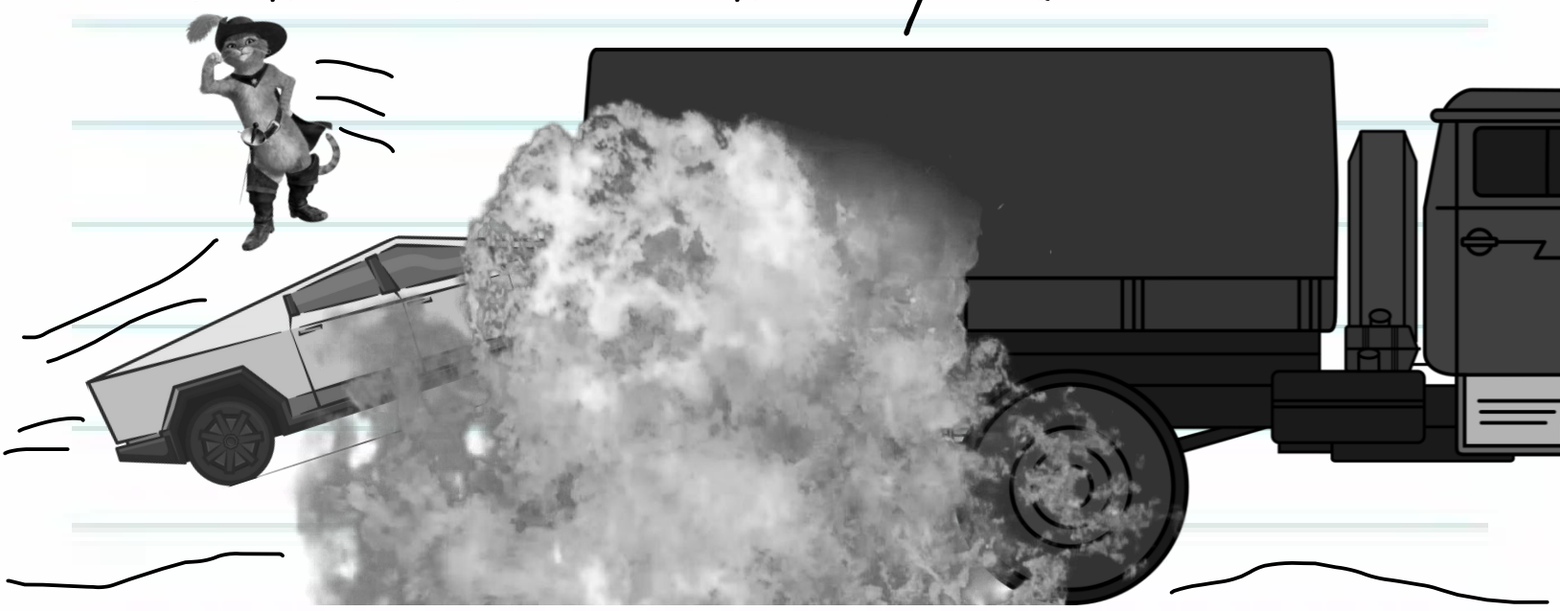


Turns out that the guy driving the tesla placed it in automatic mode and he was already knocked out. So I entered in from the top, opened the door the pushed him out!

From there I didn't know what to do... then I remembered that you can place a pin point and the car would follow the point!

The truck went forward I saw what was happening, everyone was getting in their kicks, Po and Tigress were fighting as they tried to make love (not erotically but still romantic style)! They were even counting their kills!

Puss was also fighting and even made the driver accidentally push the pedal too HARD and drove up into one of the trucks still with enemy soldiers!!!



The truck that I was in was getting closer and closer, so I already got out and stood onto of the self moving cyber truck.

The Kid, his family, Kuromi and Death the Wolf was there, and they didn't seem happy seeing Me.

I then took a LEAP OF FAITH and entered the car...

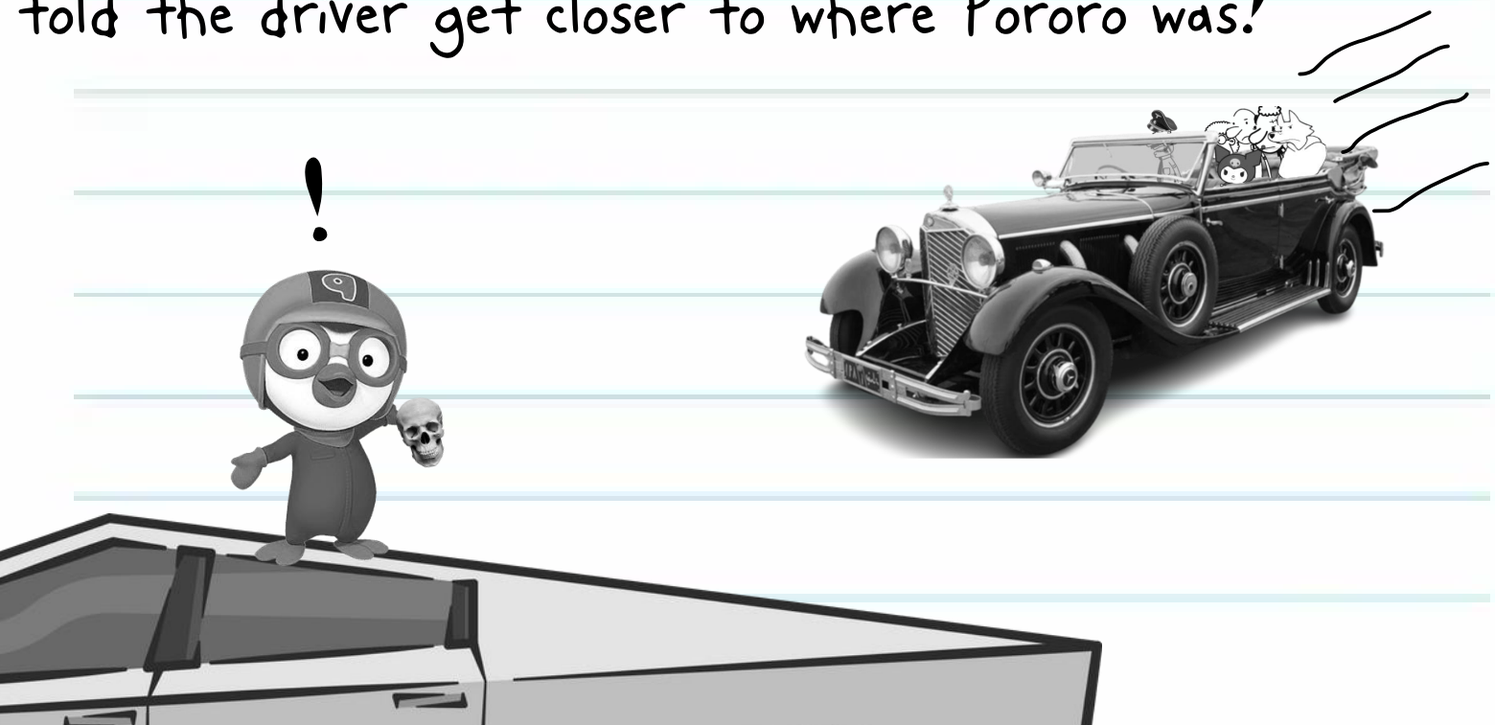
I don't know what else happened, I just remembered them trying to KILL me and I got the Spear and the Skull, which I threw it to Pororo! Don't ask me how I got back to "safe" ground.

Turns out The Kid's mother was FURIOUS and decided to take one of the SSI soldier's katanas and told the driver get closer to where Pororo was!

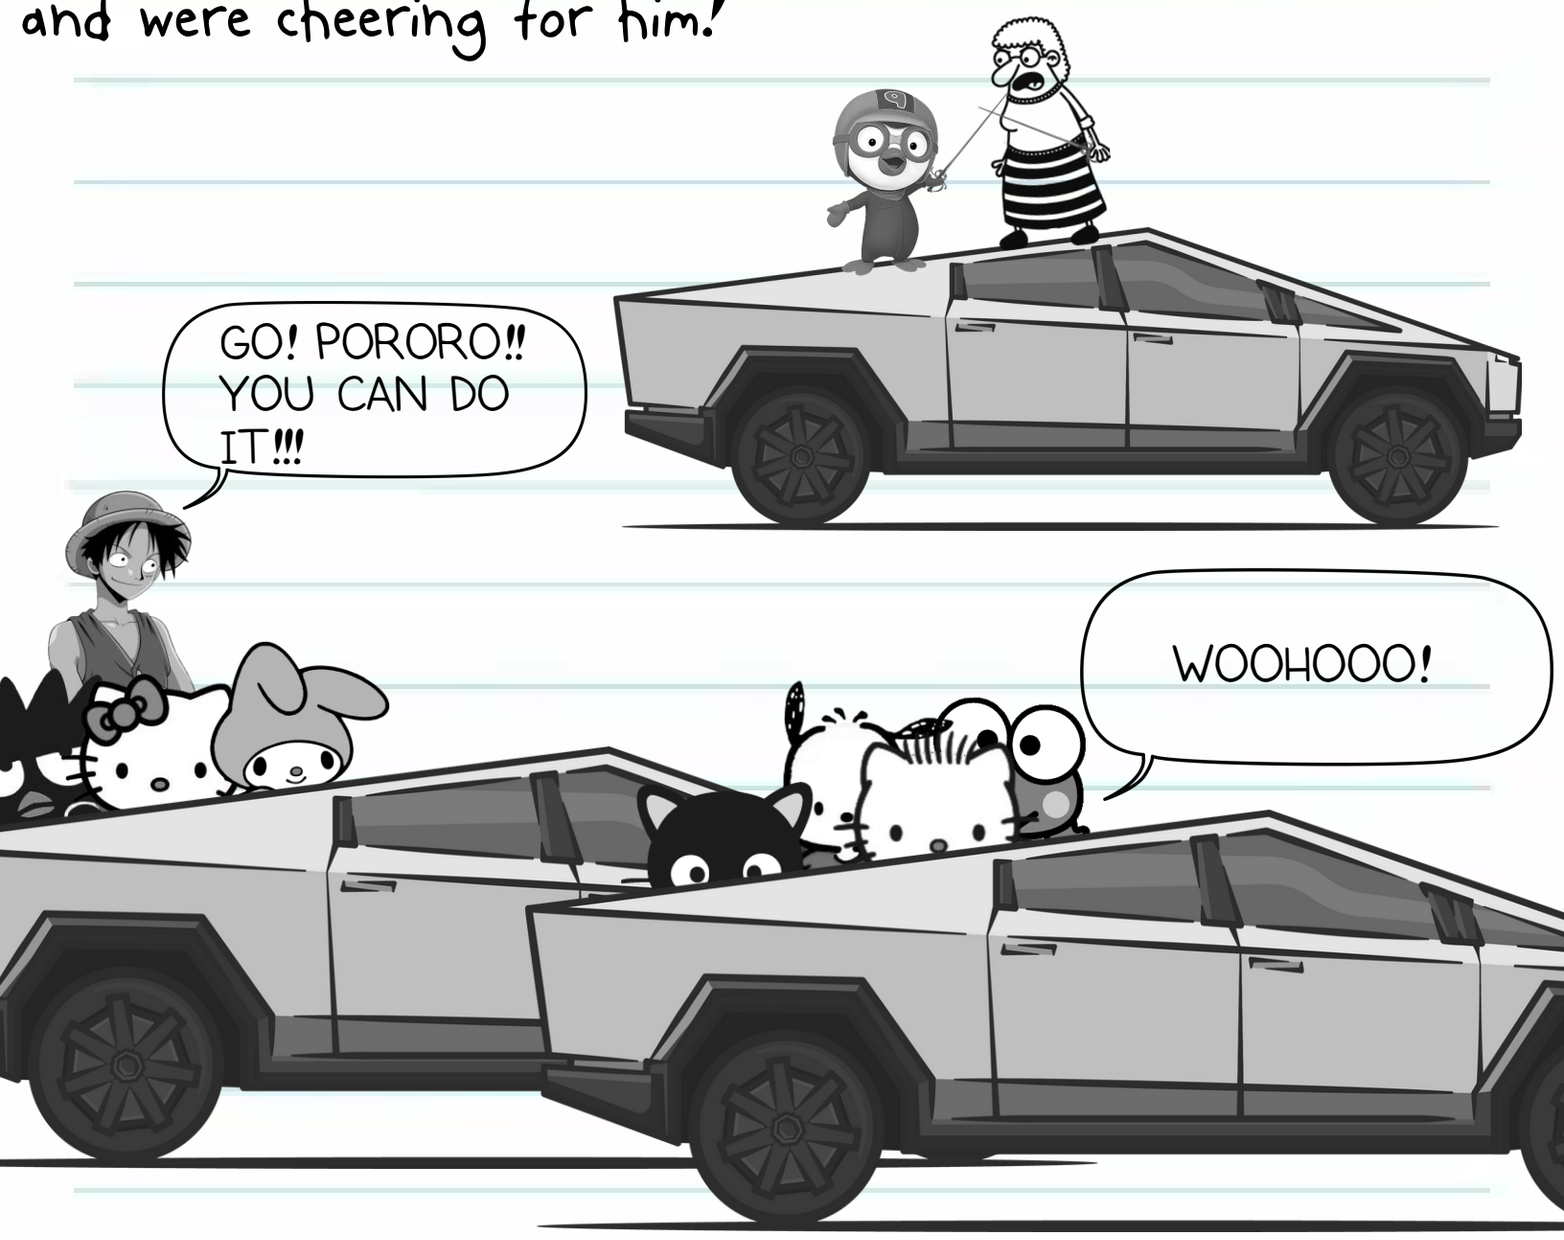


Pororo was getting nervous so he did the best thing he could ever do! Pick up one of the dead SSI's katanas and FIGHT her!

The Kid's mother stepped up into the truck and the duel began!

Pororo had NO experience in sword fighting but I guess by luck he was blocking every attack! He was just waving it around but every attack The Kid's mother tried to do was a FAIL!

From a distance, The Sanrio gang who were on two different trucks alongside Luffy were looking at the duel and were cheering for him!

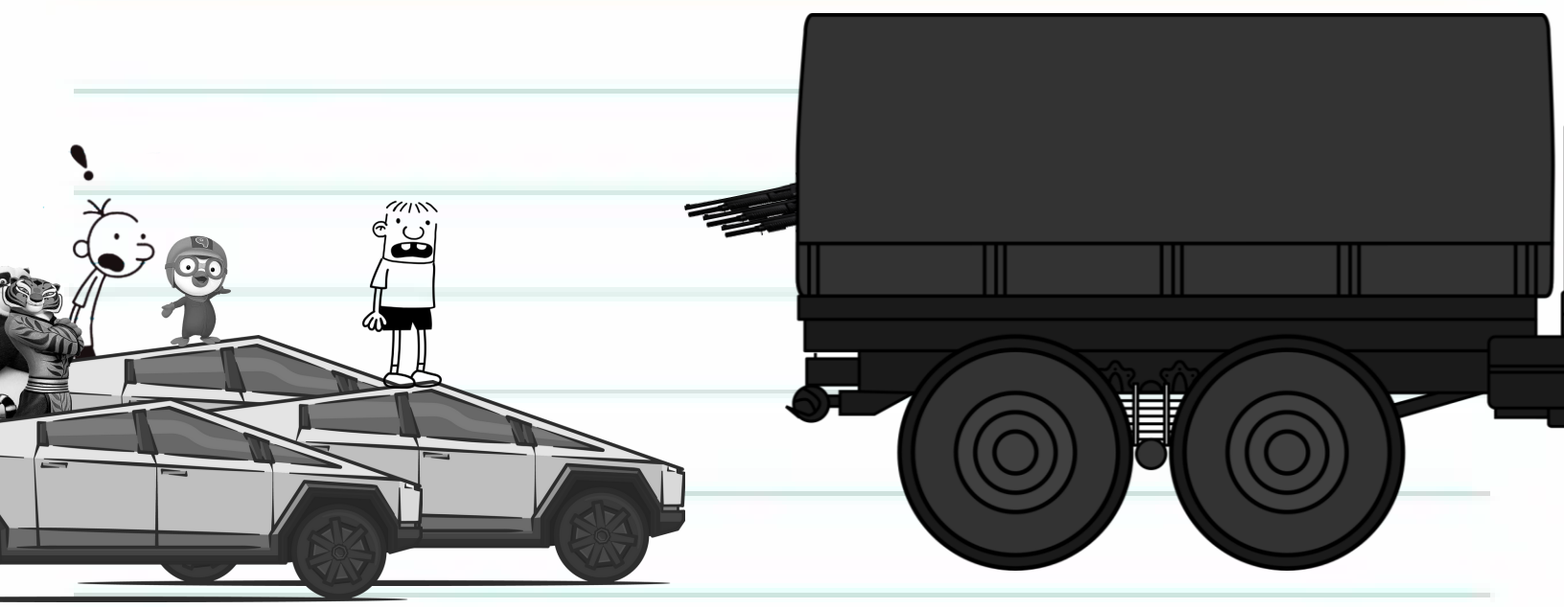


But after a while, Pororo got pretty worn out and was KNOCKED OUT!!! Luckily not dead...

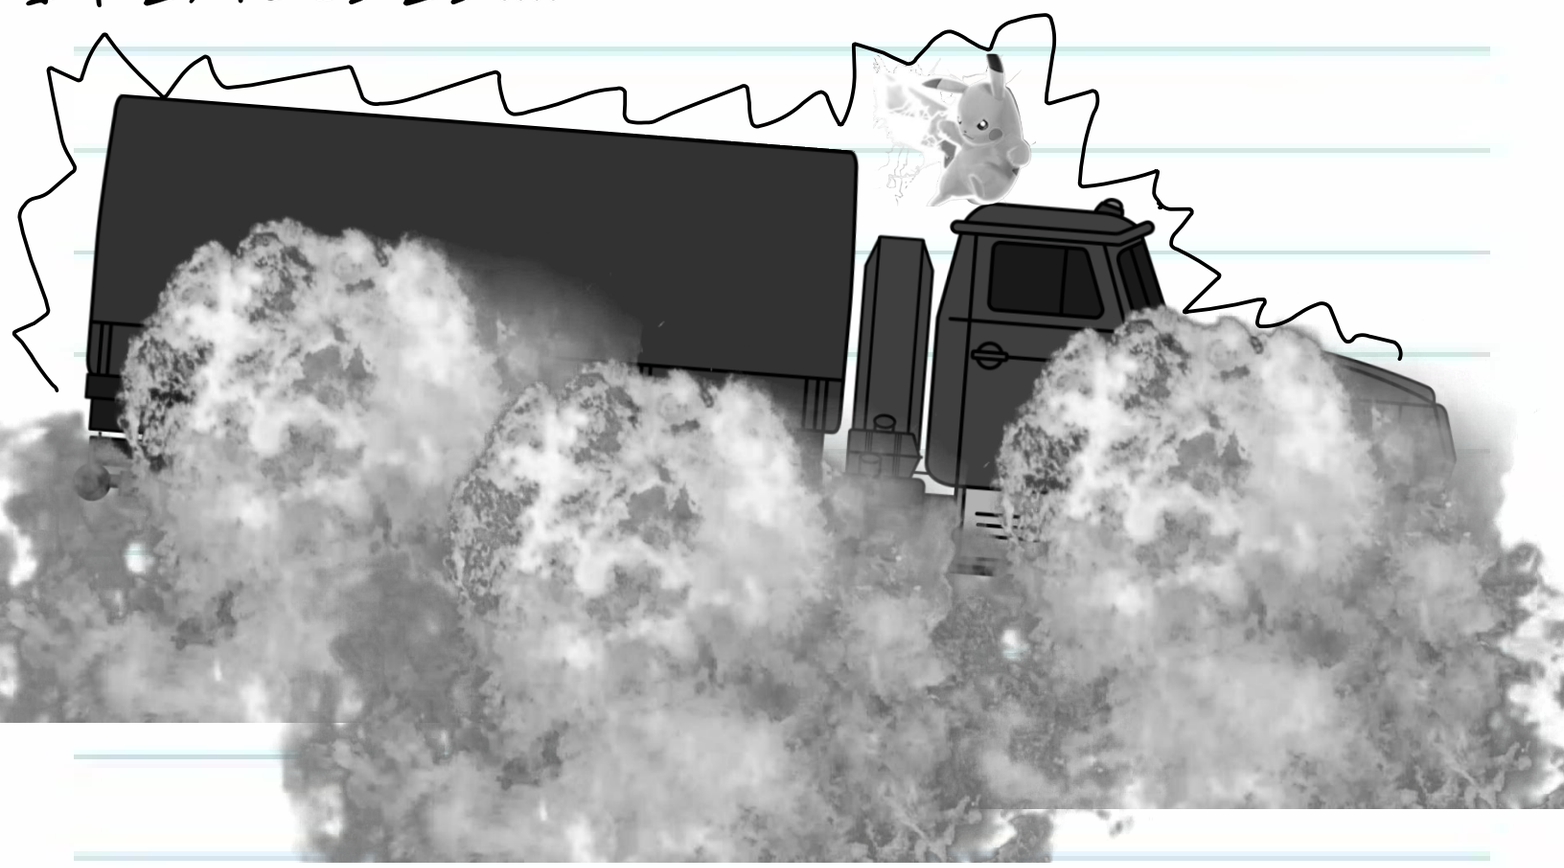
But it wouldn't be until he would be... The Kid's mother was about STAB him, so I jumped out of the truck I chimed in!

I blocked The Kid's mother's attack and told Pororo to throw the Skull to Rowley. Pororo nodded and threw it Rowley who was doing his best to DEFEND! Everyday I learn more about this kid.

The Kid's mother left the truck and jumped onto the Mercedes Benz. I thought we won, turns out that there was a final truck with SOLDIERS in it, 6 lined up and they had those Echo-9s!



But before anything bad could happen, Pikachu ELECTROCUTED THE ENTIRE TRUCK AND IT EXPLODED!!!!

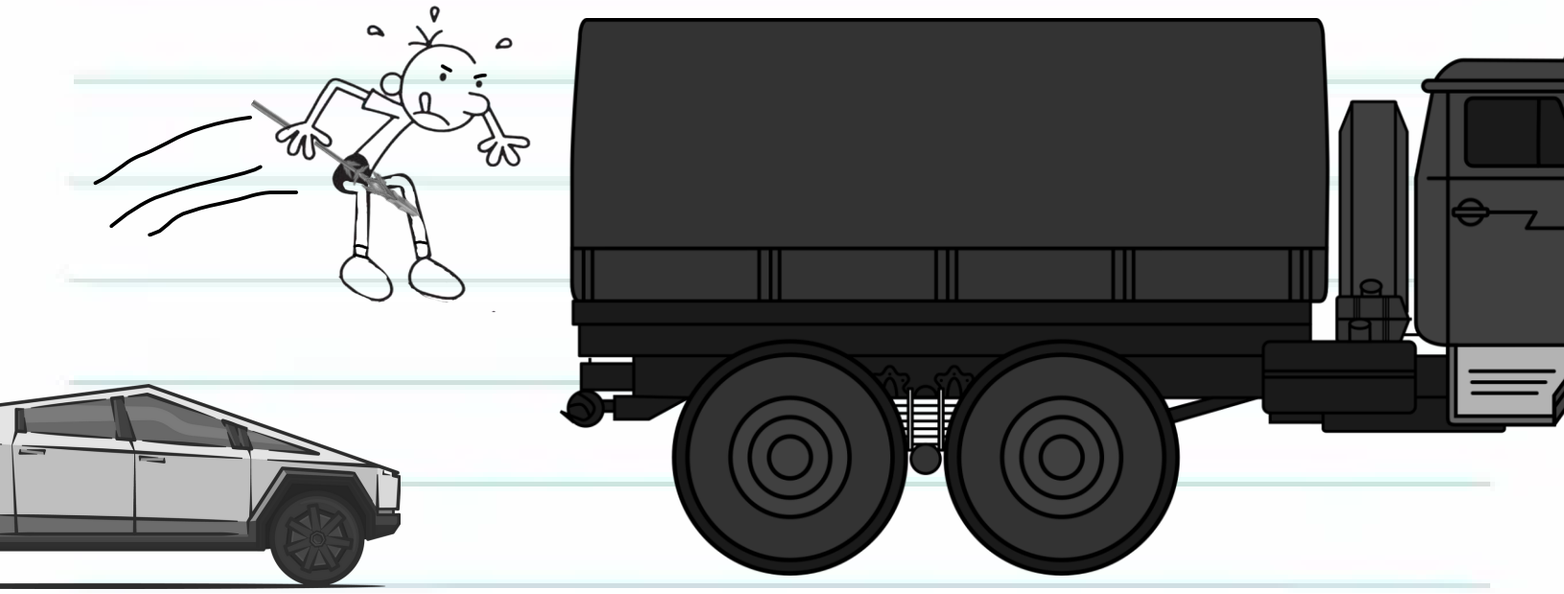


Pikachu and Holly jumped out from the truck and jumped to the truck I was in!

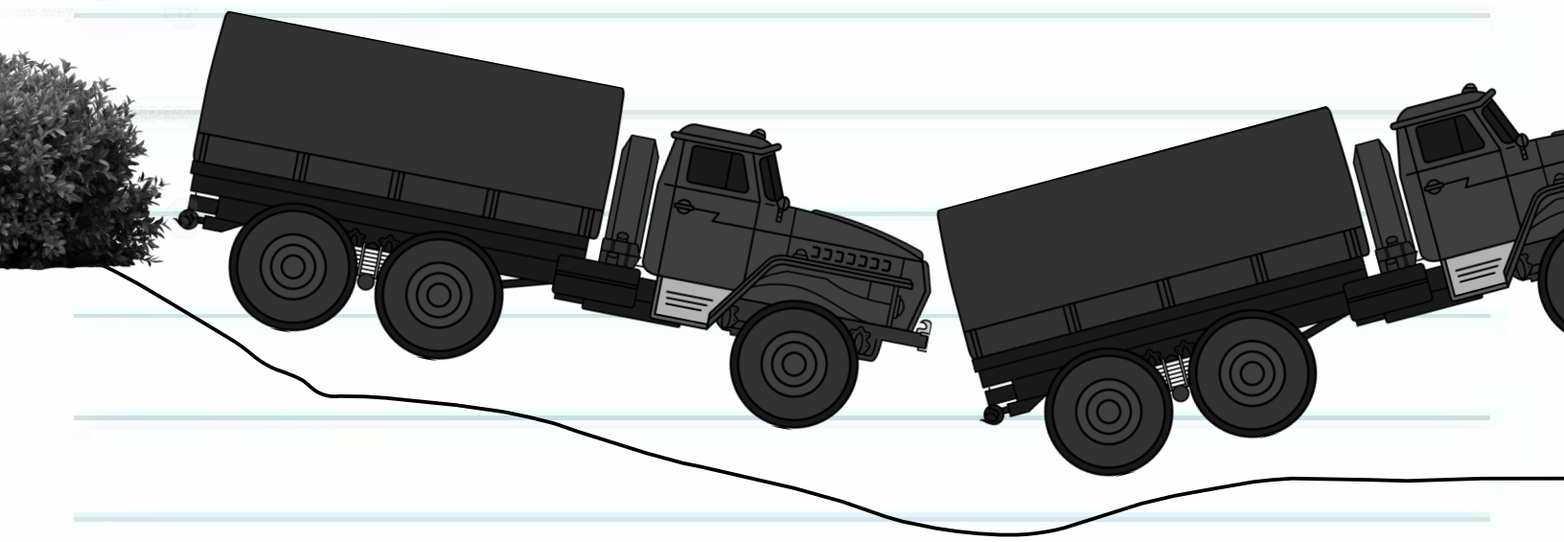
Holly asked if I was ok, and I asked the same, and we just kissed! As explosions erupted around us

Pikachu even greeted both me and Pororo and I gave him some love as a sign of gratefulness for saving us by letting him sit on my side!

Just then, Rodrick and Frank in the military trucks came up and they told us to enter! So we did! One by one, all of my crew jumped into the truck. I was the last one to jump for I was bit afraid of falling. But I did jump and entered



We were all cheering, but that took it's toll for both FRANK AND RODRICK FORGOT THAT THEY WERE DRIVING! We then CRASHED INTO SOME BUSHES AND MADE A ROUGH LANDING ONTO A BARREN SAND AREA!

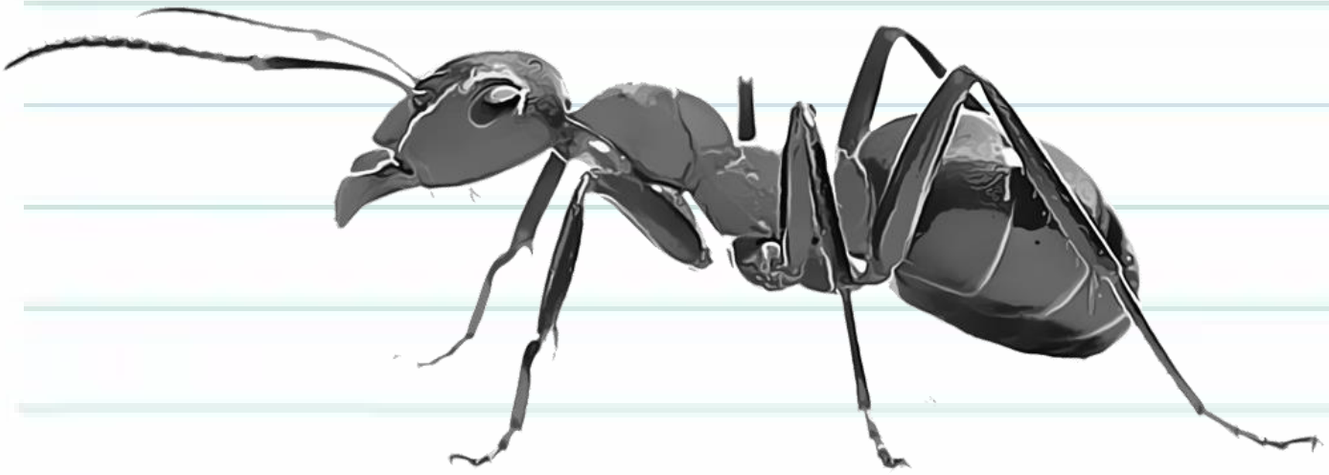


The crash startled us but luckily we weren't hurt... We got out and took a fresh breath of freedom.

Unfortunately, it wasn't long lasting for the Mercedes Benz where The Kid was in, crashed in as well!

Chapter 9

Iridomyrmex Purpureus



We got out of our trucks pretty startled. I looked at the car The Kid and his family was in. They too looked pretty startled.

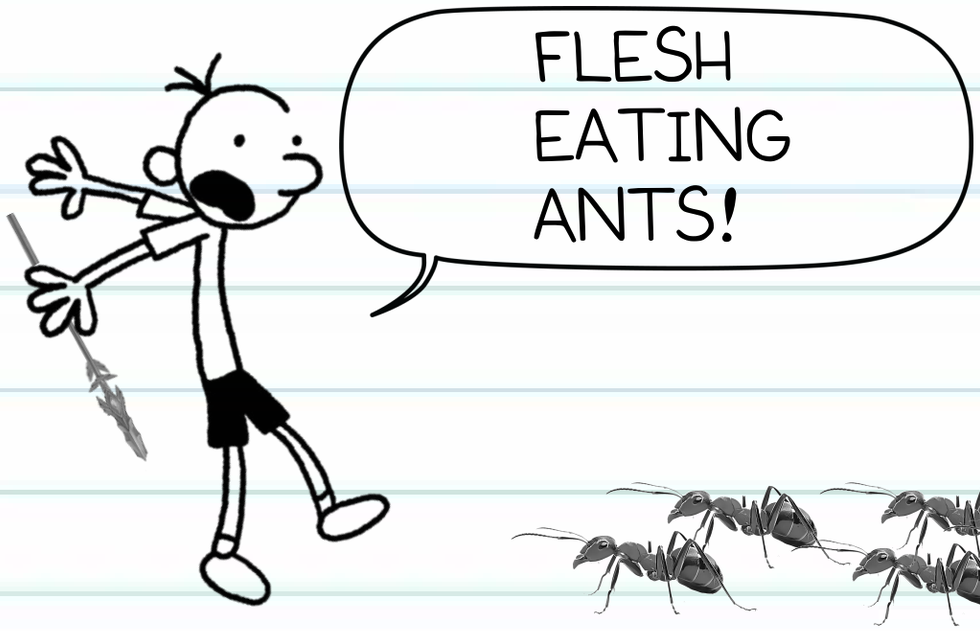
We were looking around trying to figure out where were we. Then I saw again The Kid, his family, Kuromi, Death the Wolf, and the Driver begin to hold their laughs!

We turned around and we saw that WE FORGOT TO TAKE CARE ABOUT FLIPPY!

He looked mad! Like REALLY mad like... ready to SLAUGHTER US mad like in the show!

He was about to pounce until Kuromi felt something tickling her arm. She then saw that an ANT was crawling up. It then bit her like really hard, she then killed it and then saw that one HALF of the barren sand area that we were in was INFESTED WITH ANTS!

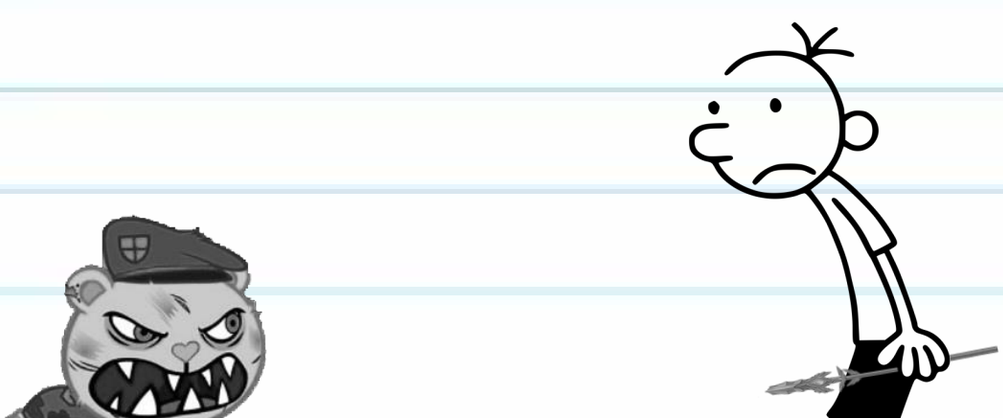
"Iridomyrmex Purpureus..." I muttered. Holly then asked what I meant. I then said:



We all FREAKED OUT and began to run back to the trucks! The ants were getting closer and they didn't look like normal ants!, they were ¼ the size of your palm, it could cover three of your fingers!

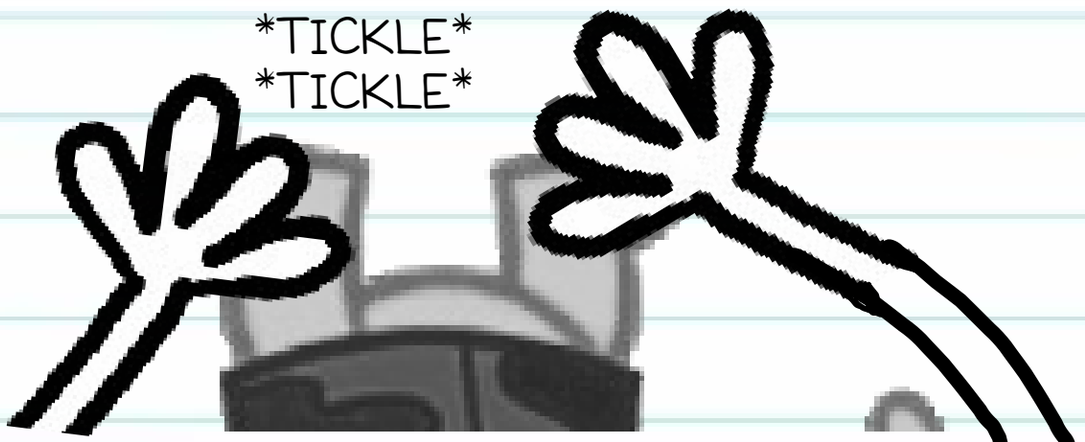
They were getting closer, luckily Pochacco got some ant exterminator out of his pocket to buy us some time!

Everyone except for me, Pororo, and Pikachu were in the trucks all safe and sound (well for now)... We couldn't come for Flippy was ready for a fight!



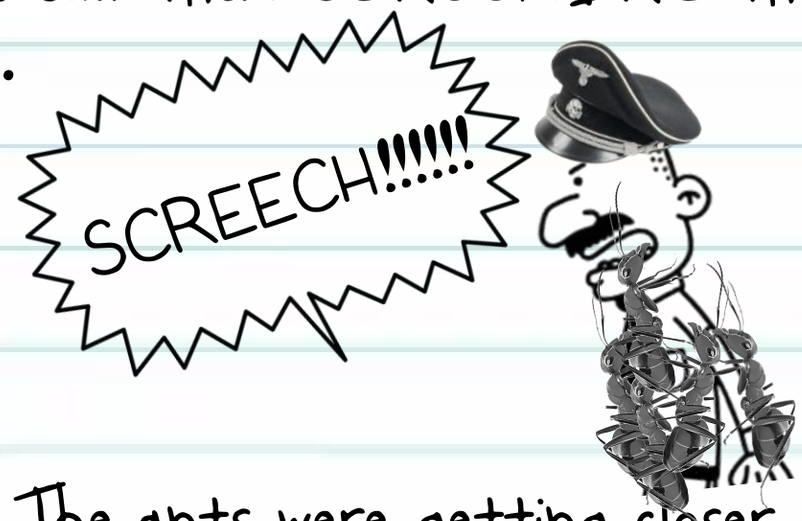
Flippy was pretty small so the fight mainly went from kicking him so that he doesn't come closer! But it didn't last for HE BIT MY LEG!

Pikachu then did his attack and electrocuted us! Luckily I wasn't that affected and I then grabbed Flippy by the leg and begin tickling his feet so that he could calm down...

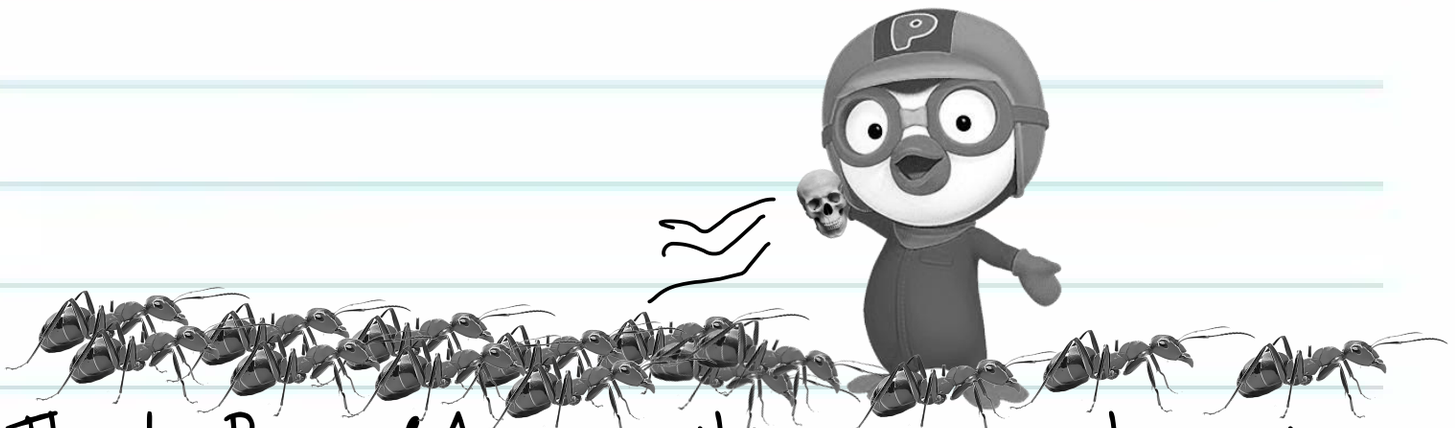


It worked for a minute, but he somehow got free and then KICKED me in the face!

I fell and saw that the ants were getting closer! And to show how DANGEROUS these ants were, I also saw them CONSUMING the driver of The Kid's car.



The ants were getting closer and I already knew I was DONE for so I accepted my fate... till I saw Pororo standing in front of me with the Skull and the ants began to split and made a circle around us like an ARENA!



Thanks Pororo! Anyways this gave me a chance to finish off Flippy. Flippy was ready to kill me and he LUNGED onto me! He was now on my face but luckily Pikachu gave me a small rotten log and I BASHED it onto his head!

I kicked him two times but then I was about to kick him for a third time, but he was just standing there, not even blinking...

Then he fell down and LANDED ONTO THE ANTS!

I REGRET DRAWING THIS...

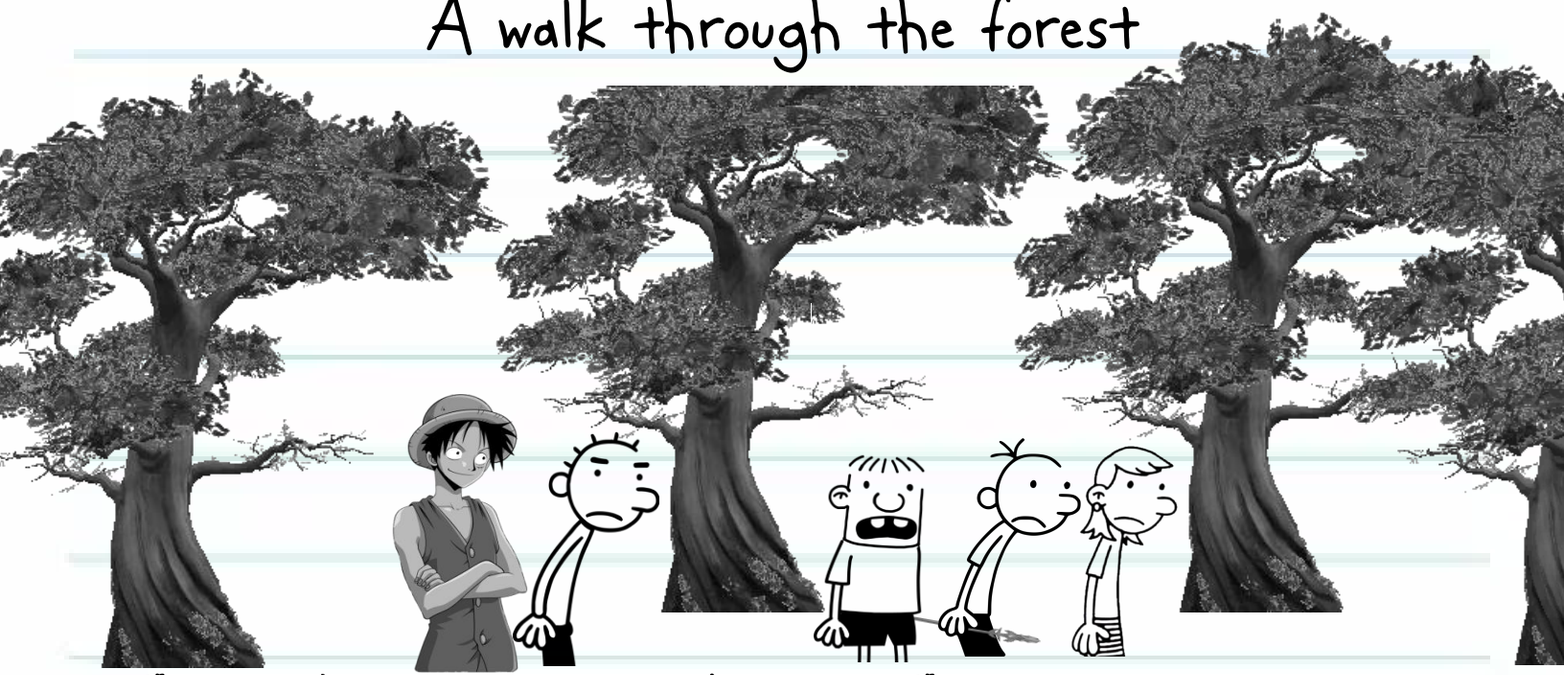
From there I could say it was pretty brutal, the ants covered his whole body and I could see how all the ants then returned to their ant-holes with the body of Flippy! Poor guy, welp... that's what happens when you join the wrong people and I don't think the resurrection function that all Happy Tree Friends characters have won't work on him because, you know the ants consumed EVERYTHING...

One of the trucks which my crew was in drove to us and said to get in! We did that because well, The Kid, his family, Kuromi, and Death were still there and we DID NOT WANT TO GET INTO ANOTHER FIGHT! So we drove off...

We then saw that we were getting closer to a small cliff just like last time. We all took cover as the trucks crashed again. Luckily we weren't killed like last time but the trucks were totaled so we had to WALK. Thank god that we finally got the whole Spear of Power and everyone is not hurt...

Chapter 10

A walk through the forest

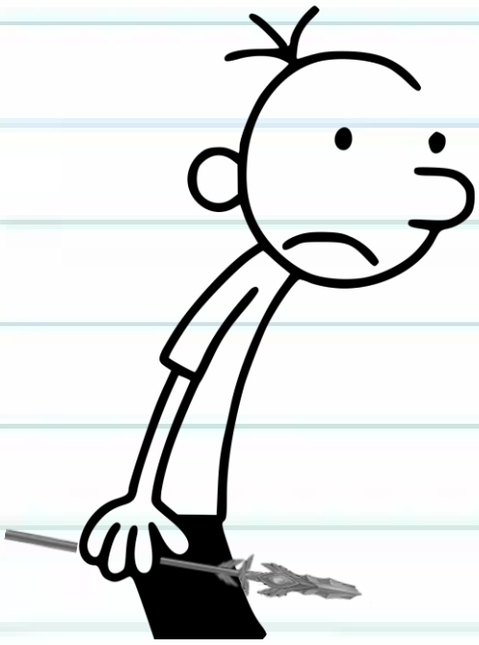


The walk was pretty chill... There was not really much to say, there was a lot of trees and we weren't being chased by MANIACS!

I was beside Holly who was pretty shook up and a bit tense... but she was happy that I was beside her, man! How things change, one day she thinks I'm Fregely, another day she dumps me for a sigma and another day she kisses me TWICE!

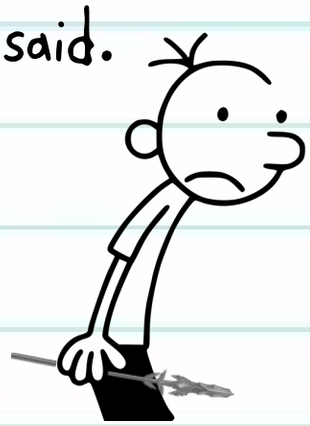
But there were a few things that didn't click to me. First off, how did the Spearites even know about me and Holly and even brought Her and Heather who's know well... gone... also I also wondered how this whole blip thing reacted to the crossovers.

So I first asked Holly what happened before she met me here. She then said that she was ACTUALLY in this resort and that the Spearites came up to her and told her about this situation of me until placing a sack on her head with no purpose what-so-ever. Then she said that she then only remembered waking up to the jungle.



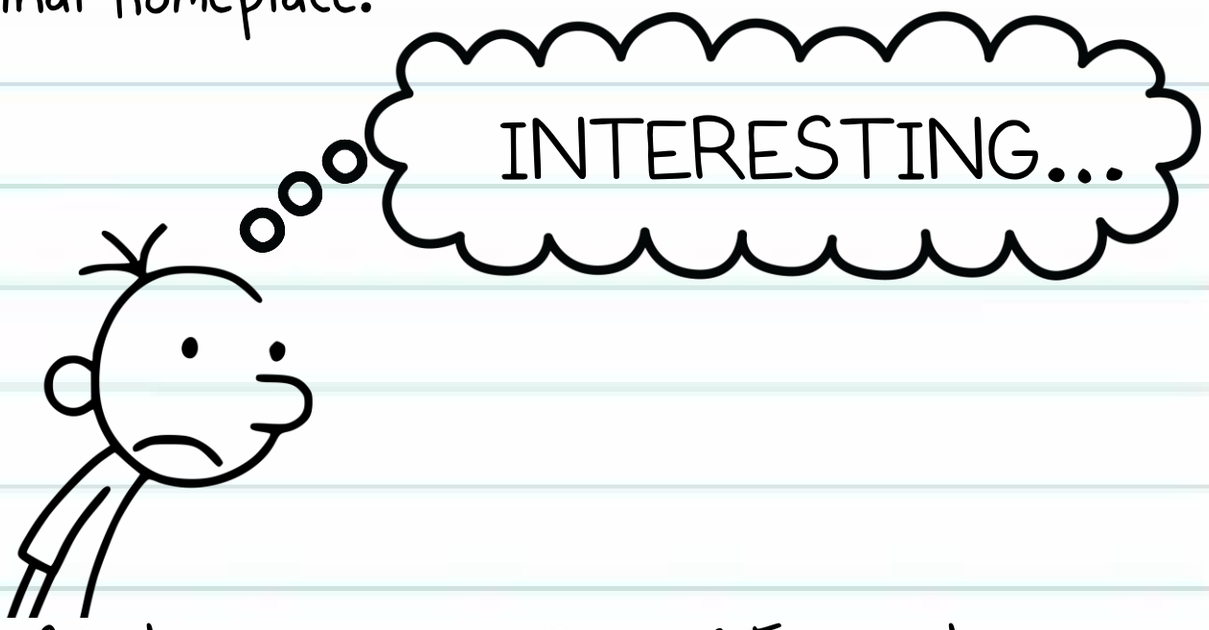
I then went to the crossovers and asked them about the blip they had. Each had their versions of the story.

Pororo said that he was enjoying his time with his friends in Porong Porong Village and then they seemed to just appear in this island. "It didn't feel like that I just fell down to this world, but as if I was copied and pasted... One me still lives in the village and this me lives here." He said.

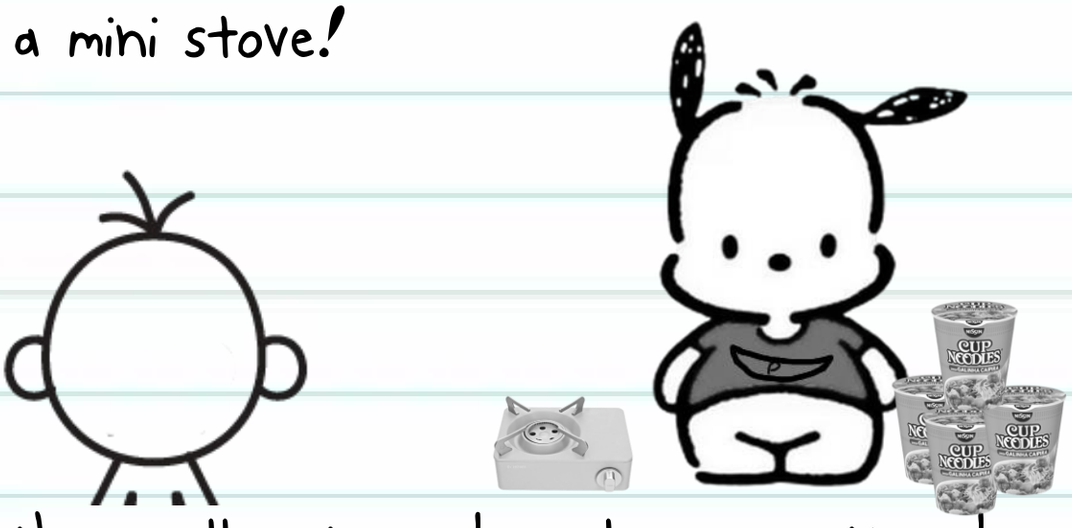


The others gave out similar stories about their experience (All of the Sanrio gang remembered doing... well Sanrio things, Po and the Furious Five were fighting bandits, Luffy was with his crew searching the One Piece, Pikachu remembered being with Ash and Puss remembered being in Far, Far Away meeting up with Shrek); and then being "copied and pasted" to this world.

They all said they don't know why, and they have NO interest in fixing things for they felt as if they were in home. And the fact that no one was missing in their original homeplace.



We all felt hungry, especially me! I came here to RELAX (and also search for The Spear of Power not knowing it would be THIS extreme). Luckily, Pochacco also felt hungry so he said that we should all take a rest and eat something. He took out some ready to make foods like instant ramen and stuff like that out of his pouch and a mini stove!



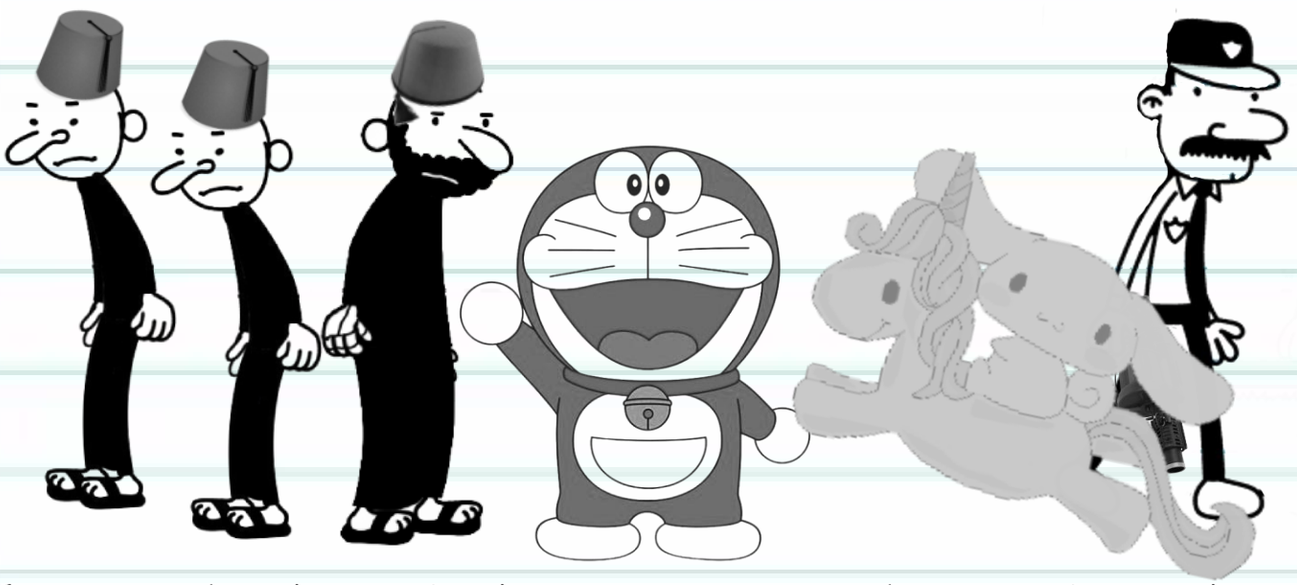
After the small yet good meal, we continued walking. While we were walking, I was wondering many things. First off, what the hell will I now do with The Spear... I still haven't placed the head yet so... I'm gonna do that first.

I placed the Skull right beside The Spear and what do you know, it CLICKED right in!

Now with that, I wondered what I'm gonna do with it... Maybe involve the GOVERNMENT into this? And another point, what's going to happen to all of those dead crossovers! Their fans are waiting to see them! But it wasn't time to think stupid things for now we now ran into some UNEXPECTED PEOPLE!

Chapter 11

The meetup



It was Arieh and the Spearites! Alongside with them was the Isla Paradiso guards all in their blue uniforms, ANOTHER Sanrio character (Cinnamoroll and Milk on top of a UNICORN!). And Doraemon...

Honestly that just blew me and I walked up to Doraemon to explain this WHOLE FIASCO! "WHY ARE YOU HERE? DON'T YOU HAVE FANS WAITING FOR YOU?"

Doraemon told me to relax and the went on to explain how crossovers work here.

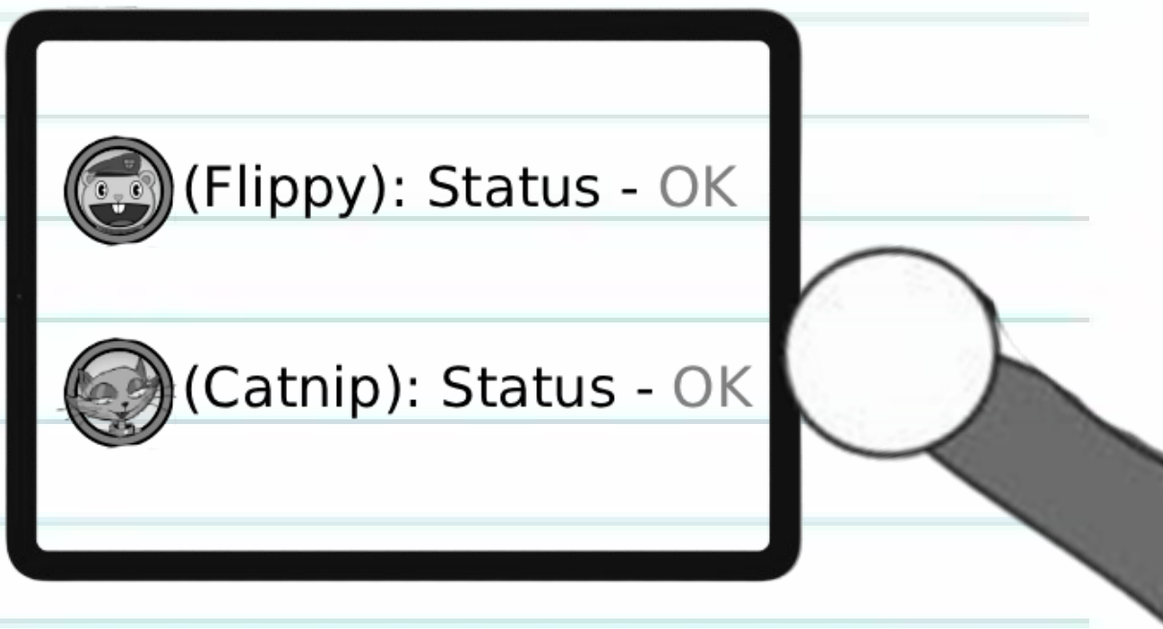
"You know, I am a gadget cat and have a wide storage of items from 2112. Anyways I have this device that's called Otoko no kopi-ki or Kopi." He said

He then showed me this small device shaped as a circle, all metallic and shiny.

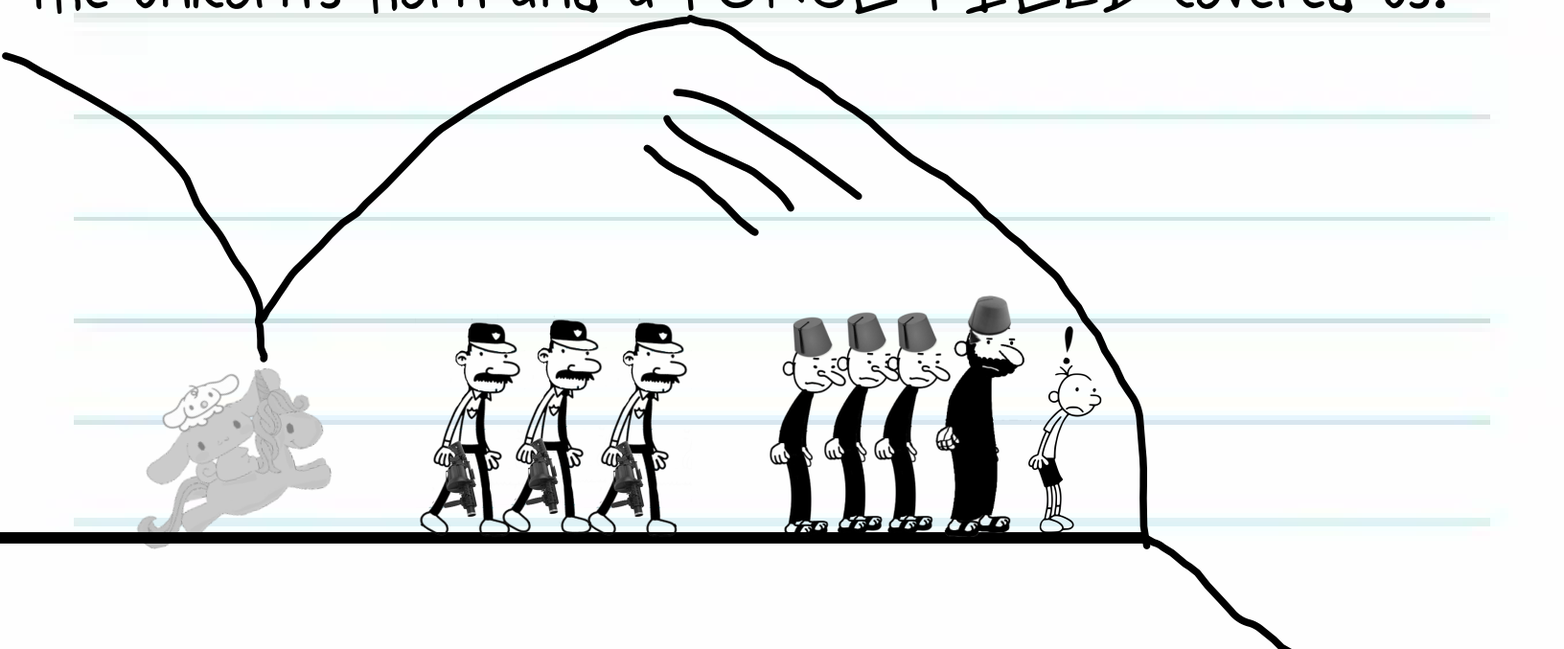
"To use it, you click on the button on top and it'll create a clone of yourself; and the best part is that when you die, the crossover's soul transfers to the clone, with all the thoughts and ideas the original one had!"

"Sadly, it doesn't work on humans... yet! We're working on human working version of the Kopi." He said.

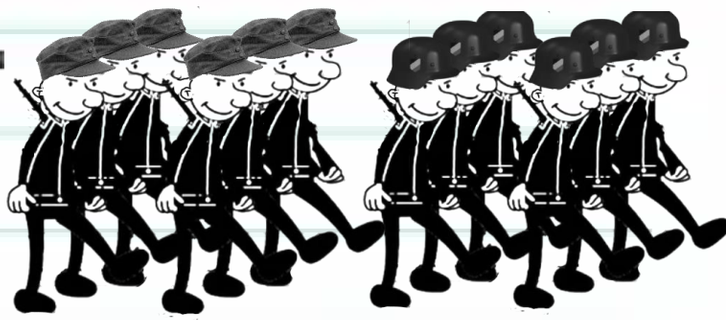
He then showed me a tablet and it showed all of the data from the crossovers, so turns out that Catnip and Flippy are alright and all my crossover gang are presumably in resort boundaries! That way we can leave and participate in things that requires us to be not present for a long time!



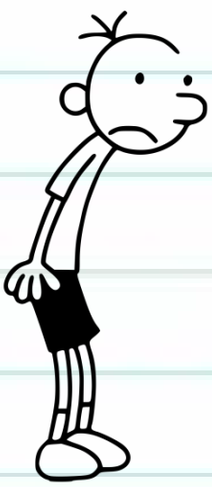
As he finished, I heard Arieh say something. "Look over there!" He said. Everyone ran to him and got their weapons ready. The guards had grenade launchers and the Spearites had their old rifles. Cinnamoroll touched the unicorn's horn and a FORCE FIELD covered us!

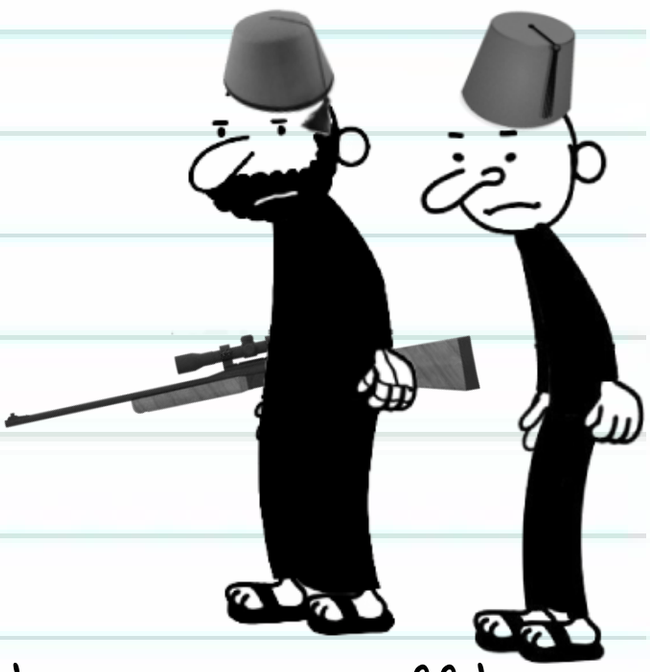


Pochacco got out some binoculars out of his pouch and saw what was happening. We were on a small cliff and under us was a sandy road and on it was a TANK, two normal military tucks, ten cyber trucks and the car The Kid was in. Alongside some soldiers marching beside them.



Arieh said that this was time to finish it all! And gave out a plan. Me and my crew would go down and "talk" with The Kid and his men, and then, at one point he, The Spearites and the Isla Paradiso guards will STRIKE.





Cinnamoroll, with Milk on a harness, got off his unicorn and walked up to the Sanrio gang, he told him that he was worried where they were and was now happy to see them again. He said good luck to them and that whatever happens, he'll be for us! This goes for the rest of us! That's nice...

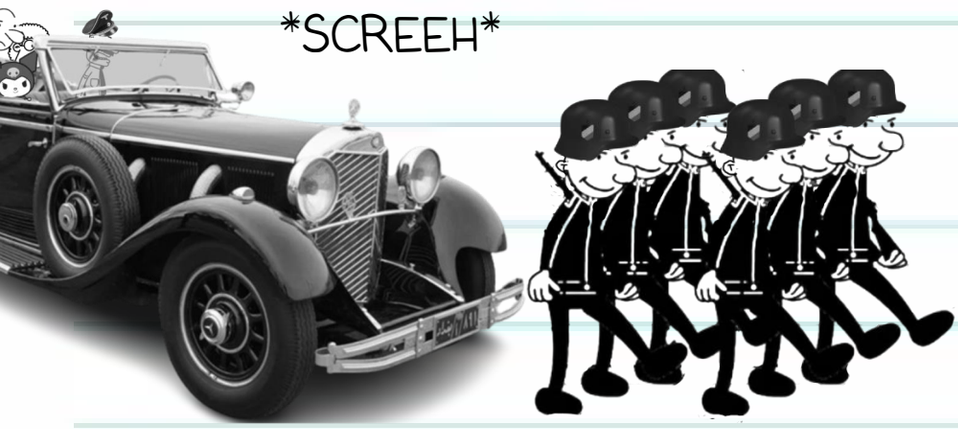
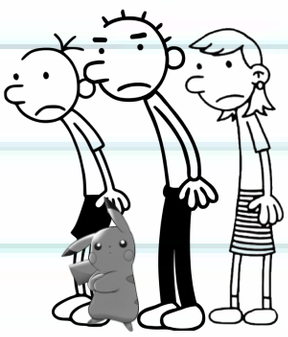
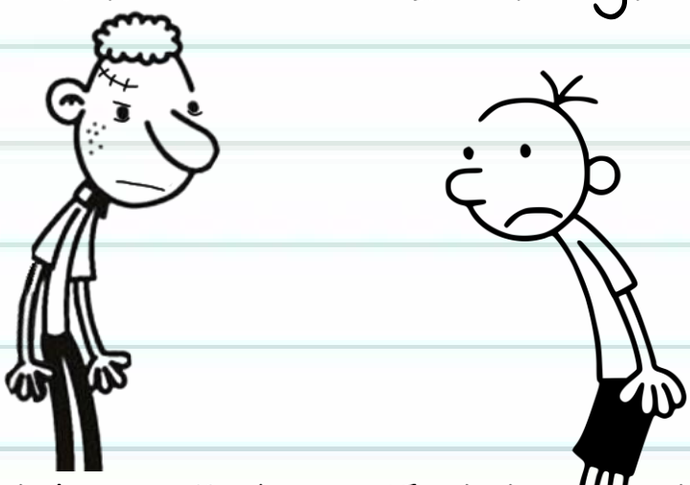
We nodded to each other and jumped from the cliff except for Frank (which wasn't deadly for it wasn't that steep). The Kid saw me and told everyone to stop.

SCREEH



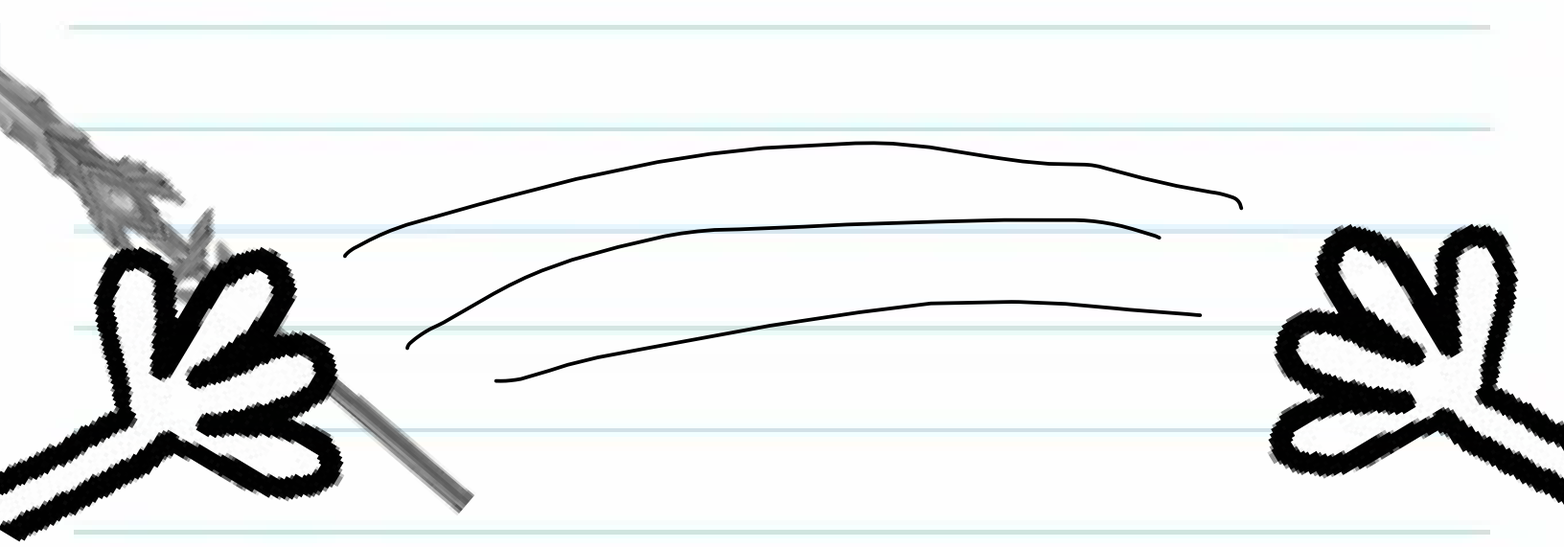


He got out and said, "Well, well, well... well it isn't Greg Heffley and his cronies! I thought you died there with Flippy!"



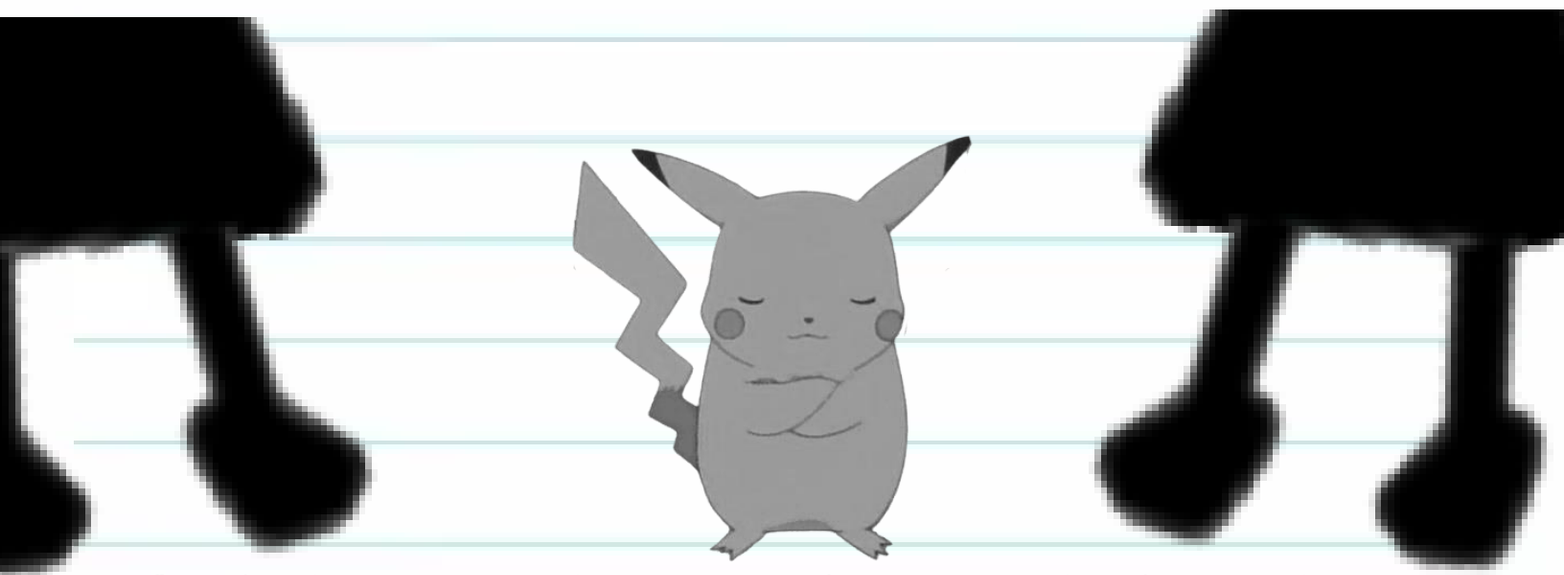
I then told him, "Well, I did not die there... But I do have something for you..."

I then gave The Spear to him.



He smiled and said, "Why thank you... It took so long for you to give it to me." Everyone around me was shocked for I gave The Spear and it wasn't part of the plan.

I then whispered to Pikachu that as soon as the turns around, he runs to The Kid and shock them so that the ambush can start. Pikachu nodded.

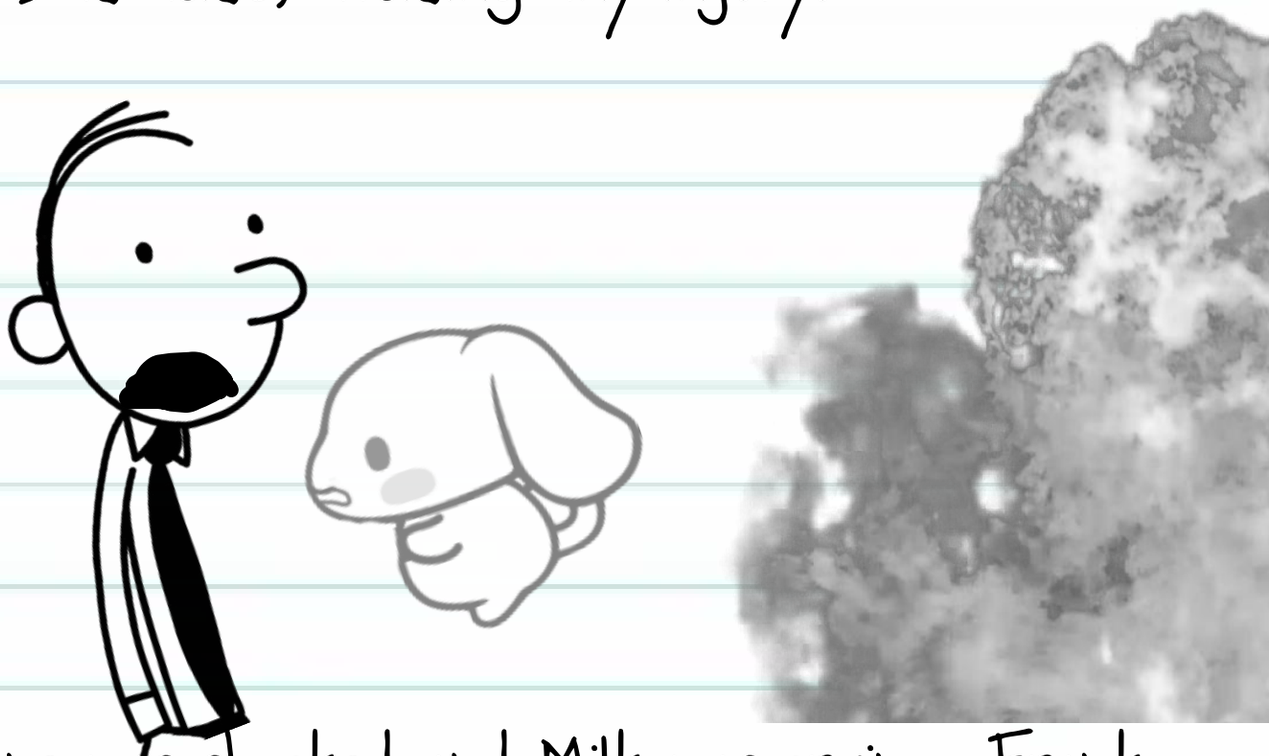


The Kid continued, "so yeah... we don't need you anymore." and then ordered that they SHOOT us with the Echo-9 guns. I smirked for Pikachu already got behind the soldiers.

The Kid, then went back to the car and told Death who was in the tank to shoot at that cliff!

Death the Wolf nodded and told the men to blast them.

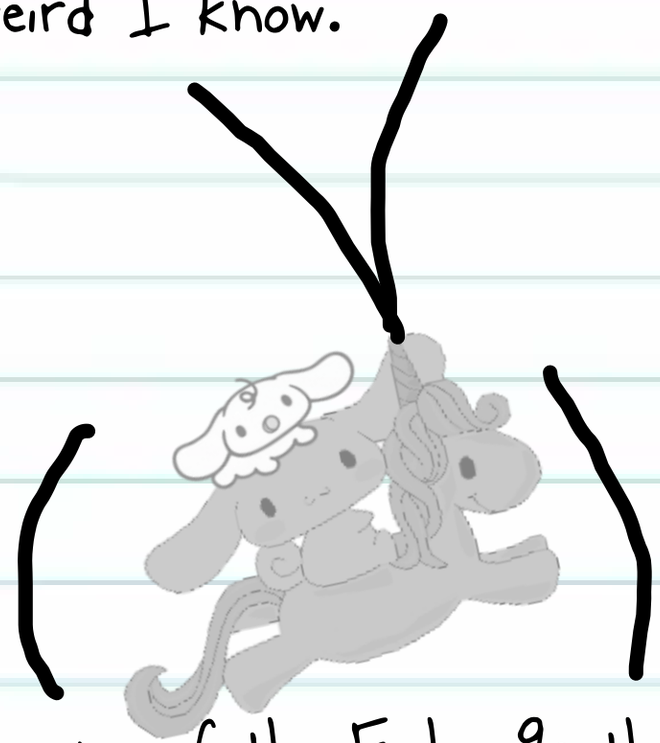
Turns out that Cinna was not on the unicorn so the force field was off. The tank's shell flew to the place where Frank was standing. Cinnamoroll remembered and pushed my Dad aside, avoiding any injury!



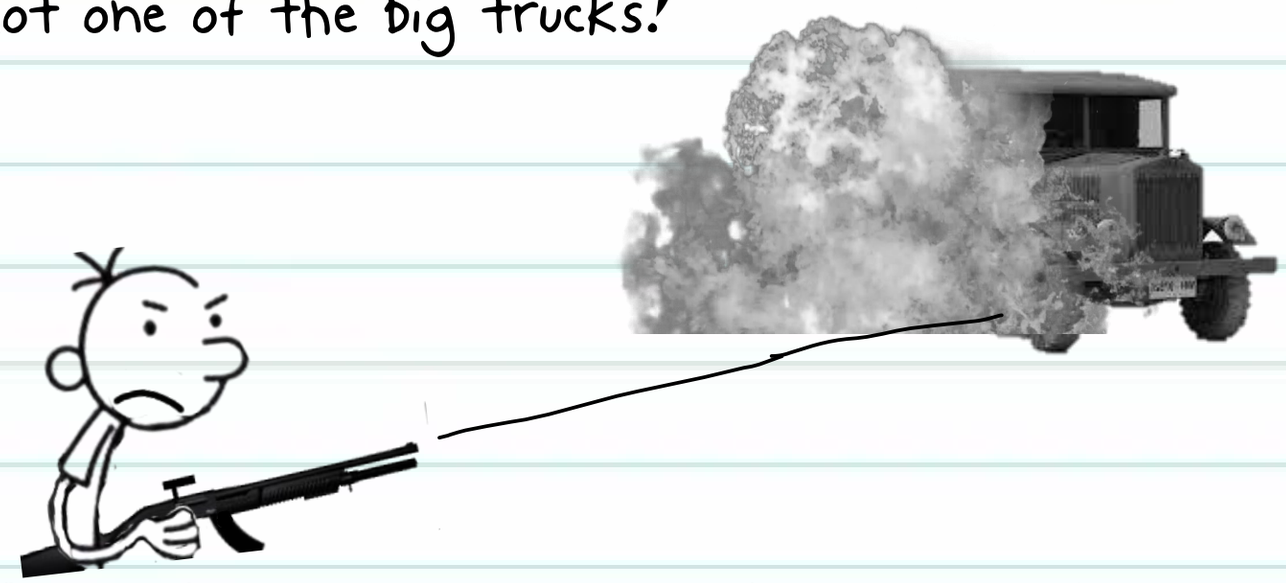
Everyone was shocked and Milk was crying, Frank looked at Cinna and hugged him and said thanks. Man never knew that my dad could have nice heart!

Anyways, The Kid smirked and said, "Don't you worry, I'm gonna make sure I destroy the Kopis you filthy crossovers!" Many SSI soldiers were aiming at us so this was now our chance to STRIKE! I told Pikachu to do it NOW and he ELECTROCUTED them!

From there was a haze, The Spearites jumped from their hiding place, butchering the soldiers. The Isla Paradiso guards shot their grenade launchers and Doraemon with his Air cannon gadget, destroying various cybertrucks! Luckily for them, Cinna and Milk were back on the Unicorn and the force field was back on! That just sounded weird I know.



I picked up one of the Echo-9s that were lying and I shot one of the big trucks!



Then, I went up to one of the cybertrucks, turned it on and placed the auto drive function via pin pointing it on the tank. The truck began moving by itself and I found an Uzi and began shooting at the soldiers running towards me!

Everyone else saw what I was doing and too entered into the abandoned cybertrucks. Dad saw what was happening and jumped down from the cliff and climbed into the cyber truck. This was now the beginning of the tank chase.

Chapter 12

The tank chase

The truck was getting faster and faster. Gunshots whizzed over my head. I shot more and more at those soldiers till the Uzi had no more ammo.

I saw the two cybertrucks that were filled with my crewmates and I saw the tank, two cybertrucks filled with the Neo Nazis and the car which The Kid was on.

I looked through the screen of the tesla and saw that there were more functions including rocket missiles, pop out machine gun and more (including the pin pointing on a vehicle).

I looked at the surroundings which was the sandy road with one side being all jungle trees and another the same cliff which we were in (it wasn't only one part but it was a whole LINE.!)

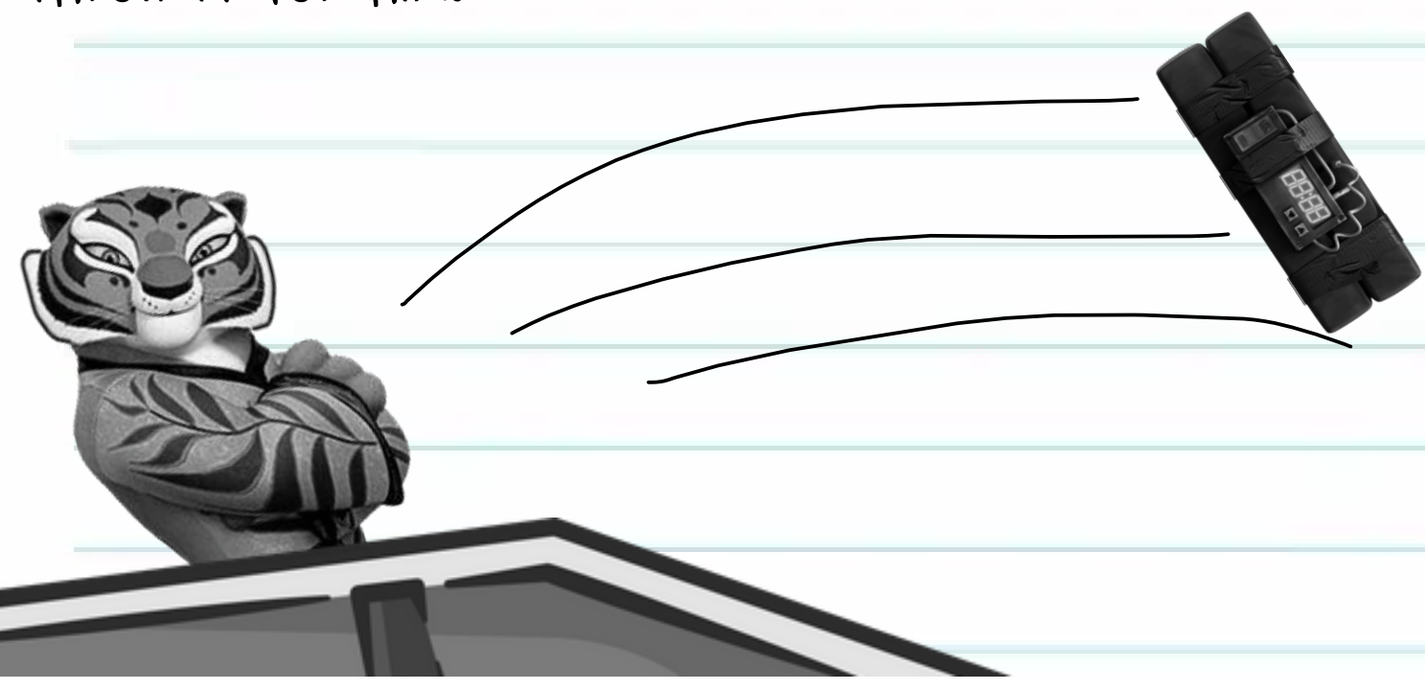
Death the Wolf saw me and told the SSI in the cybertrucks to KILL me!

The teslas did a swerve and began DRIVING TOWARDS ME!

I panicked for I didn't know what I should DO!

Rowley who was in another truck saw me from afar and said that I was in trouble. Frank, who was driving the truck said that were some C4 bombs and told him to throw it.

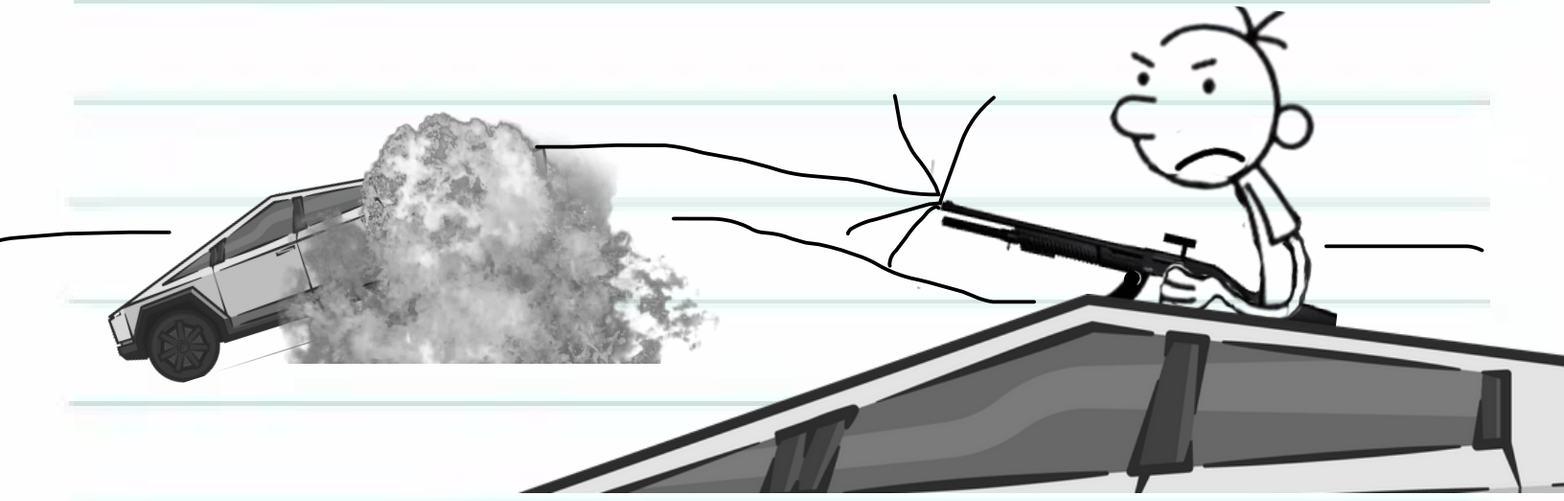
He was hesitant for he didn't want to blow himself up but some how he got the courage and simply let Tigress throw it for him!



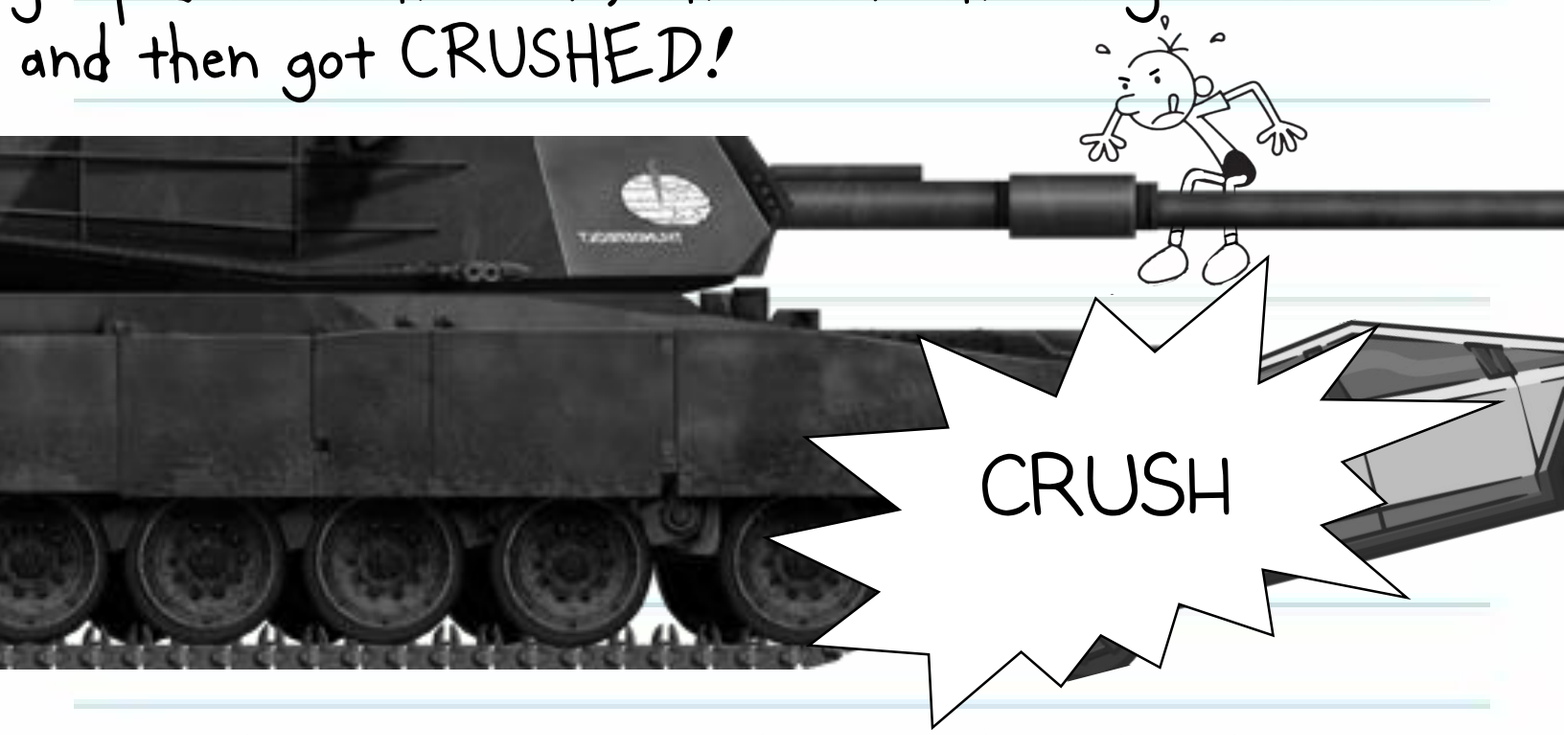
The C4 flew and it landed to where the first cyber truck filled with the SSI men and it EXPLODED at touchdown!

The truck flipped and it almost landed on ME! Luckily it did not...

I was getting closer to the tank as Death yelled at the soldiers from the other cybertrucks to shoot me. I got out the Echo-9 gun that was lying there was well and with one shot the truck burst into FLAMES!

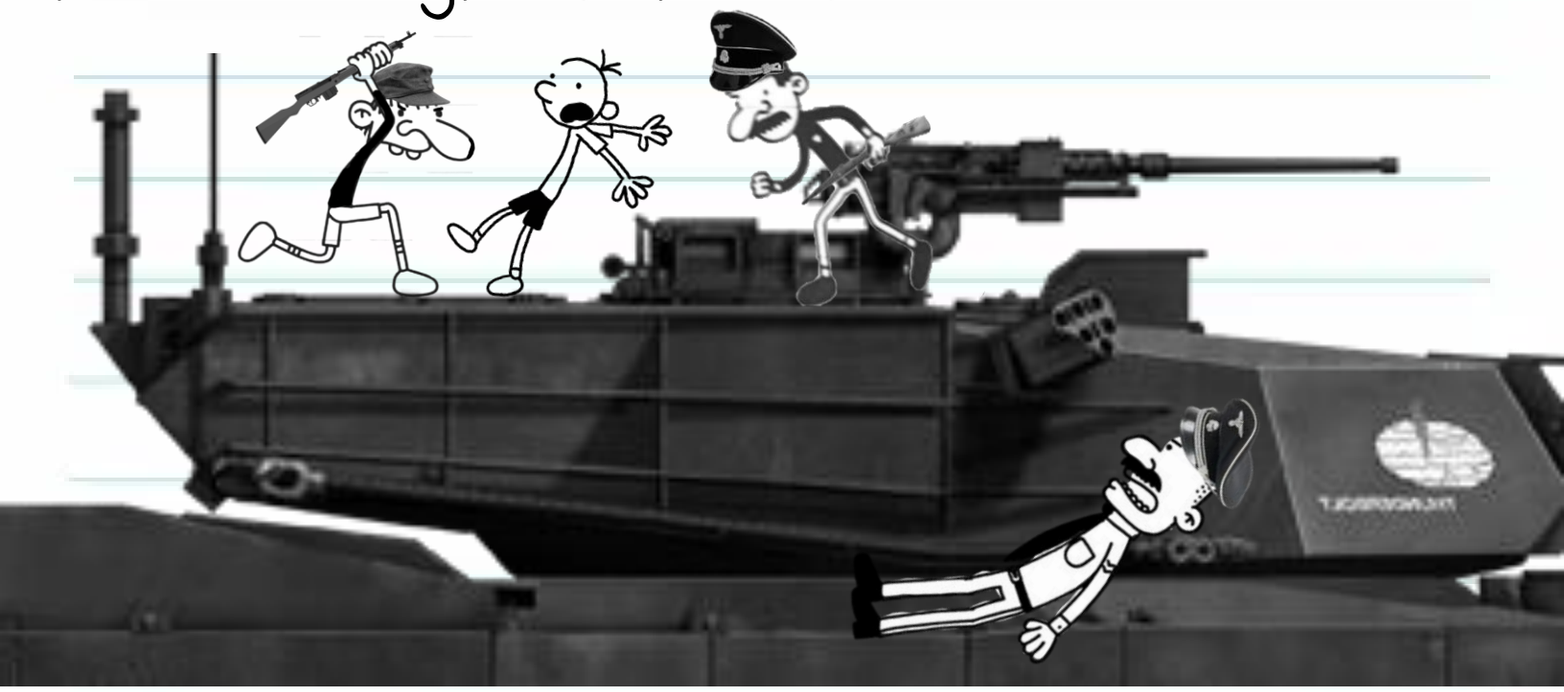


With those two trucks gone, I could now get onto the tank and confront Death... My truck was getting close to the front of the tank. I got out took a breath as the truck warned me to sit down. And I did it, I jumped onto the tank, the truck then began to slow and then got CRUSHED!

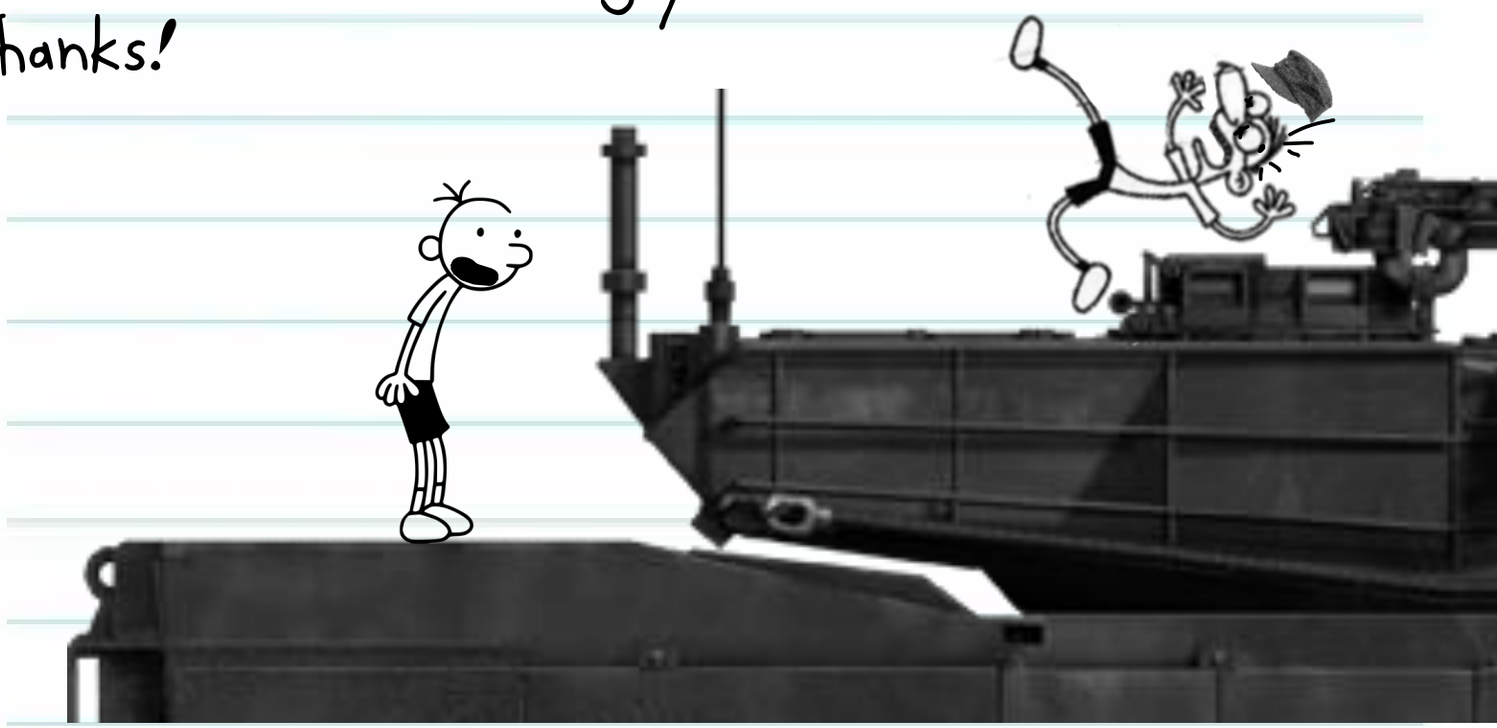


Death saw me and brought out three henchmen to kill me. I got out my Blade and stabbed the first one!

The second one tried to pushed me but I grabbed him and pushed him onto the tank's side where the wheels were. He screamed as he fell and he too got crushed by the immense weight of the tank.



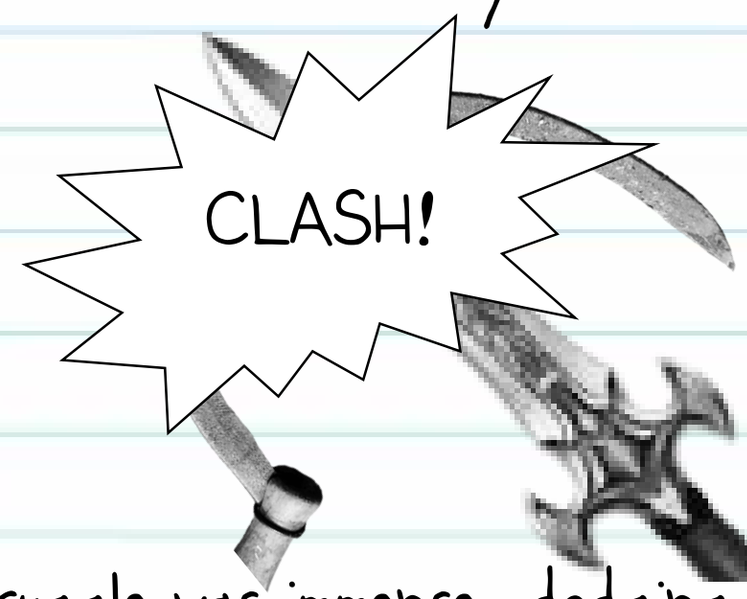
The third one tried to shoot me but luckily Rodrick from his truck shot the guy and he fell into the tank! Thanks!



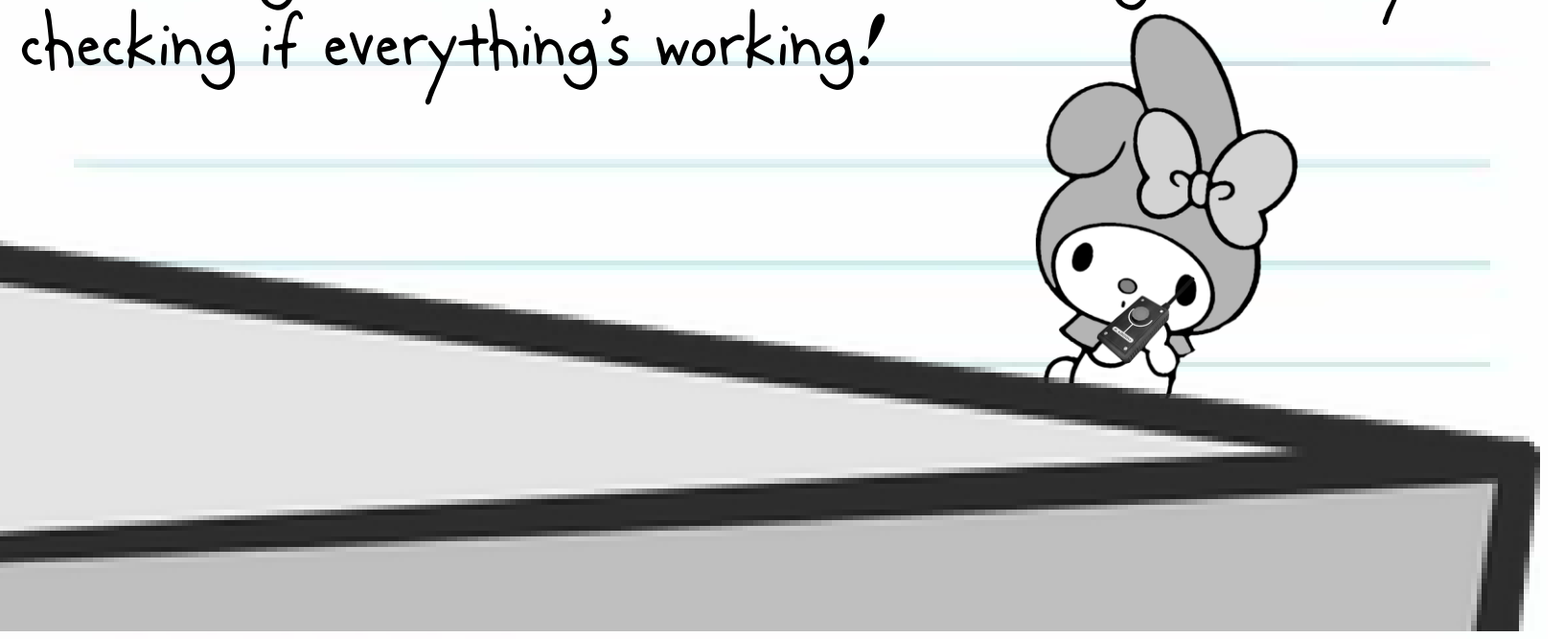
Meanwhile, my crew was making a plan to destroy this tank after the C4 incident. Everyone began gathering the bombs they found to stick it onto the tank.

Meanwhile I was face to face with Death. I already fought him. But this time, it was just him and me...

"You'll not win this time wimp!" He said as he got out his sickles and clashed with my Blade!

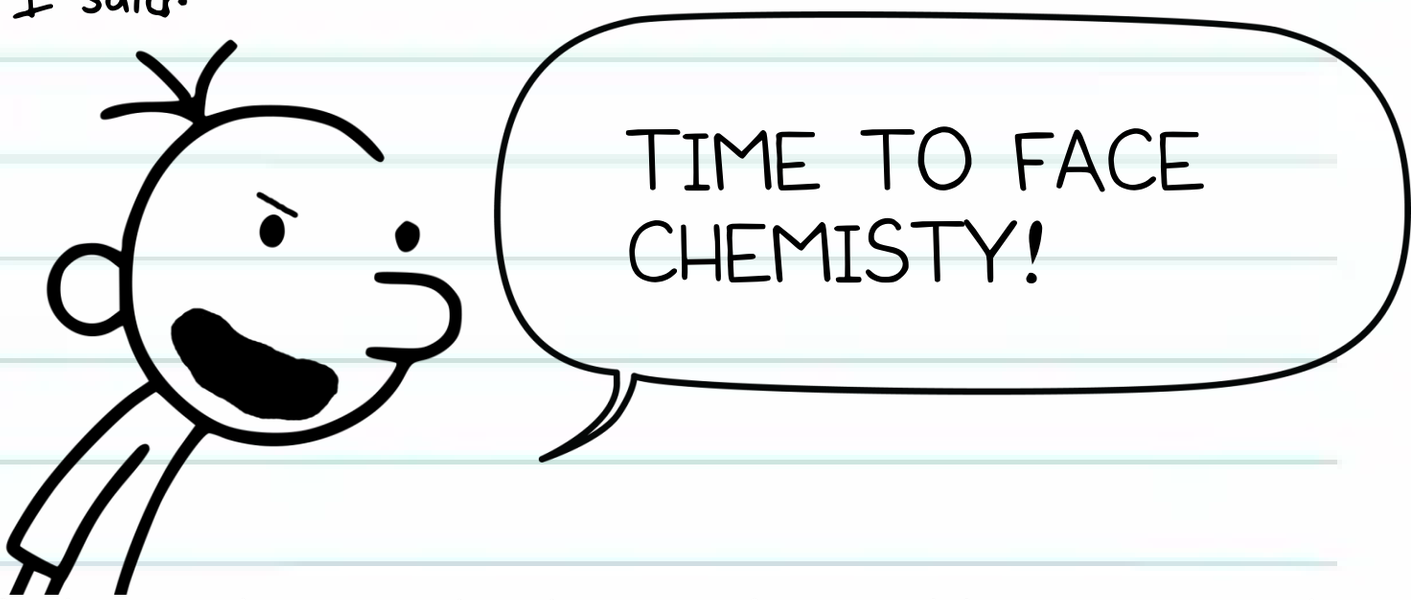


The struggle was immense, dodging and blocking every attack. As all of this happened, Everyone was placing the bombs onto the tank. My Melody had the objective on turning them all on for she has a thing for always checking if everything's working!



Luffy saw me and said CATCH and threw me a PIPE BOMB! I didn't know what to do until Death KICKED me!

I almost fell but I luckily I did not. However I was hurt. Death the Wolf grinned and told the soldiers to aim at the two trucks with my FRIENDS and FAMILY! "You see... wimps don't get happy endings, men do. I have the power over you. Time to face destiny" He said and was about to DECAPITATE ME until I said:

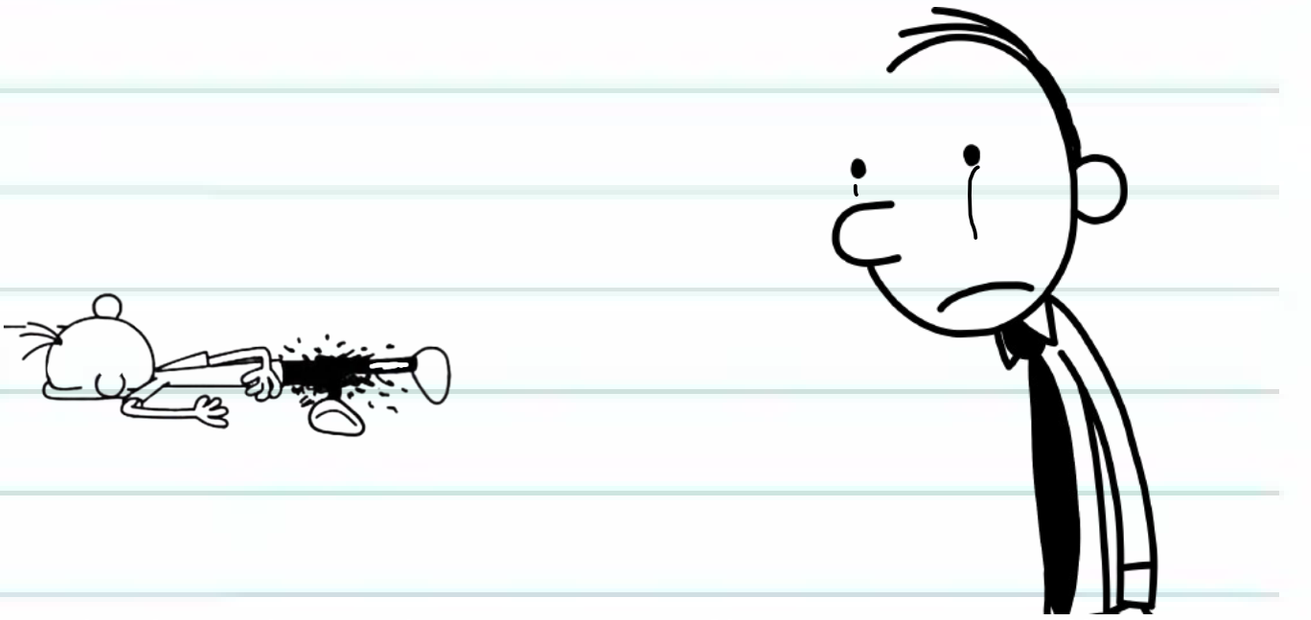


I threw the pipe bomb into the tank's interior and then kicked Death's nuts! I grabbed The Spear and said, "Well Death, you're going to meet your creator." as Frank gave the permission to Rodrick to turn on the bombs. The last thing I heard from Death before I jumped out of the tank was NOOOOOOOO!!!!!!! Then the tank exploded!

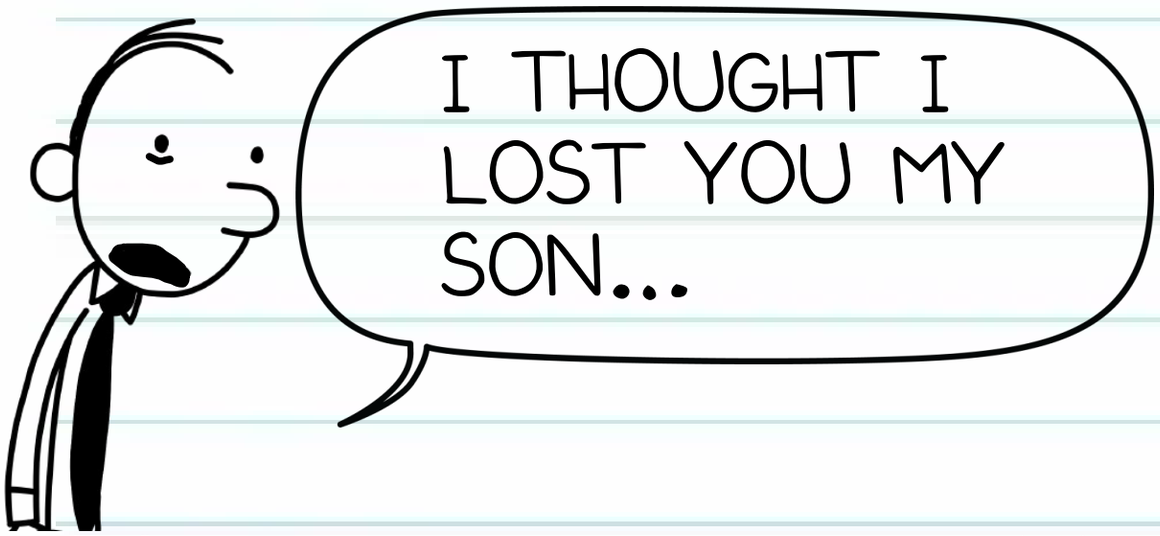
MEANWHILE, BACK IN ISLA PARADISO...

I fell onto the sandy ground as the fire erupted behind me. I almost felt... dead. My crew got out of the car that they in and ran towards me.

My dad looked over me and saw that I wasn't MOVING! I could feel him shed some tears. Something I never felt him doing for me.

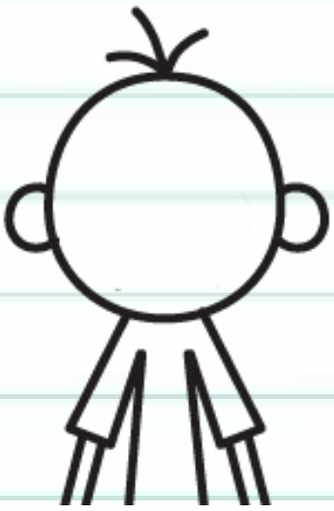


I could then hear him say, "I'm sorry... I'm sorry for not understanding you." He then hugged me more, and then I woke up and saw my father. He then cheered and began hugging me and then said.



This was so new to me! Seeing my dad talking good things about me in front of my face. But this was something rare, so I embraced this moment for I don't know if it would happen again.

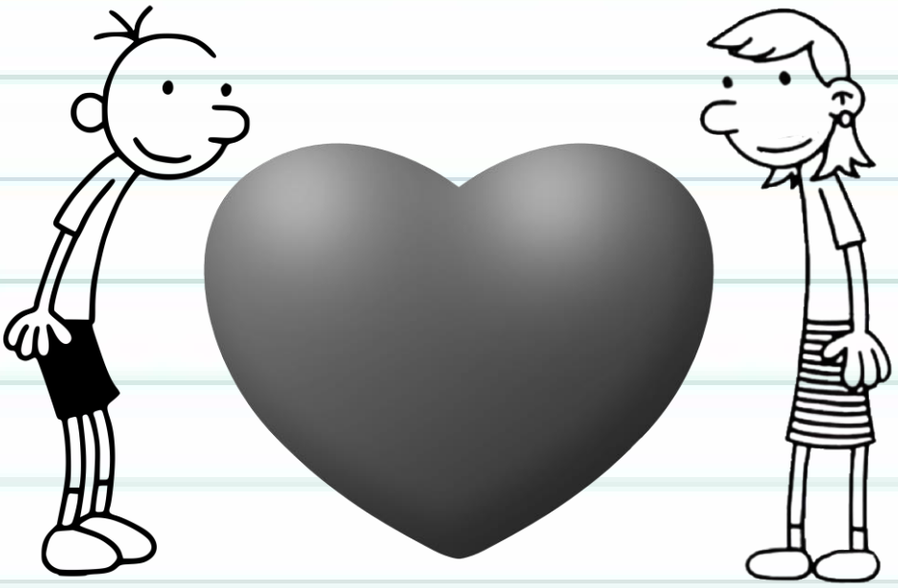
Everyone was cheering for we were finally all together and we had that Spear of Power. That would all end for The Kid was coming...



The Kid stepped out of the car and KICKED me in the stomach and YANKED The Spear out of my hand. I laid there on the ground groaning. Everyone began cursing The Kid and trying to retrieve The Spear as he went back to the car and drove away laughing and cheering. After that, it all went dark for me.

Chapter 13

Back at the Resort



I woke up, not uncomfortably in a truck or a campsite, but rather back in my comfy bed that I only slept for a week during this "vacation". I can't even call it a vacation because most of the time, I was fighting an evil society.

It took me a while to get out of the bed and back on my feet for I have experienced a lot of physical trauma, especially the most recent one being the stomach kick.

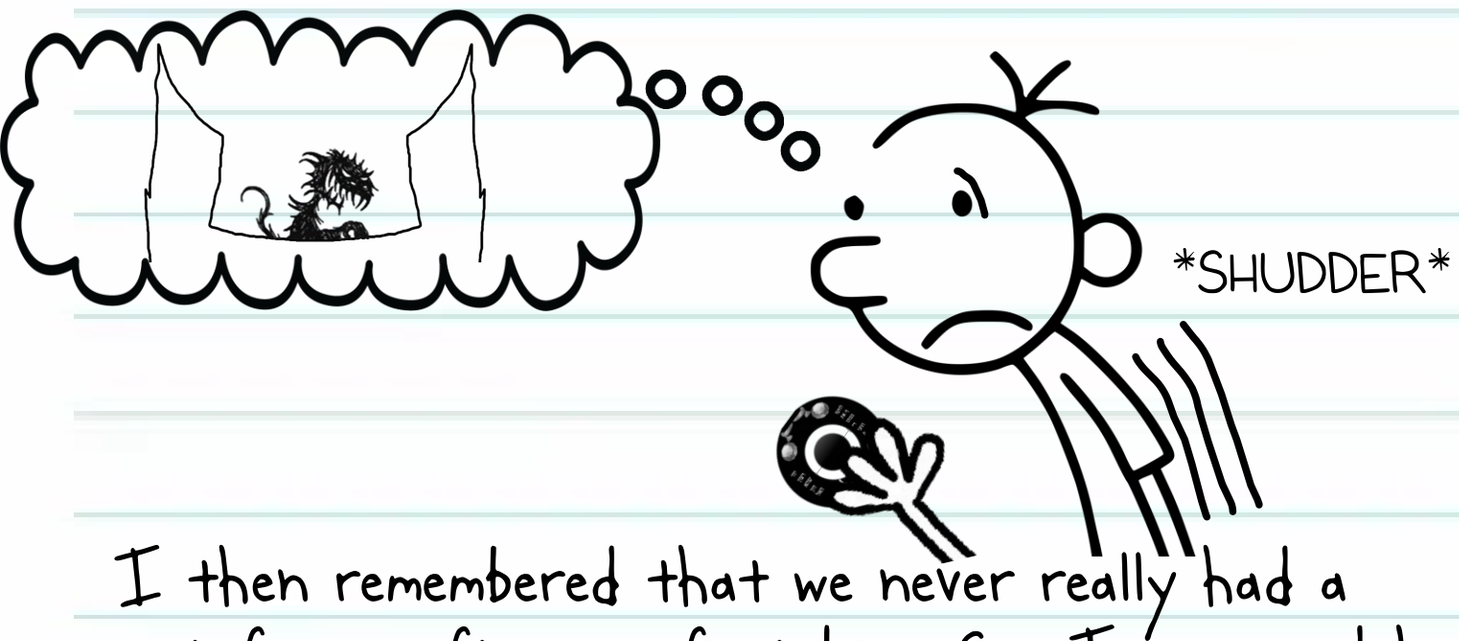
I walked around my hotel room, looking at the view of the resort knowing that The Kid has The Spear, meaning that this resort may not EXIST, heck the world would be destroyed!

I was pondering about everything that I've experienced, until I heard a knocked.

"Who is it?" I asked as I got out my Blade. "It's me, Holly..." She said.

I withdrew my Blade and opened the door. She came up and asked me how I was doing.

We went on talking about everything that happened. I told her the story about the secret temple, the tomb of Amenhotep I, and Kuromi's mansion. She began to hold my hand and said in a comforting yet worried, "Greg, I've never seen you so obsessed over something, not even for twisted wizard! What's happening." I said to her, "Oh, it's nothing..." as I was looking at that medallion and remembered the vision of the dark tower.



I then remembered that we never really had a moment for us after our first kiss. So, I proposed her that we could go out for the day, I don't think The Kid would start his evil plan now so I think we had some time. She accepted and we then hugged each other.

We then walked out of the room and then out of the hotel itself and began exploring more of this wonderful place, if this was our last day of existing then this was the best way to spend it.

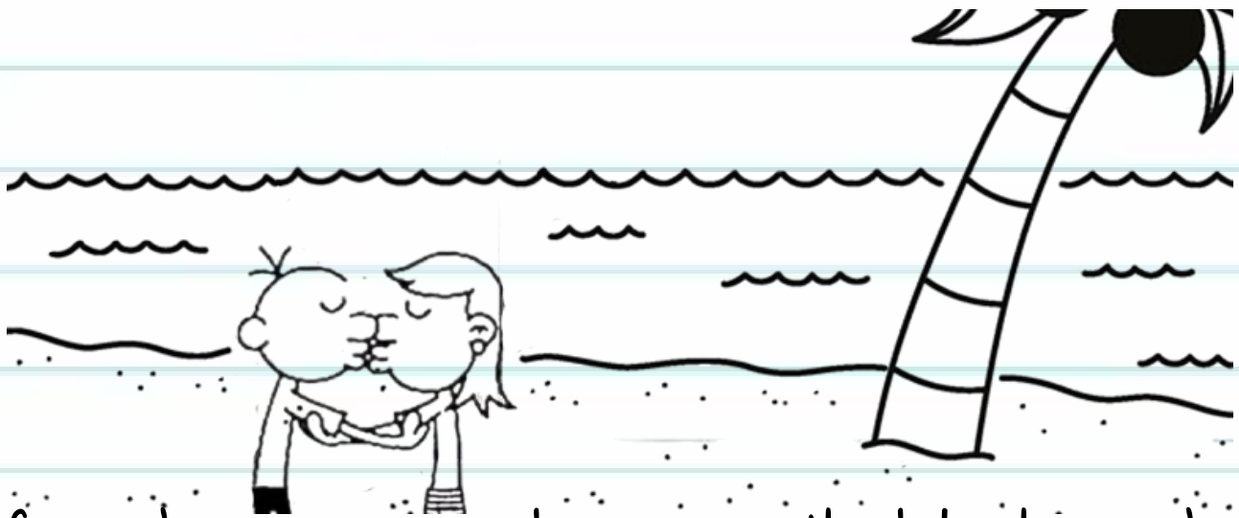
We walked and greeted various crossovers, including those crossovers who wanted to KILL us but now were greeting us cheerfully! This also included Death the Wolf who just scared me and then we got selfies.

We went to the area where me and Tigress went during the first days of my vacation and we both looked at clothes and were acting like real couples! We held hands as we dipped our feet in the pools. At one point, we even went to the restaurant that me and my family went at the first day; and I must say, the food was really good like last time, but it was better now with Holly... Thankfully I could pay it thanks to that buying card that I TOTALLY forgot about till now.

After the food, we went to the beach. The same beach were she rode on that My Little Pony and told me to come to the sauna room. It was the same weather, only with some pink/orange clouds around. The setting was so romantic, no Neo Nazis trying to kill us, no crossovers or tourists "oohing" at us, no anything... it was unnaturally empty; just us. There we gave our real love kiss... A kiss more impactful then the last two. The sun became bright orange as the sky darkened... A day I will not forget. I may get old and forget things, but that moment will never slip out of my mind...



After that romantic day, we walked back to the hotel... But something made think, where were my parents? The whole day I didn't see my dad or Rodrick. Nor did I run into my crewmates. Wait! I didn't see my mom nor Manny this WHOLE TRIP!

We got onto the elevator and got to our level where I were then walked and saw a mysterious person.

I told Holly to step aside and that I would handle him, I got my pistol ready and walked up to that person.

The guy may have looked suspicious but not really evil.

We both greeted each other and then he said that I had to come with him! I told Holly to run and was about to strike the guy down until he told me something shocking!

THE AMERICAN GOVERNMENT! THIS IS NUTS!!!! HOW CAN THEY KNOW ABOUT THE KID AND HIS OBSSESION OVER THE SPEAR AND DESTROYING THE WORLD!!!!

Holly walked up to me and the agent and asked what was happening... The agent said that he will escort us to the van and he'd explain everything. I was really doubtful but if this is like the whole Spearite thing from a while back, then I want to know what he has to say.

Chapter 14

Fort DeepWood

We were escorted to the van that the agent told us about and then the van was driving and entered where no vehicle has ever entered.

After a minute or two we were in the jungle.

The agent began speaking, "So, you know about The Kid and his plans do you?" I nodded. "Well..." He said, "We found out about this whole plot by a video that the FBI found in a social media post. We will show the video later on when we get to the base." "There's a BASE!", said Holly.

The agent nodded and said, "Yes, the FBI retrieved the coordinates of the location and expected a house in the middle of a suburb, but they were shocked of what they saw." He then showed satellite pictures of the location. It was unbelievable. It was a large base, it almost looked like a piece of the Death Star prop used during the filming of both A New Hope and The Return of the Jedi. It was unbelievable! Turrets with and hangars with no end... Cannons and watch towers as the eye can reach! And all of there, a LARGE satellite!

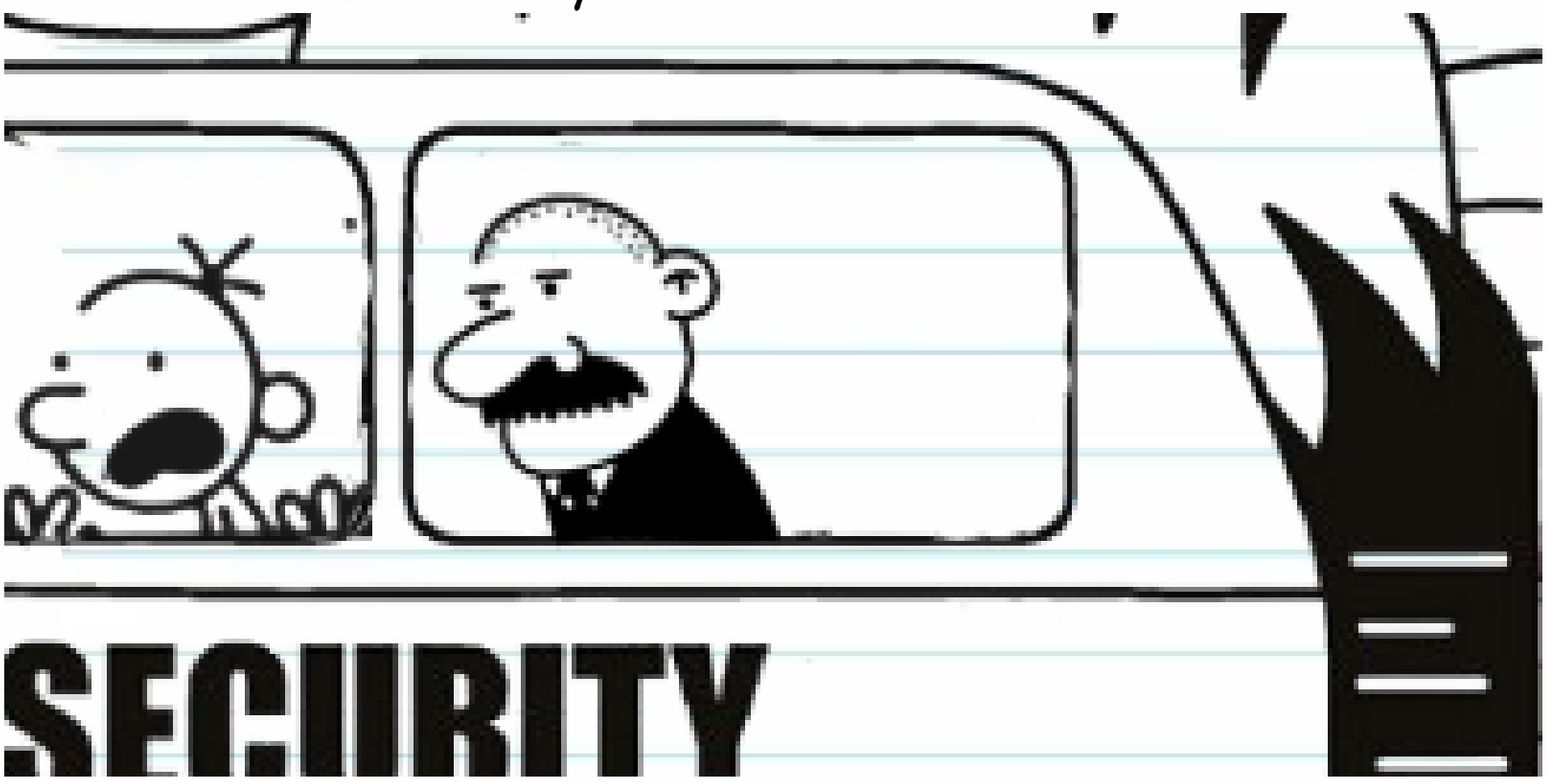
"After finding out..." he said, "They contacted the government about this and the President sent out large amounts of infantry and fighter/deployment/bomber jets to Fort DeepWood. That is the base we are going right now. Ahh! We are already there." I looked out and saw a base, it actually looked like a normal base, only a bit more rustic, almost like the Yavin 4 base from Star Wars mixed with Spanish styled architecture!

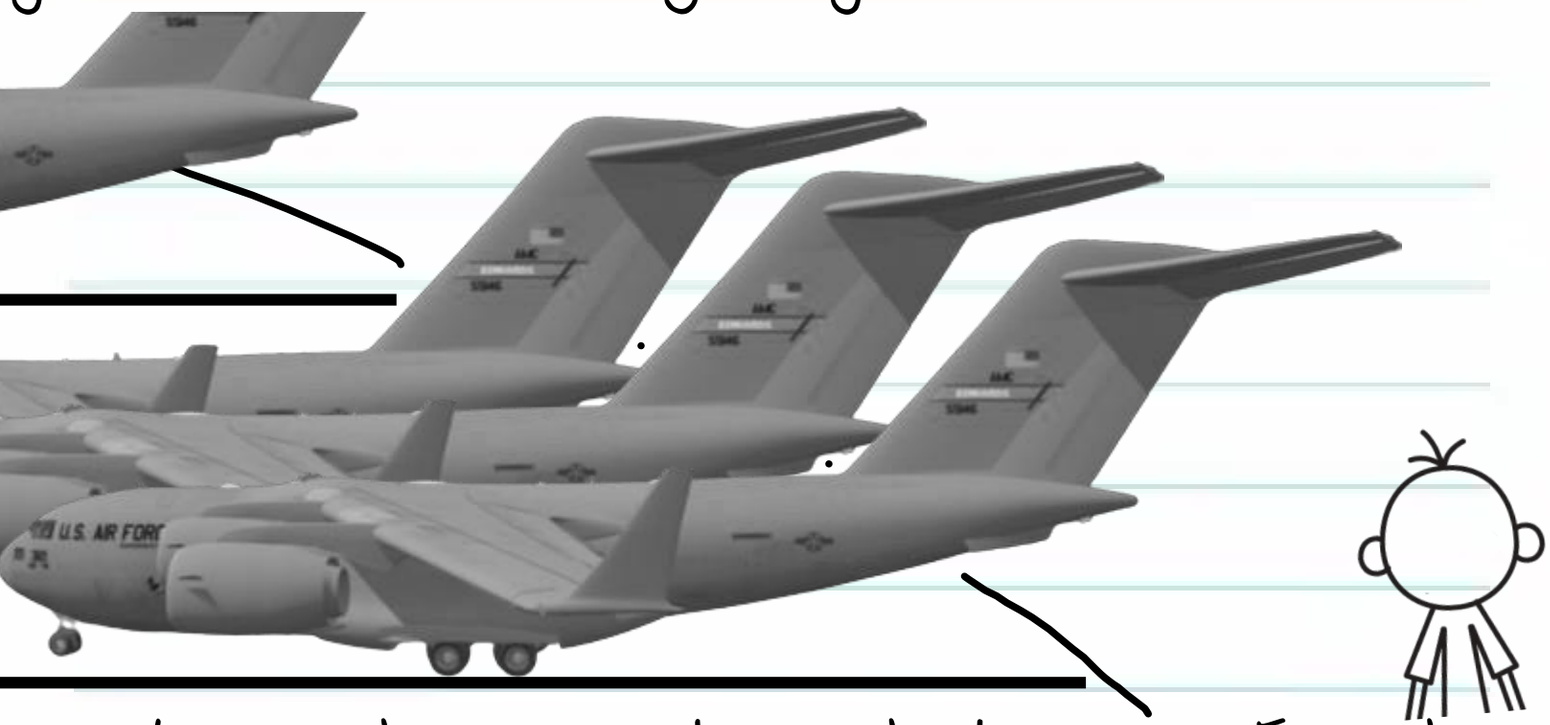


After passing the military check point, we entered into the territory of the base. I saw many American soldiers running at different points, getting ready for something.

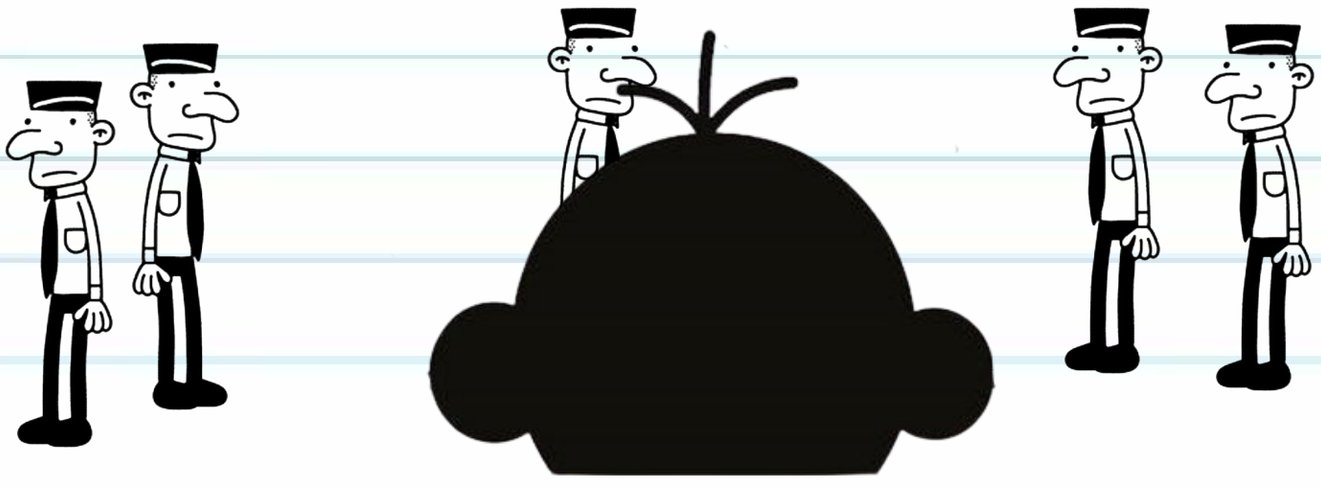
I also saw many crossovers as well! I would first ask myself why they go there if the tourists want to see the crossovers? But then I remembered about the Kopis that Doraemon talked about.

Still I wondered where all my friends and family were as we passed the runway were I saw all of the planes.

The driver parked the van and we got out. I saw the planes as they stood there majestically as the soldiers ran to their positions and various military equipment was either placed or removed from the deployer jets. I even saw come fighter jets land!



We were then escorted into the base were I saw how the base looked from the inside. It not so old but it looked pretty abandoned but as if it was abandoned for a year or two so nothing really that creepy. It had two stories. The first story were with people sitting at coordination desks and looking at monitors with pinpoints alongside a mechanic station to fix parts for the planes. Upstairs was full of computers, file cabinets and lots of soldiers.



After the mini tour, the agent FINALLY brought us to my crew and my family! Mom hugged me for we didn't see each other for a LONG time. I even felt bad for Manny, despite him being a really big buck toothed brat. I then greeted my crew as they too looked at me with glee. It was a big reunion.

The agent then came to us and said:

Some soldiers brought us to our dormitories. I must say, they weren't all luxurious like in the hotel I was in, but it was better than either not sleeping or sleeping on the ground or a truck.

Mom, Manny and dad got one bunk bed, Rodrick got onto the second bunk bed and got onto the top part while Luffy the second bunk bed and got onto the top part while Luffy got the bottom part. Kitty and Melody got the third bunk bed (Kitty on top and Melody on bottom). Same went for the rest of the Sanrio gang with their bunk beds, then Pororo and Rowley got their bunk beds and I got mine with Holly (Holly on the top and me on the bottom). I asked Holly if she wanted to hug Pikachu because of all the stress that was a happening. Both Holly and Pikachu nodded, so I gave it to her.

After that, I clutched that damn artifact and muttered to myself, "What have I got into..." and went to sleep.

Chapter 15

The Dream

I didn't dream any good dreams, nor did I dream nightmares with Dr. Nowhere characters chasing me or any of those "normal" kinds of dreams.

Instead, I was in that same state of vision that I had when I found the final part of The Spear. It was all cloudy, like a dreamy styled cloudy. Then I heard that same booming voice from before and it said, "You must know what happened before the siege of the city in which The Spear was located before you can continue this journey... If you deny, everything will reset, you'll be back at June 14th of 2022... The day before you flew to this island. Almost as if nothing ever happened." I didn't know what do for I was a mere spectator like last time. But I guess my stillness was a type of agreement for the voice then said, "Very well... it is your choice. You will now know everything..." Then, the clouds disappeared and I saw the backstory of EVERYTHING that led up to the siege, first I saw myself in a palace like place.

It looked Roman and it turns out it was in the middle of Jerusalem! I then saw that it was some kind of delegation/meeting. In front of me was the infamous Emperor Nero and he was talking to King Herod Agrippa II. I heard what they were talking about and it was SHOCKING!

First Nero said that he would love to make an alliance to find The Spear of Power and that both he and Agrippa II would rule over the empire with an IRON fist. Their plan was the worst of them all.

They used the already ongoing Jewish revolt as an excuse to rampage, sack, and plunder towns alongside slaughter and rape the people in those cities and find that Spear. They knew that the Jews weren't good fighters and that the Pharisees were trying to appease the Roman government.

The then spoke about what they would do after finding The Spear... They plotted to use it to exterminate both Zealot Jews (So no Jew who was opposed to The Empire and Herod's reign would be spared) and early Christians. Then they would go to the north and destroy the men of Germania and Britannia people and then to conquer the rest of the world and Rome (alongside her puppet nation Judea) would rule the world with an IRON fist.

OH MY GOD!!! THIS IS TERRIBLE!

After seeing them laugh and shake hands. The dream then moved on to a chamber. Similar to the one from 300 Rise of an empire.

There, I saw Agrippa II looking down on a pile of bones and shaggy clothes that laid onto of an altar table. Agrippa poured various oils and spoke in an ancient language. His pride blazed in his eyes. After the oils, he THREW a torch onto it and what happened SHOCKED ME!

Instead of burning the bones, SKIN AND FLESH began growing back! The skull, which had a missing jaw, got it's jaw back, the figure who was clad in worn out and almost ancient robes returning into its original form of purple and gold.

The figure rose from table and showed his old face. OH MY GOD! It's the king Herod the Great from The Nativity story, the great, great grandfather of Agrippa II. That old geezer never got what he deserved after all what he did (Read Mathew chapter 2). And now he's been resurrected?!?!?

Agrippa looked at him and said, "welcome back..." The old king with the face of lust for murder walked up to him and said in a loud voice, "THE KING OF THE JEWS HAS RETURNED! NOW WE BOTH CAN RULE JUDEA WITH ROME TOGETHER."

Then, I figured out what the ritual was. Agrippa and his family originated from Edom. Known for being denounced for being too prideful and adapting to Babylonian customs. The ritual Agrippa made was an ancient Babylonian rite to contact the spirits of the dead...

Then I saw flashes of raids which the Herodians and Roman soldiers went. Houses barged in, people slaughtered with the "charge" of revolting against the king and the Roman officials. Most of them were mini villages with no ties to politics.

I saw the horrendous war crimes committed. It usually went like this: the army marches through a city, a random guy comes in and slits the throat of a random unimportant soldier and voila! All the soldiers kill the men were killed, women were raped and the children... I do not want to talk about what I saw to them. No mercy towards them. Even Agrippa's ancestor got a kick and enjoyed his evil pleasures of killing children in front of their parents.

People say that Rome was some kind of civilized place, but from I am seeing, they're worse than the barbarians they faced. Combined with the Herodian forces, Judaism and Christianity were on the brink of extinction... Every battle was lost, if you could call them battles.

Then, the scene changed. It was back at Jerusalem, but in the temple in which the high priests and scribes were.

They were arguing with 7 men of the own, 7 Pharisees, one of them was Joseph of Arimathea were begging to go to the city which its name was lost in time, home to The Spear of Power... the city The Romans and the Herodians were searching for.

The chief priest denied their plea, yet they still left them, wandering to the city. They were armed with only ragged sword. But their courage was all they had to defend The Spear and their people and the peoples of the nation.

They also had allies with by their sides. One was the Parthians who agreed to defend the city for a few weeks, a patrol team was mercilessly BUTCHERED by the Romans and wanted revenge, and so came in a batch of 3,000 infantry and 2,400 men skilled in the art of archery. The Nabataeans were also part, but they weren't really normal soldiers, but mercenaries against the Roman rule for the king of the Nabataeans was favoring Roman command. And so came in 400 spears men, 700 swordsmen and 1000 archers in play.

Alongside was 500 Jewish resistance fighters and 200 Christian defenders who did not get along but only fought to defend their religions and cultures from the rabid king and emperor whose lust for The Spear and dominance only grew.

And so the battle began, but then it flickered... I didn't see anything. It was all interrupted!

What I saw again was more DISTURBING! I saw Heaven and Hell... In heaven, there was turmoil, the angel Saraqael was rallying the heavenly troops to march into earth and destroy every non-believer, only saving a couple people. He also made a deal with the demons that they could kill the people as well! The arc angel trio was looking exhausted and sad for they did everything in their power to stop him.

Meanwhile, Satan was rallying his troops so they could go in and both end the human race and get the medallion that I was wearing! Satan looked at me and said, "GIVE IT TO ME!" NOW!" Fire erupted among me...

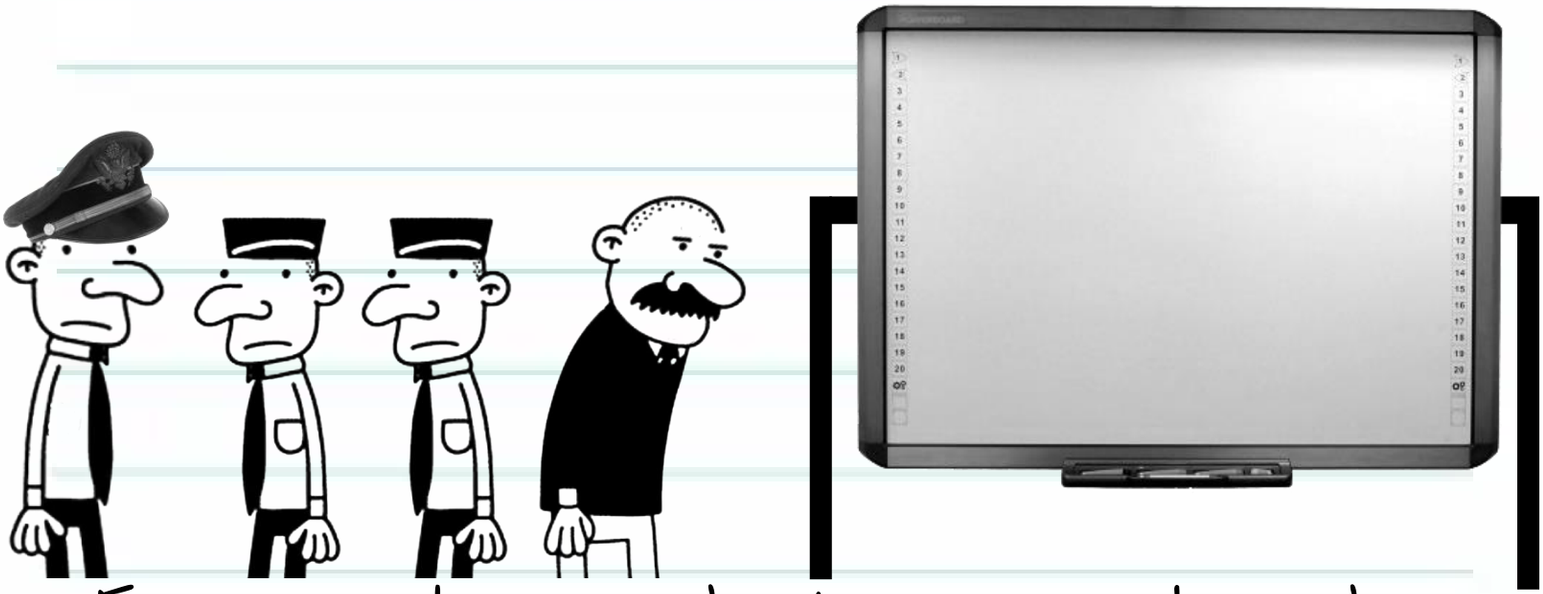
I woke up in a sweat, falling off my bed. Everyone was still asleep. I looked at that medallion and made a promise to myself that soon, this will all end... clutched that medallion, went back onto the bed and went back to sleep.

Chapter 16

The Plan



Everyone woke up to the clamoring sounds at the main room.

Me, my family, and my crew dressed up and got ready for today. Some soldiers escorted us downstairs and into the main hall. There were many American troops, and lots of crossovers!

They ranged from Call of Duty soldiers to PS2 Star Wars Battlefront characters to literal preschool TV show characters.

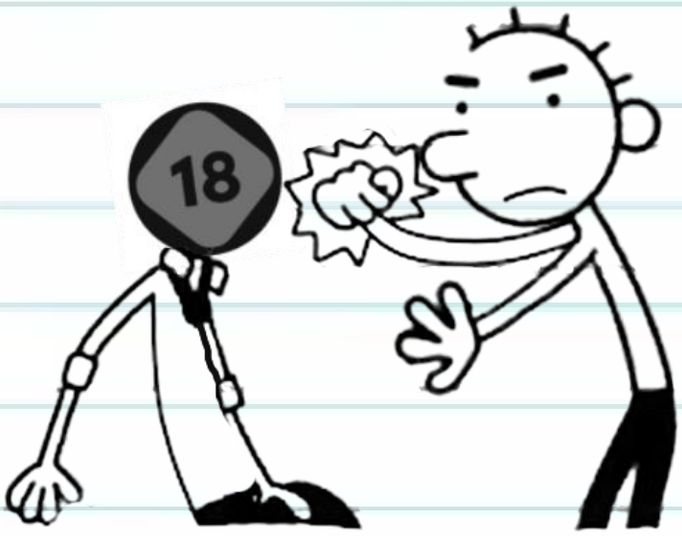
The one that stood out to me was seeing the Paw Patrol team there. There were two reasons. One, I already worked with Tracker who was really brave.

The other point is a long story... Just as clarification, a few years ago, my mom started reading my dia... I mean journals and she recommended me to post them online because they were really comedic and no one would really notice that it's based off a real family.

Reluctantly, I posted them after making a deal with the fun brain owner to post it as a blog.

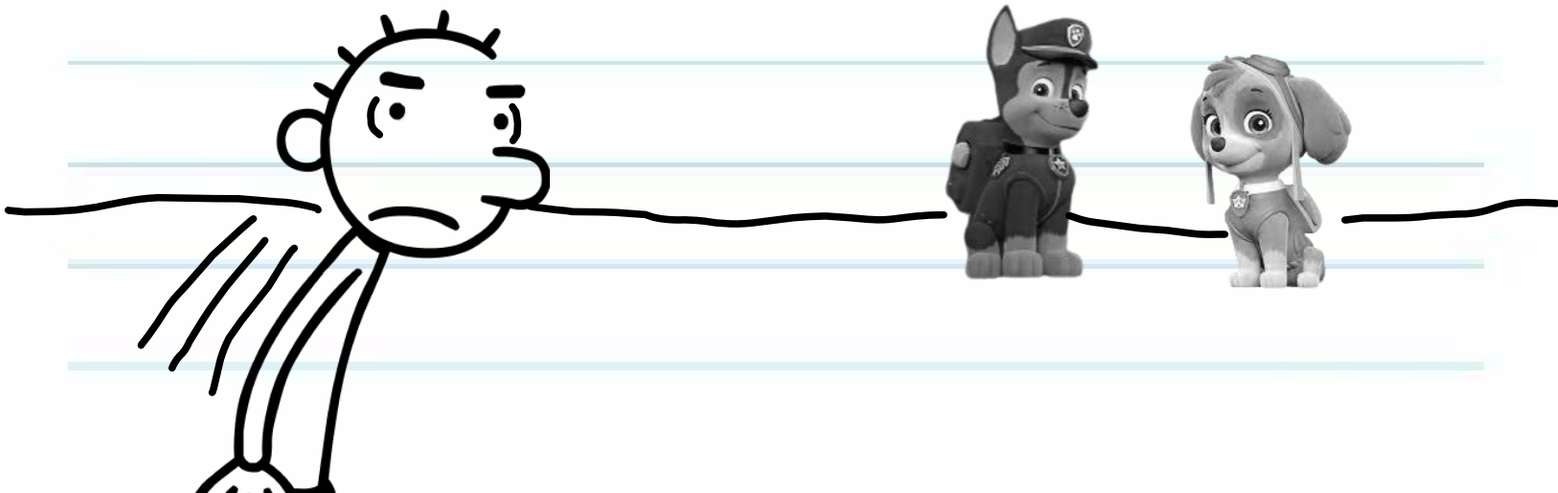
My journals got popular! So popular, a guy from my school made a subreddit called r/LodedDiper, named after my brother's band. I checked there and it was mainly normal posts with very interesting fanfictions.

Though one day, a guy who went by the name of u/Ubertishere made this really AWFUL parody called Diary of a Wimpy Kid Abridged where I swear and murder and placed the rumor that Rodrick had a Paw Patrol fetish. It was so bad, even Rodrick's bandmates didn't want to be around him. Rodrick was really fed up, he tracked the guy, went up him on a school day and PUNCHED him and told him to delete the book.



I DECIDED TO USE U/UBERTISHERE'S PROFLIE PICTURE TO NOT VIOLATE PRIVACY...

Surprisingly, everyone believed Rodrick and his reputation was restored. So it was really uncomfortable for Rodrick to be beside anything related to the show after that incident.



Anyways, there also a lot of gadget cats. You know, the same ones like Doraemon but with ears and were yellow. That is the original design, Doraemon looks different because a mouse nibbled his ears and he also drunk a sadness drink accidentally which made him blue.

THIS IS AN IMAGE I TAPED OK, FIRST NON DRAWING IMAGE!

BLUE WAS THE COLOR DUE TO THE POTION.

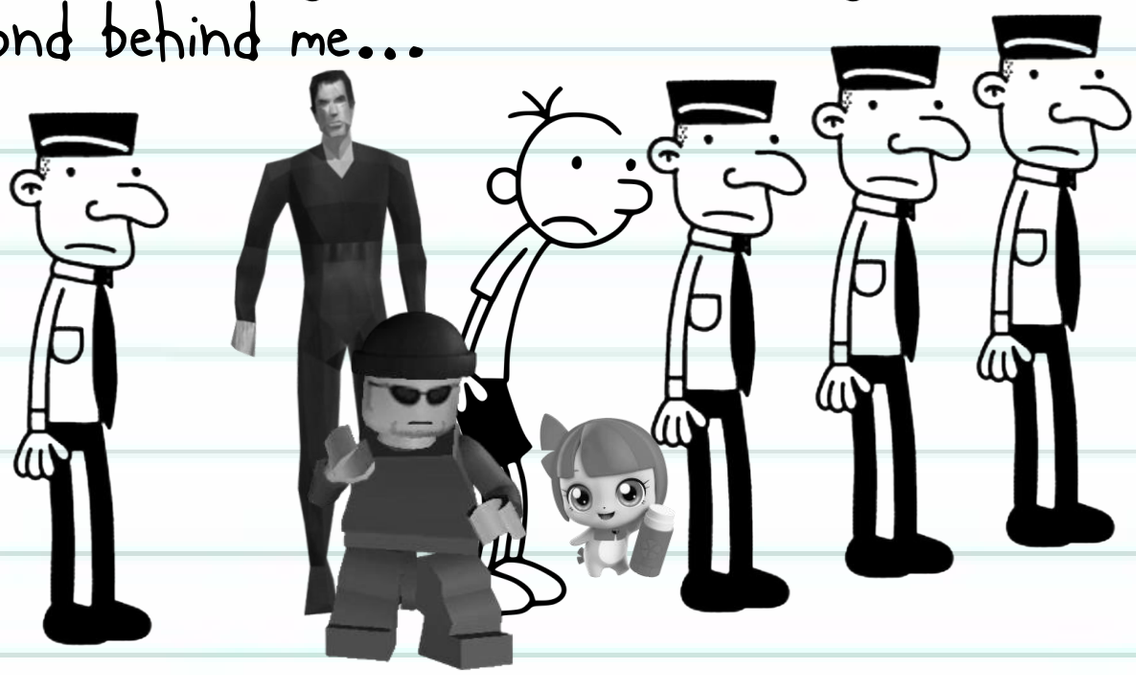
YELLOW WAS THE ORIGINAL COLOR.

A while passed and a general, alongside the agent from before and two lieutenants walked up and to be quiet. A screen rolled down and the general began speaking.

EVERYONE GATHER AROUND! THE MEETING IS ABOUT TO START. THIS IS NO SKINHEAD BUISNESS THIS IS REAL DANGER!

He went on explaining that the mission required that three penetrator bombs should be deployed onto a medium sized hole located in near the satellite.

Everyone looked attentively at the screen. I couldn't really concentrate because it doesn't feel normal that an American soldier is in front of me, Stickping on my left, a henchman from Lego Batman on the right, and N64 James Bond behind me...



Anyways, the general continued with, "Two days ago, The Kid and his army wanted to storm the resort and commit an act of terrorism... Using a stolen UN tank and altered Tesla Cybertrucks, they were going to kill various prominent people with Jewish identity whether in the sense of ethnicity or religion, alongside many people who were deemed too woke for existing. Luckily, Greg and his team stopped him alongside The Spearites and the plot was aborted..."

"Now to the real plan, first we have the terrain side" he said, "As you see, The Kid has stationed troops at this location, it is at a forest east from where we are. We are going to station our troops and crossovers at this empty grass plain right in front of them. Frank" he called out, "You alongside supervising generals will lead them." He then looked at the crossovers.

"Well, you guys have this thing called a Kopis... unfortunately, they're too fragile for this mission, so for entering the plains, you are going to enter these rooms, as soon as you enter, a virtual clone will be made of you. If you get killed, the clone will disappear and you'll wake up for when you enter, it'll be as if you were in a dream. This will help secure the life you guys..."

"Now you Susan" he pointed at my mom, "you and Manny will go to this location, there you'll give him this." The general showed him a relic, those kinds of relics that they place in Egyptian tombs (He wants mom and Manny to go to The Tomb of the Lost Souls and recruit Amenhotep but mom doesn't know).

Mom asked why she was supposed to go there, the agent went up and said that Manny has a mind capacity bigger than any toddler. "Despite acting like a normal toddler, he shows intelligence and doesn't react to fear like normal toddlers, he never showed fear when looking at the most scariest thing. Where you are going is home to a scary entity from a long time ago. This man will however help us win..." Susan hesitantly accepted.

Now the general looked at me, he said that my crew and I are going to the den of the wolves (no offense to the wolves). Turns out we are going into the deployer planes and then we'll be deployed into the base and from there retrieve The Spear, kill The Kid and save Kuromi... Oh dear...

He then said "The meeting has ended, training should begin immediately!"

Everyone ran out and we were once again escorted to another place.

Chapter 17

Virtual Reality Training

Me and my crew were being escorted through the base. I saw many soldiers and crossovers running to their positions, I thought to myself that times were changing. I passed through many acquaintances that I met during this whole journey.

I waved at Bluey and Bingo, I gave a firm handshake with SpongeBob and said hi at Lara Croft. You know, the team that helped me find the second part of The Spear or Power.

Anyways, Puss asked himself were are we going and that he was sick and tired of being escorted left and right.

The soldier looked at him and said, "Hey, you will be surprised were we are going."

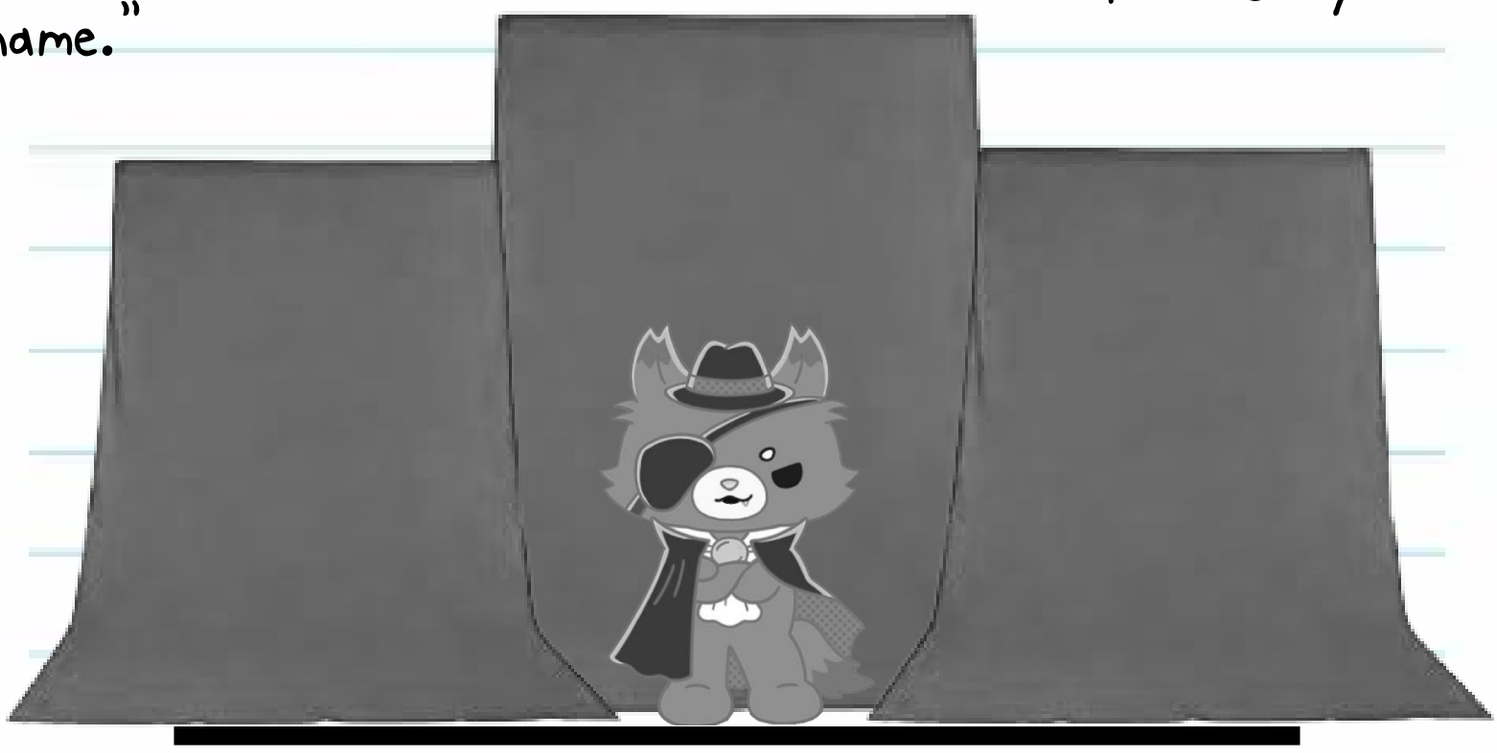
As we were walking, I stumbled upon someone I thought I'd NEVER see again.

It was Guresuke! That crossover who tricked me in giving me MY money, 3DS, and the Twisted Wizard game, only to get POISONED!

He greeted me and went on to say this:

He explained that he wanted to give me the LICESENCES but The Kid came and placed a GUN right at his head saying that if he (Guresuke) gave the permits, he'd kill him and destroy his Kopis.

"I tried resisting but he injected me with some weird yellow liquid which made me do his command..." He said, "I'm terribly sorry for everything I did. I hope that this can be some kind of contribution to repairing my name."



I opened the door which was behind him and I was SURPRISED from what I saw! It was a big room all covered in blue screens. I saw from the glass panel many coders and statistic managers typing on the computers!

"It's a Virtual Training room. I've seen that you've been fighting a lot. Therefore, I wanted to give you a chance so you can forgive me." He said...

We were all in AWE. Especially Puss. Especially that the VR training is mainly for sword training. I said thanks to him and the fact that he was forgiven. I then asked him about his henchmen that I infantilized the last time we met. He said that they were doing fine and that they are acting normal again. He then said his farewells and he left.

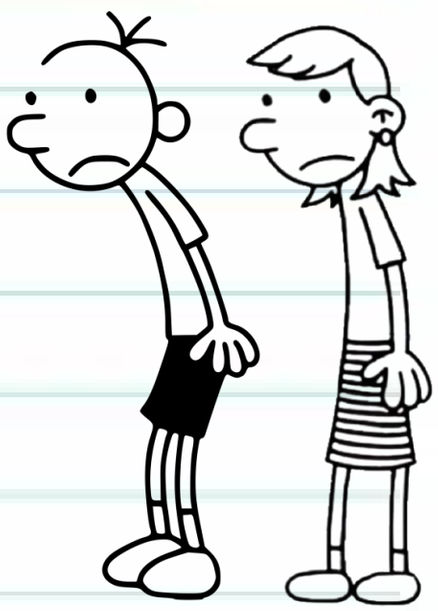
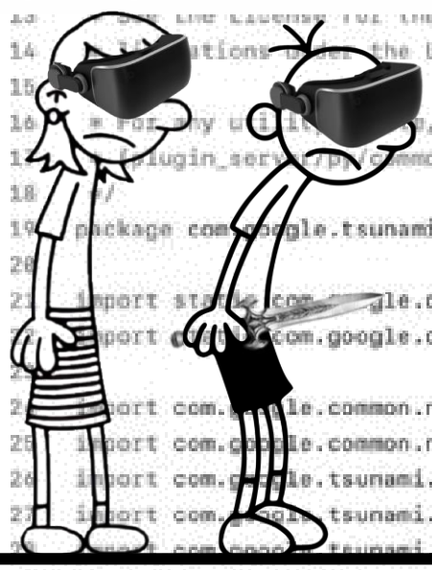
STEP

STEP



The soldier beside us said, "We will be taking turns, Greg, Holly and Puss your training starts now! The rest will have your trainings after them." I asked him if it was dangerous, he said that we'll be wearing bullet and sword cut proof clothes. Some men gave us our clothes and then we were placed the virtual reality glasses. Everything changed from the bland blue screen to a LINES of code.

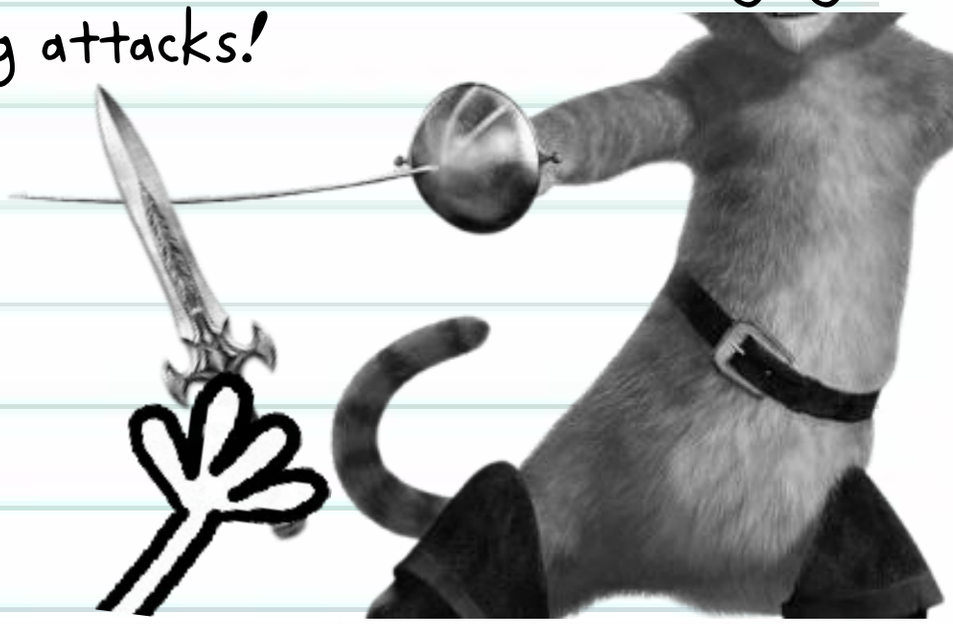


The man on the microphone said that the first world will be a blank room filled with swords racks and that we could pick the sword up. So now, it was me and Holly vs. Puss in Boots.

The man on the microphone said, "BEGIN!", and so the duel begun.

"Lets see if the apprentice has learned from the master." said Puss, "lets fight!"

Holly grabbed a sword from the rack and got ready. We began exchanging sword attacks, we were swinging our swords and ducking attacks!

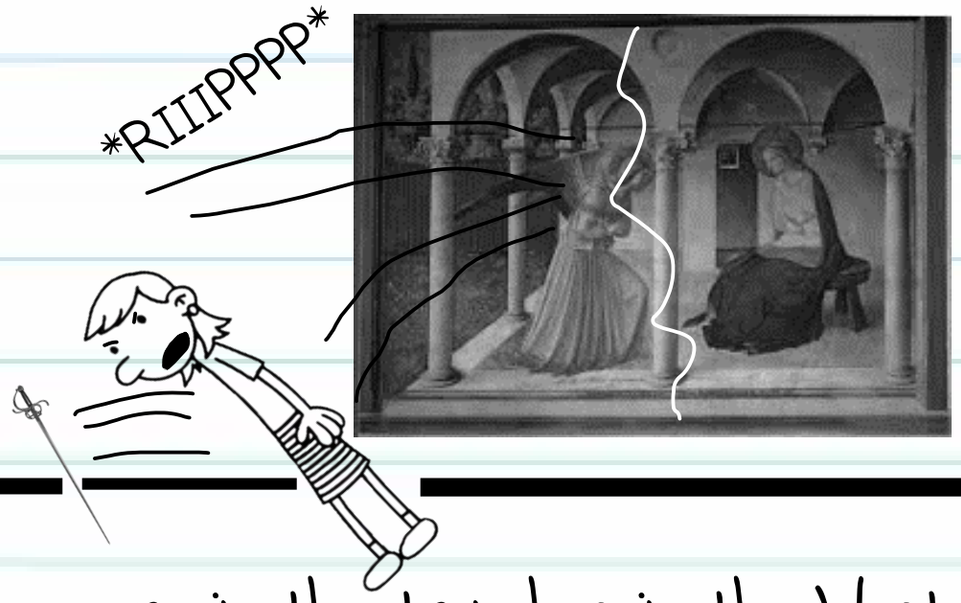


The world changed as I jumped onto Puss and crashed onto one of the sword racks!

The world changed into Oxford University circa 1489 AD. I could see scholars walking around as if nothing happened, Puss was about to an attack and I accidentally bumped into a student, though I actually went through him for they were just PIXELS from the glasses. Holly did an attack but ended into a sword lock.

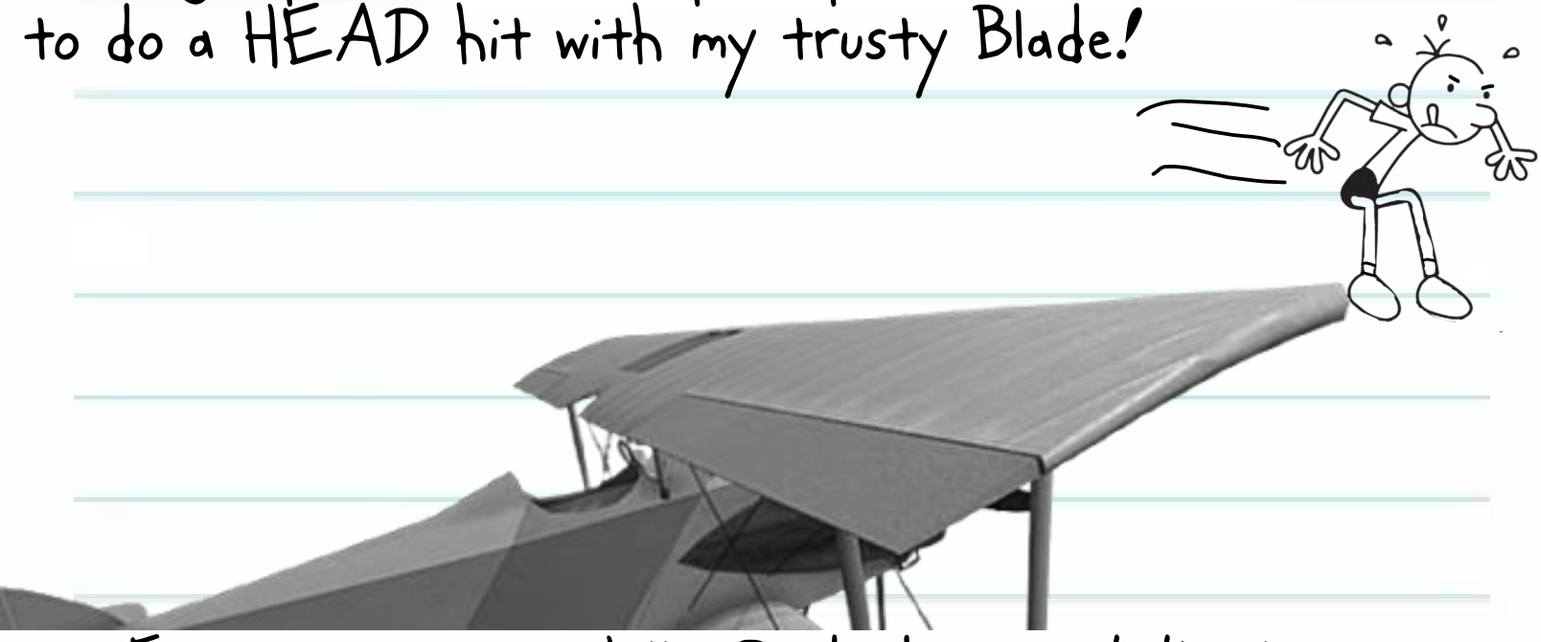
She then released and ran towards him!

She then crashed into a painting and world changed again!



This time we were in the trenches in the Western Front, French soldiers ran as they fought. The stakes were high despite this all being a simulation. More sword attacks were interchanged between us!

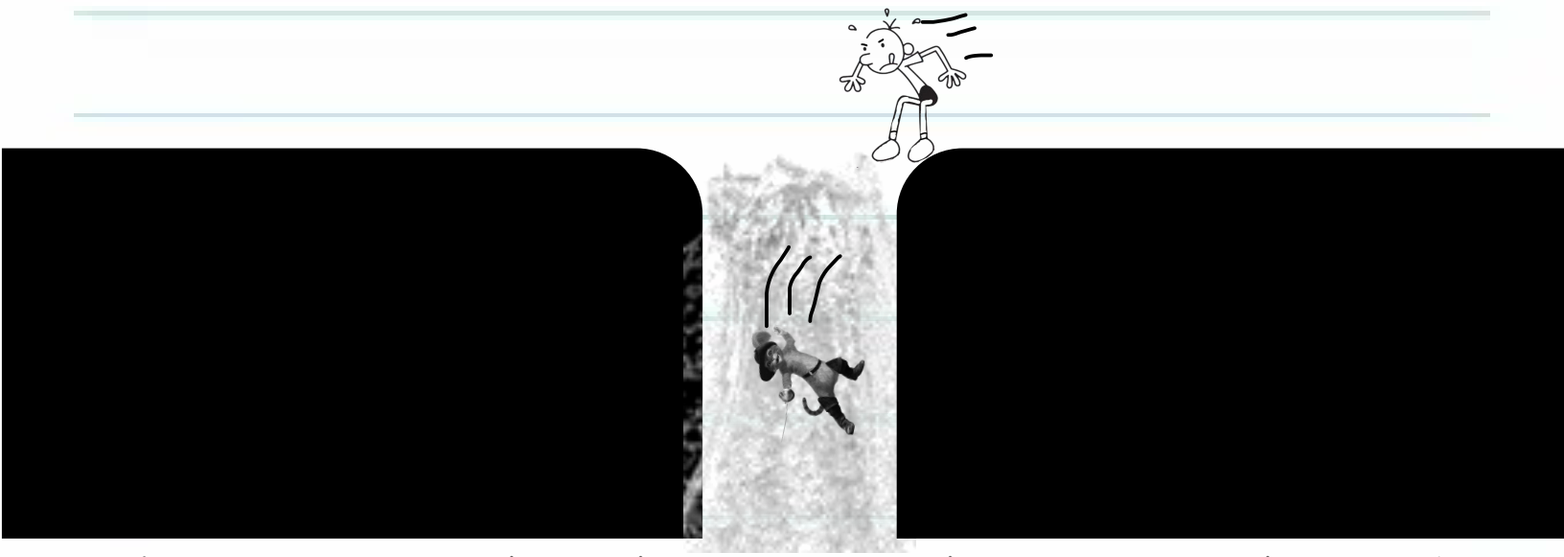
I jumped onto a clump of plane metal and was about to do a HEAD hit with my trusty Blade!



It was a miss... Holly Ducked as a WW1 plane came crashing towards us. The propellers were still on and we all braced for impact, but instead of being shredded, the world changed again! This time, in a peaceful Japanese dojo. There was a sword rack there as well!

Puss, knocked my Blade out of my hand so I grabbed one of the katanas on the rack and proceeded to fight!

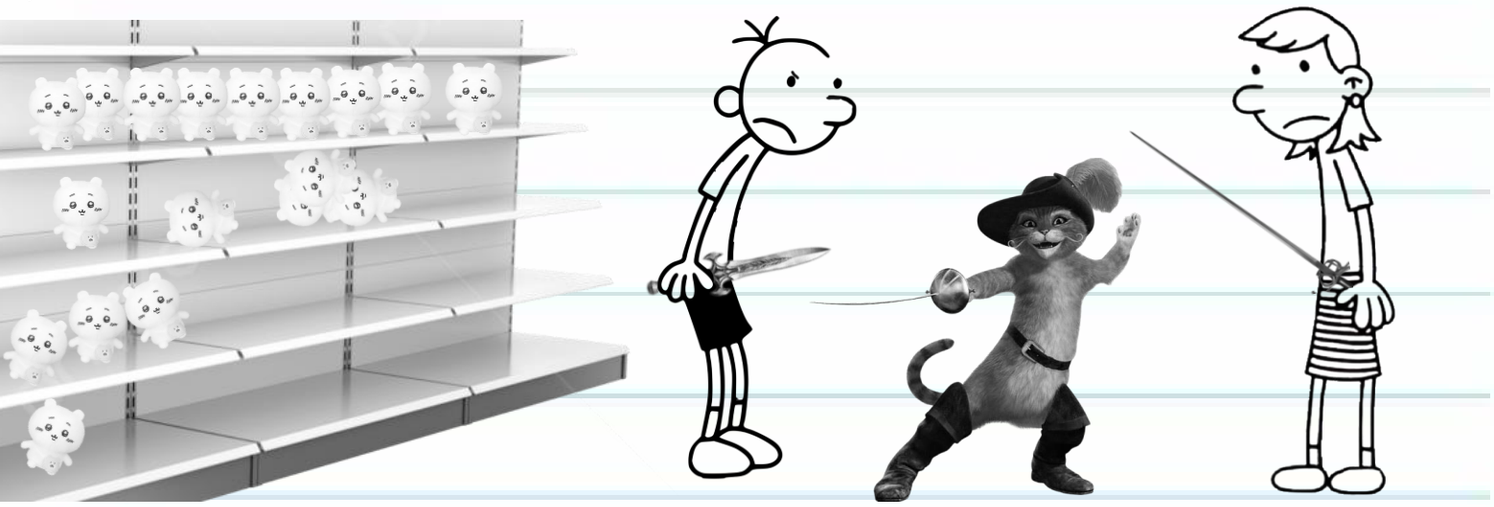
Holly pushed Puss again and crashed into the door paper. I grabbed my Blade and continued fighting till we jumped from a cliff beside a WATERFALL!



As soon as we hit the water, the setting changed again, now it was Egyptian tomb hallway, similar to the one I was in during the whole Amenhotep thing. It all felt so realistic despite only blue screen blocks being present on stage. The fight once again reached a breaking point. Holly did many successful blocks.

Puss jumped onto my face and I fell onto the ground which again changed the setting!

It then changed to something more modern, it was a kawaii store!



I pushed the Chiikawa shelf to startle Puss, but that didn't help. I got out my pistol and shot the lights which make sparks go everywhere! The settings began to glitch until it returned to the original code background.

The fight got so out of hand that I disarmed Puss. Then everything stopped!

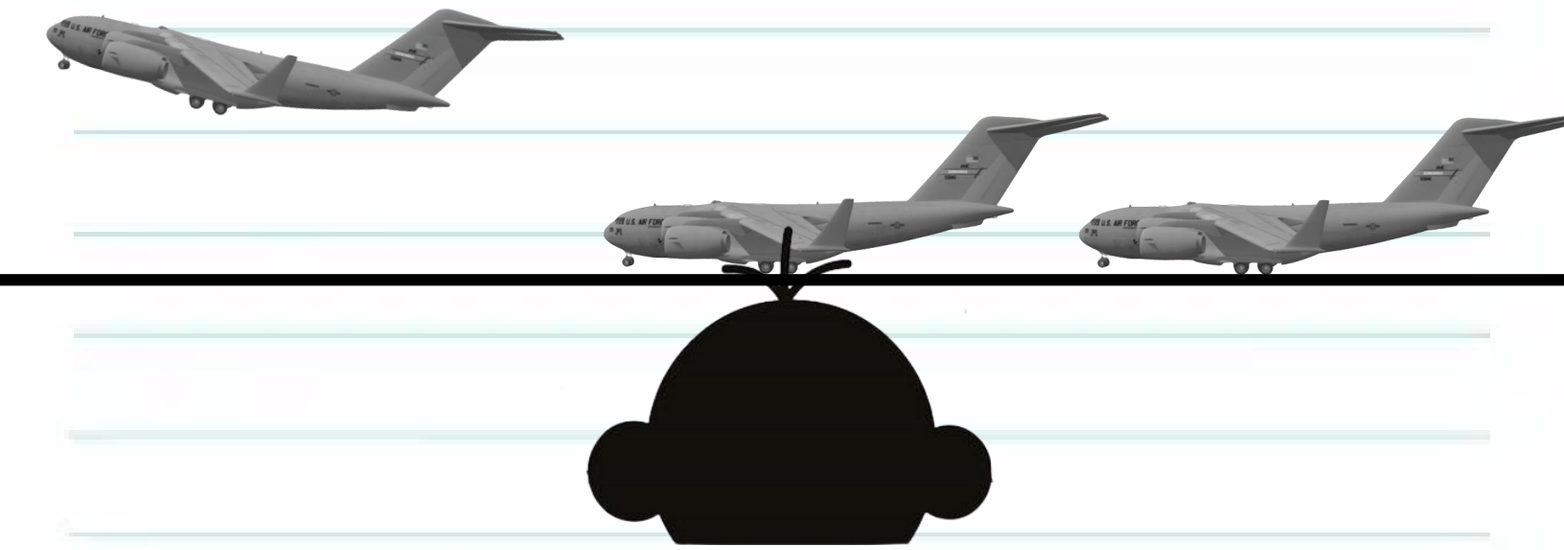
Everything was white and everyone began clearing the scene around. Our glasses were removed and Puss said:

Both me and Holly were really happy and we hugged each other! The agent came up and said that my skills have improved and he was really surprised with Holly's swordsmanship.

We walked out of the room as the rest of the crew experienced the same excitement that we felt!

Chapter 18

Parting Ways



I got out of the base and leaned onto the outside of base. I looked at the deployer planes, thinking.

So many things happened in this vacation, I saw things I would never forget... Some say that experiences shape a person's attitude. Honestly, with this adventure I felt more grateful for my friends and family, I also grew out of my wimpyness; embracing fear rather than running away.

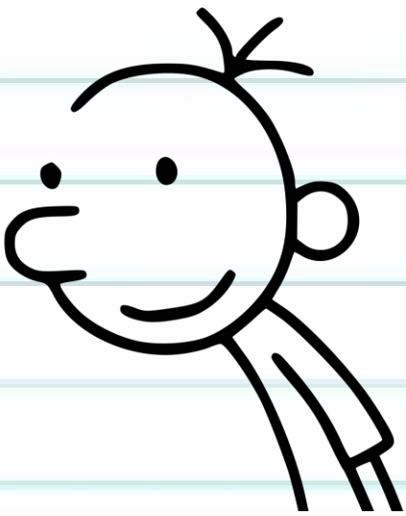
As I was thinking and looking at the planes, I heard footsteps, I turned around and saw Arieh! I didn't know the U.S. Army are now collaborating with a Jewish resistance team. Well it makes sense, The Spearites do have a lot of intel over the whole "The Kid" situation.

He went up to me and said, "Hey Greg, how are you doing? Weather seems nice." I just said a simple "I'm fine." He then muttered himself. I asked him, "What are you talking about?"

He began shaking his head.

He said, "Greg, times are changing... You will be challenged greatly. I feel it in my veins, I also feel that my time is coming and I will see my daughter again."

I looked at him pretty confused. Just then Ash came in! He had Pikachu, He had a cast because of the whole Secret Temple thing and went up and gave his thanks for taking care of his beloved Pikachu. I simply said it was no problem.

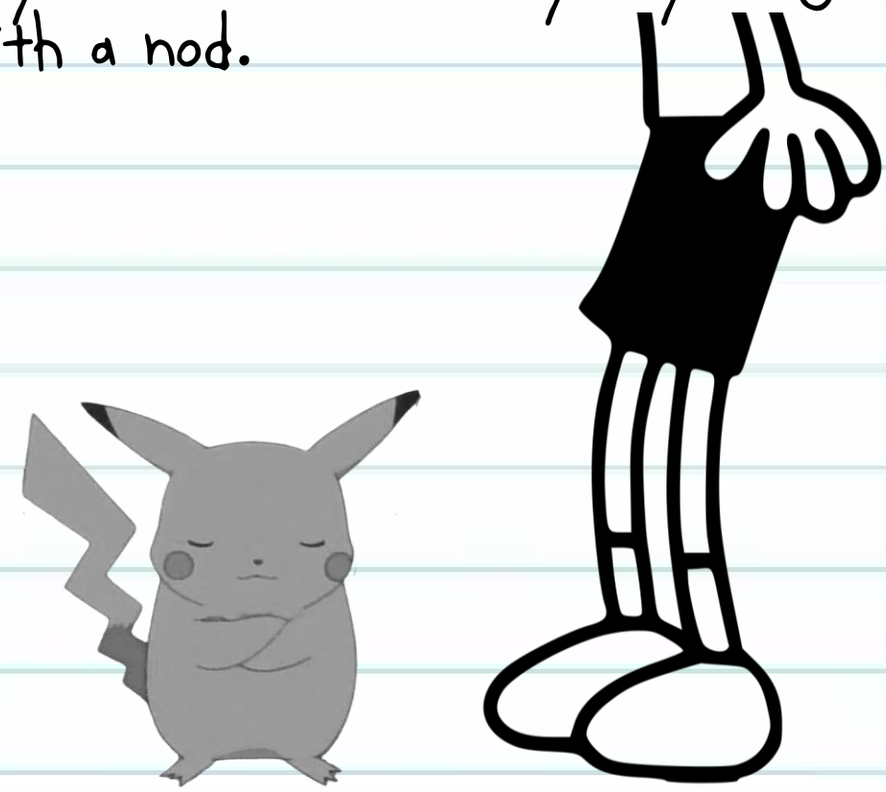


I complimented his Pikachu saying he was very loyal despite not knowing me... He chuckled and said that Pikachu is like that, he knows who's good or bad during his time with Ash.

He then said:

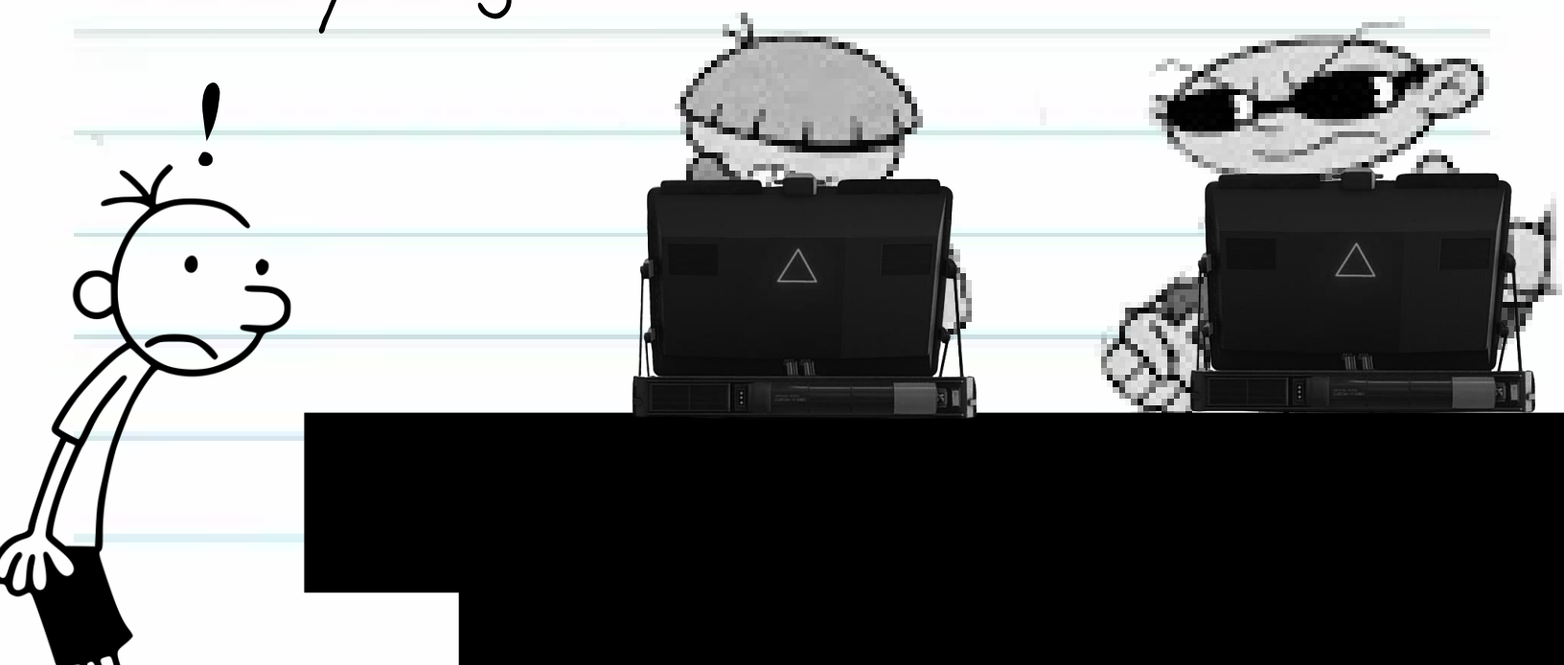
I was really SHOCKED, an anime character giving me the permission to keep PIKACHU until the whole situation is OVER!?!?!?

This is so crazy, but I couldn't say anything because Pikachu agreed with a nod.



There was a small moment of awkward silence... Then I heard a shout from one of the generals! They said that they received an alert from their signals!

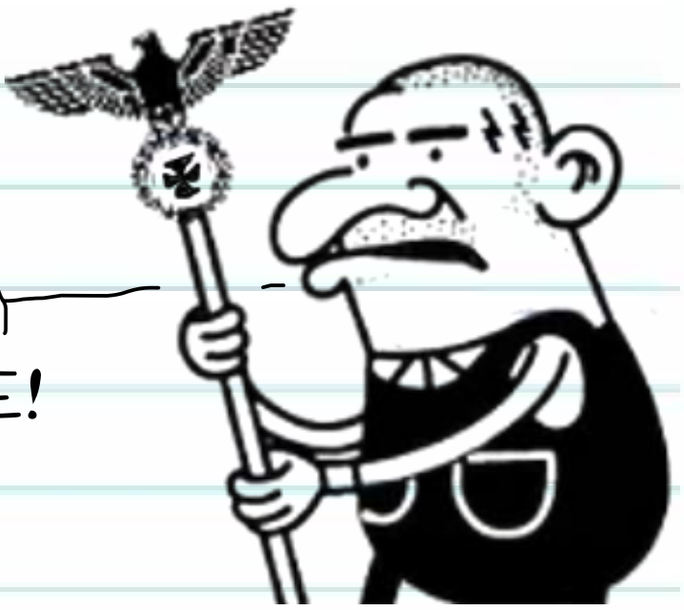
We all ran to the to computer rooms and found out that The codename Kids Next Door kids were on the computers trying to figure out what's happening. They were actually doing it well!



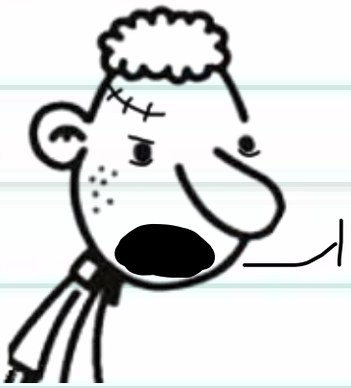
Turns out that the satellite dish from the base which The Kid and his army built (now known officially as The Iron Nexus).

In there, two of the soldiers got their keys and locked it into the lock and spun it to the side, there a button appeared. In that room was many computer workers, The Kid and his family, Kuromi and some newly recruited skinheads!

The kid pressed the button and everyone began typing on the computers, one skinhead said:



The Kid then said:



That shocked the skinheads for they only joined to terrorize minorities and remove them, but The Kid finally showed his plan to them! The plan of destroying the world, killing everyone and using The Spear of Power to elevate himself as some kind of powerful deity in the Kingdom of God and thus rebuild society in a way how both he and God would want with hints of the fascist ideology.

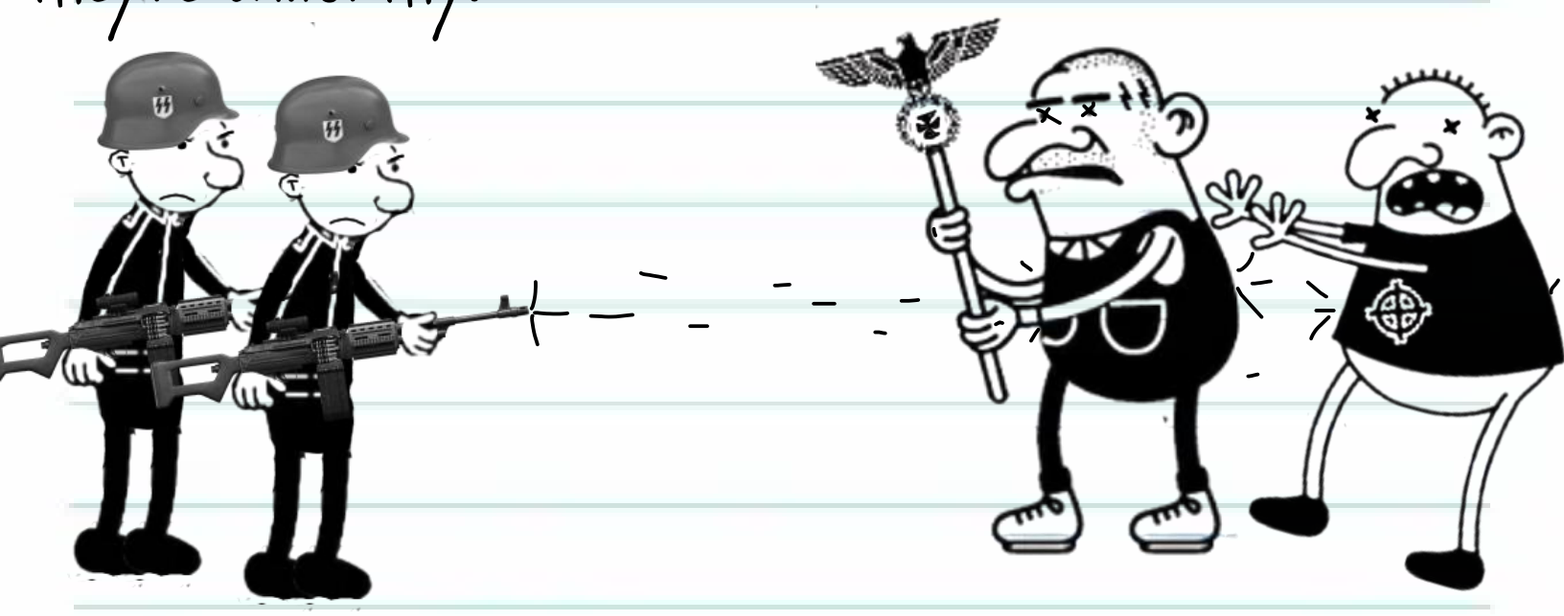
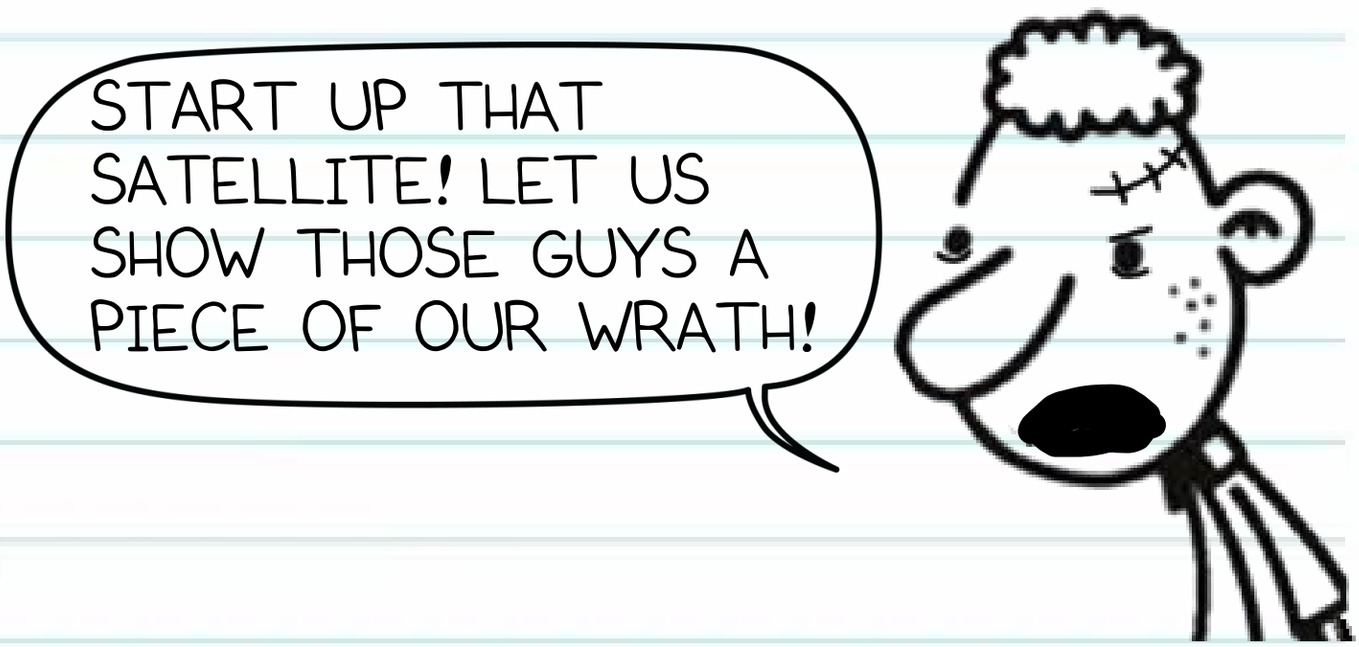
He then told some of the soldiers to shoot them for they're unworthy.



The Kid then yelled:

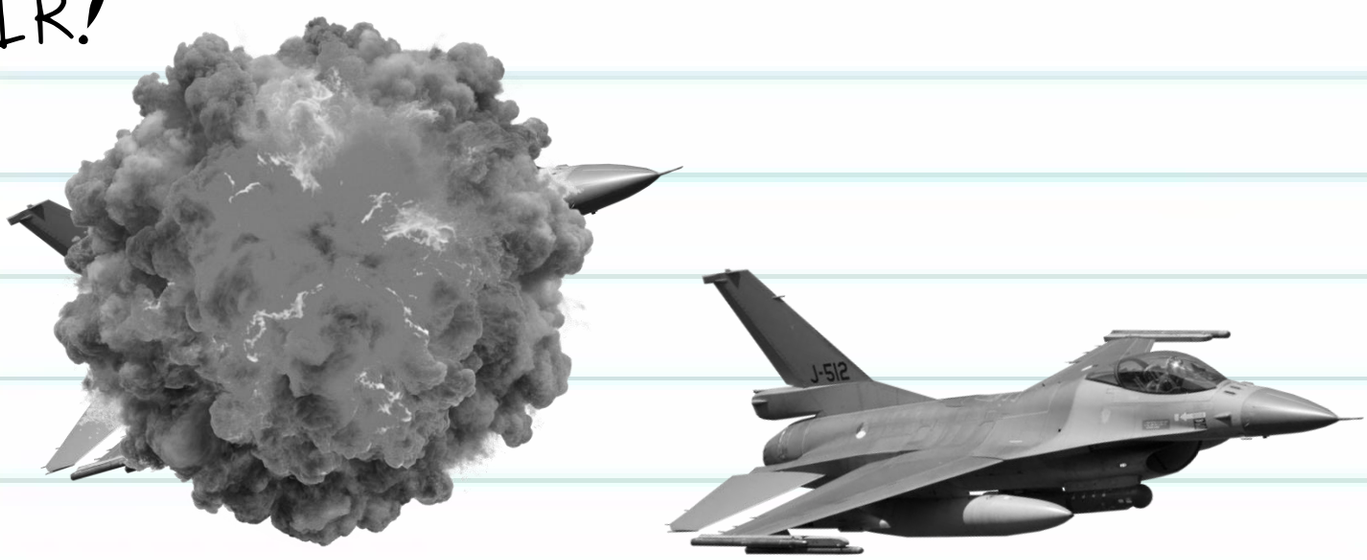


The computer men then pressed "enter" on their key boards and the dish was unlocked. The gamma ray (in a little dose for it was a test run) was shot up and reflected the satellite in space and shot down to the base we were in.

There was no explosion, but everything felt hotter!

Then, the computers began to malfunction! Some even EXPLODING! All thanks to that rare mineral... One soldier remembered that two fighter planes were landing! The general tried to get communicated with them but it was no use, they too tried to communicate but it didn't work!

The jets began spark and one BLEW UP MID-AIR!



The second one lost all engine power and the plane CRASHED right beside the runway! After a while, the air conditioners began working again and the non-damaged computers re-booted up.

The general and the agent began shouting at everyone to take their positions. The soldiers began running to the parked Jeeps in the parking space and other ran to the deployer planes. The pilots got to their fighter jets, there were even some of the B2 bomber jets!

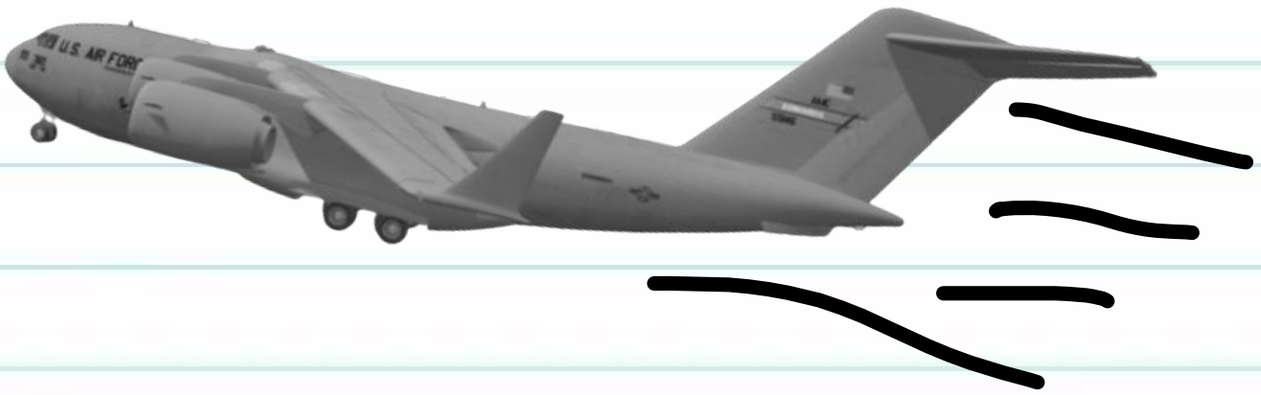
The crossovers ran to that room from before to get their protection. Me and my crew froze there, the agent asked us if we (the crossovers) would want a safety duplication. They were all nervous, but before they could say anything, some lieutenants yelled to us that it was time to go. Me, Rodrick, Rowley, Po, Tigress, Puss, Kitty, Daniel, Melody, Pororo, and Pikachu were escorted to one of the deployer planes. Everyone got in, except for me. I stood there and looked at Holly... I said to her from afar that everything will be ok and that I'll return.

She said that she'll be there when I come back. I hesitated a bit but I entered the plane, I saw a last glimpse of Holly and the rest as the door shut. I sat down and looked out of the window and saw how the plane taxi through the runway, then sooner or later, the plane began to take off.



The battle has begun...

In Diary of a Wimpy Kid: A New Alliance, After the cataclysmic battles in The Invasion, Greg and his crew find themselves deep in the jungles of Isla Paradiso—captured, hunted, and caught in a war between secret societies, cursed relics, and the end of the world itself. When The Kid returns with two weapons: forged from the bones of history—the fabled Spear of Power and his Gamma Rayed powered Satellite—Greg must decide if he's brave enough to face not only his enemies, but the darkness inside himself.

Allies will fall. Old friends will rise in the most explosive and emotional chapter yet. Betrayal, romance, ancient prophecy, and a final showdown that will test the meaning of being "wimpy" once and for all.

This isn't Diary of a Wimpy Kid as you know it.

This is Greg Heffley versus destiny.
